Thoughts from the Second Floor Front XXVI Sunday in Ordinary Time

September 28, 2025

With the arrival of October this Thursday, you would think that the glorious light, bright and warm summer days would have faded into a fond memory. The extra summer days we have enjoyed are pretty much over and the wonderful crisp snap of fall has arrived. October marks a new season. Think on the liturgical celebrations that are on our calendar.

The month is dedicated to Our Lady with a special focus on the rosary. October 13th is the anniversary of the Miracle of the Sun (O Milagro do Sol in Portuguese). Look that up and prepare to be amazed at the miracle that took place in Fatima early in the 20th century. A miracle is a unique sort of mystery. As Catholics, we use that word freely. “Oh, it’s a mystery” we say. Some in our world would dismiss even the possibility of a miracle let alone admit of mystery. Perhaps because of our supposed technological sophistication there is a sense that science can pretty much explain everything. It is not that a mystery means that we will never understand. What it means is that there is always more to discover. If you think mystery is not a part of your existence, answer this question: have all the plans you made in life worked out exactly as you thought they would?

We are to live in such a way as to make room for and care for the other. The risk is that in living for another you will in all probability become a better disciple and live the Gospel more fully. Parents know of this singular aspect of humility. Spiritual writers point to the thousands of martyrs, those who gave their all for Christ. Our tradition is filled with stories of heroes who offered themselves so that another can live. For most of us the act of martyrdom in that sense is not even a remote possibility. In that the word martyr means “witness” we can act and live in such a way that gives witness to our relationship to Christ and to others, placing Him and them above ourselves. The Prophet Micah states it directly: You have been told, O mortal, what is good, and what the LORD requires of you: Only to do justice and to love goodness, and to walk humbly with your God (6:8).

This does not mean that we are to suffer the caprice of fate with no ability to make plans or meaningful decisions. Ezekiel, the Psalmist and Paul this weekend offer passionate encouragement to live in a manner that is marked, not by aimless and pointless direction, but firm dedication and commitment. Turn from wickedness, the great prophet directs. The Psalmist prays, Your ways, O Lord, make known to me. Perhaps the most direct and unequivocal statement, characteristically from St. Paul, Have in you the same attitude that is also in Christ Jesus, as he begins the great Christological Hymn of Philipians.

Throughout the month of October we celebrate the heroic men and women of our rich tradition that have lived, and died, in their passionate pursuit of discipleship. The great mystical gift of the Guardian Angels. St. Francis of Assisi, recognized even by non-believers as one of the most significant persons of the Western Tradition. St. Ignatius of Antioch, a martyr in the early church whose letters, written while imprisoned and being transported to Rome for trial, contain powerful exhortations and teaching about the faith. St. Luke the Evangelist, author of the third gospel and the Acts of the Apostles. The feast of the North American Martyrs. All of these are witnesses to the power of the gospel and encouragement to us, disciples in the 21st century.

When, in the gospel passage, “the chief priests and elders of the people,” are challenged, Jesus offered another reversal for their consideration. Those who would be deemed unworthy are the ones that Jesus identifies as those who enter the kingdom of God. It seems that our expectations, based on our perceptions of ourselves, may need to be reconsidered. It is not our status that counts as much as our willingness to change and respond to the invitation to collaborate with God’s will.

As the days of fall eventually emerge and the spectacular splash of colors appear, pay attention not only to the beauty of nature but the beauty of our faith well lived. We are all capable of giving witness to God’s mystery at work in us by the manner we live our life.

Faithfully,

Msgr. Diamond

Our little friends are adjusting beautifully to the second week of school! They are learning our classroom rules and daily routines with growing confidence, and it's wonderful to see their independence shine. Each day brings new opportunities to work together, share, and show kindness, and they are already making sweet friendships along the way. With lots of smiles, laughter, and discovery, they are not only learning but also creating special memories that will make this school year one to remember.

CRS NATIONAL SPOTLIGHT

Did you know that international humanitarian aid builds stronger economies? By creating jobs, it enables people to support themselves and their families with dignity. Aid also helps countries build critical infrastructure like roads, hospitals and schools, laying the foundation for stability and prosperity. And as communities grow stronger, their need for aid decreases.

At the same time, American businesses benefit from the emergence of stable markets and new trade opportunities. This makes humanitarian aid not just an act of compassion, but a smart investment in global and national economic security. In the Philippines, U.S. funding enabled CRS to help young people form savings groups, develop entrepreneurial skills and create jobs. In 2022 alone, one project organized 28 youth savings groups with more than 400 members aged 15 to 24. Originally designed as a five-year initiative to foster economic opportunity and social cohesion, the program was cut short in 2025 due to reductions in international humanitarian aid by the Trump administration, leaving promising efforts unfinished and vulnerable communities without continued support. Bishop Barron says the following on Praying for the sick

- Healing is through Christ: Following the biblical narrative, Christ is the ultimate healer. He accomplishes this not only through his life and ministry but also through his passion and death on the cross, offering salvation and spiritual healing to a fallen humanity.
- The Church as a "field hospital": The Church as a field hospital for the wounded, with the sacraments as the primary means of healing, highlights how Jesus, our High Priest, enters into our suffering out of loving solidarity, inspiring believers to do the same.
- The spiritual dimension: A healing prayer is not simply about eliminating a physical ailment. It's about bringing the sick into closer union with God. True healing is the restoration of the whole person—body, mind, and spirit—and a deeper alignment with God's will.

If you would like a loved one added to the prayer list, please email us at stcorn1@comcast.net.

The Ministry of Consolation

A St. Cornelius community response to the needs of people grieving the death of a significant person/persons in their lives, the ministry honors the words and example of the Lord Jesus:

"Blessed are they who mourn; they shall be consoled"

(Matthew 5:4).

A team of four St. Cornelius church members have been trained to set up and facilitate a Support Group for the Consolation Ministry.

On October 18, 2025, the Consolation Group will meet at the Parish Life Center, Fr. Simon Room from 2:30pm to 3:30pm.

Contact Joan Holliday for any questions dochollisv@aol.com or call (610) 717-2180.

Please help us pray for and extend an invitation to all of those whom God is calling into the Catholic Church.

- Are you married to a Catholic?
- Are you a Catholic who has not received the Sacraments?
- Are you someone seeking a spiritual home?

We will be meeting for all of those who are interested in looking into the Catholic faith or Catholics who have not received the Sacraments of Holy Eucharist and/or Confirmation.

This year I invite any and all members of the parish to consider joining the group as a means of Adult Education and ongoing Faith Formation. The sessions follow the United States Catholic Catechism. We usually meet on a Thursday evening in the Fr. Simon Room. They last for about an hour. There are no tests. The only books you will need are the Catechism and a Bible. Even if you do not believe you can commit to each week, please consider joining when you can.

Please contact the office at (610) 459-2502 to express your interest and be added to the distribution list.

We are happy to share that beginning this fall, September 21, our parish will be offering a Children's Liturgy of the Word during the 9:00 AM Sunday Mass. This special time allows our youngest parishioners to hear God's Word in a way that is age-appropriate and meaningful, helping them grow in their love for Jesus and understanding of the Gospel. The children will be invited to gather separately during the Liturgy of the Word and will return to their families for the remainder of Mass. We are blessed to have Abigail McCusker and Debbie Anderson leading this ministry, and we encourage parents to bring their children so they can take part in this wonderful opportunity to learn, pray, and grow in faith.

HOW GOD INTENDS US TO LIVE

Today's readings are again directed to believers, communities of faith. As in last week's reading, Amos confronts us with a condemnation of those whose lives are focused on pleasure and self-absorption. The psalm contrasts that focus with the Lord's—justice for the oppressed; food for the hungry; freedom for captives; sight to the blind; raising of those who are bowed down; loving the just; protecting strangers, orphans, and the widow; and by doing so, thwarting the way of the wicked. Timothy urges the pursuit of righteousness, devotion, faith, love, patience, and gentleness. Luke tells the familiar tale of the wealthy man and the poor beggar at his doorstep, who experience life very differently in this world and in the next. We are once again being given clear indications about how God intends for us to live our lives.

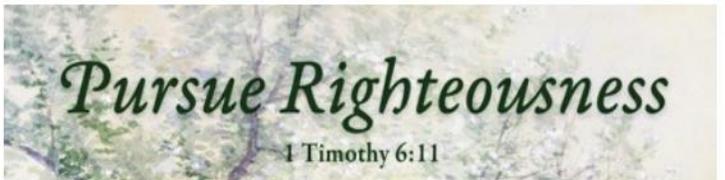

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Over the past century, a desire to recover a deep sense of unity among all believers in Christ has grown. The "ecumenical movement" (from the Greek word meaning "the whole inhabited world") began among Protestant Christians, but was given great energy in 1920 with a letter from the Orthodox Patriarch of Constantinople, calling for closer dialogue and cooperation among Christians. In 1960, Pope John XXIII invited Protestant and Orthodox observers to the Second Vatican Council. In 1964, the Council's Decree on Ecumenism named these Christians "separated brethren," a huge leap forward from the time of labeling them as "outside the Church." A year later, a new pope, Paul VI, and the Orthodox Patriarch officially nullified the condemnations that walled off East from West for nine hundred years.

The pace and optimism of the 1960s has sadly waned, and the signs of progress toward unity are few; yet there are wider agreements on sharing Communion among various Christian denominations, and among Protestants agreements regarding sharing of ecclesiastical life and ministry. Among the success stories of the ecumenical movement are greater cooperation among Christian clergy, a similar Lectionary for Protestants and Catholics, and even experiments in the monastic life and common worship.

ST. CORNELIUS CHURCH

In partnership with Rise Against Hunger

JOIN US TO FIGHT GLOBAL HUNGER

PACKAGE MEALS FOR THOSE IN NEED WITH HELPING HANDS

Our goal this year is to package and send at least 50,000 meals to those who suffer food insecurity in Africa and other parts of the world. In addition, we hope to raise the awareness of the growing need of our brothers and sisters throughout the world.

With the support of volunteers like you and your family, we will once again gather to confront the hunger that our brothers and sisters suffer from each day.

Register on line at saintcornelius.org/meal-packing-event and join your fellow parishioners to fight hunger.
