CORPUS CHRISTI PROCESSIONS SUNDAY JUNE 11th

The Catholic Church marks the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ, more commonly known as Corpus Christi, on Sunday, June 11th. This day is traditionally a day for Eucharistic processions, and all three of our Churches have been working to organize processions after the Sunday Masses next weekend at St. Bernard (8:00am), St. Francis (8:30am), and Our Lady of Good Hope (11am).

If you have never participated in a Corpus Christi procession or haven't heard of such a thing, below are some basics and excerpts (and good reminders!) from an NC Register article based on an interview with Damien O'Connor, Knights of Columbus vice president of evangelization and faith formation:

- The priest will carry the monstrance containing the Eucharist, and traditionally at least three altar servers — one carrying a cross, flanked by two others holding candles — will lead the way. Traditionally, the monstrance containing the Eucharist will be carried under a small canopy. The canopy serves as a reminder of the "tent of the presence" in which the Israelites of the Old Testament transported the bread of the presence (the prefigurement of the Eucharist) and also serves as a focal point for the procession.
- The procession should be done respectfully because we are "processing with Our Lord"... Catholics should take it seriously because it's not just for entertainment; it's an act of worship of the Creator of the universe.
- The procession should begin after a public Mass or a period of adoration, and the Host for the procession should be consecrated at that Mass.
- Part of the purpose of a Eucharistic procession is to profess for the world a belief in Jesus' presence in the sacrament. A community that undertakes a procession has made a decision to "publicly proclaim its belief in Jesus' True Presence in the Eucharist," and processions are a way of bringing Christ "out, to the world ... literally walking into the world, with Jesus."
- During the procession itself, participants should be prepared to talk to inquisitive passersby and to actively invite those who are interested to join the procession.
- Above all, a Eucharistic procession is about "bringing Christ to people," literally, O'Connor said. He said he has seen people who were Catholic be drawn back to the Mass and the Eucharist as a result of encountering a procession, and he said he has even seen people who have no faith be moved by processions to consider Catholicism.
- "Any parish or diocese that puts a greater emphasis on the Eucharist or Eucharistic processions has only had positive results. Numbers go up; parishioners joining the parishes increase."
- It profoundly impacts people when "we're very intentional about Eucharistic processions, the beauty of the Mass" and other aspects of the faith involving beauty, he said, noting that "people appreciate beauty and often encounter God through that."
- A procession serves as a special way to honor God.

Thousands of people across Maine are served each year through your gifts to the Catholic Appeal. Each week we will highlight the many programs and ministries the appeal supports:

Campus ministry

provides an opportunity to engage and uplift young adults at a critical stage of their lives, when many are away from parental influence for the first time. Through campus ministry, students have the opportunity to participate in Bible study, eucharistic adoration, faith sharing, service opportunities, and more. The Catholic Appeal supports campus ministry at six public and private colleges and universities in Maine. This includes providing funding that allows Fellowship of Catholic University Students (FOCUS missionaries) to be present on the Orono campus.

Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception As the mother church of our diocese and the seat of the bishop, the cathedral hosts many diocesan liturgies and ceremonies, such as the Chrism Mass during Holy Week and the upcoming neophyte Mass. The appeal assists the parish with some of the resulting costs.

Catholic Charities Maine has more than 20 ministries and programs serving people of all ages from across the state. Several of those programs receive support from the Catholic Appeal. They include Independent Support Services and Seek Elderly Alone, Renew Courage and Hope (SEARCH), two programs that provide seniors with assistance so they can remain in their homes. Many seniors also benefit from Hunger & Relief Services, which includes the Catholic Charities Food Bank in Caribou. Parish Social Ministry (PSM) partners with parishes to identify, develop, or enhance programs that serve the community—including Relief & Hope, Catholic Charities' Behavioral Health Network Southern Region, Catholic Charities Maine Refugee and Immigration, The St. Louis Child Development Center in Biddeford, and Education Services for Blind and Visually Impaired

Donations to the Catholic Appeal may be made online at www.portlanddiocese.org/giving/make-gift, via qr-code on this page, or envelopes found in your pews. Thank you for your generosity!

Community Formed By the Spirit

God, in three persons, created the world in a divine model of relationships. This connection between all creatures offers us the key to our own growth as it is in going out of ourselves that we enter more into communion with God. We are invited “to develop a spirituality of that global solidarity which flows from the mystery of the Trinity” L Si #240.

“A sense of communion cannot be real if our hearts lack tenderness, compassion, and concern for our fellow human beings.”

How can we show our concern? St. Francis was a wonderful model for us. His spirit guides a very active Social Justice network in our church. Do you know ways we can broaden our vision? Keep an open heart to the needs of those around you and pray for the eyes to see.

Please share your thoughts. Let us live in the spirit of Laudato Si'!

The Laudato Si' Group encourages conversation, prayer, questions and ideas. Contact Dianne Smith dcjsmith@hotmail.com or 207-322-4443, or any other members — Martha Block, Michael Cyr, Barbara Edmond, Elissa Koskela, or Tim Pritchard.
