Pastor's Corner

Dear Parishioners,

Health & Physical Education Curriculum

You may have heard of the controversial and immoral topics that public schools in New Jersey will be teaching children. On pages 8 & 9 is an article about how you can opt out. To see this article online: visit njcatholic.org, click on "Issues" and select "Comprehensive Health and Phys Ed Opt-Out Info for parents of public school students".

Public School Enrollment

Public school enrollment in New Jersey is declining for two basic reasons. First, adults aren't getting married and having children as much as in the past. Second, parents are transferring their children to private schools or homeschooling.

Catholic School Option

In my family, we're transferring my nephew from public school to St. Mary's Academy in Manahawkin. He wants to learn and will get a better and truer education at St. Mary's.

The closest Catholic schools to our parish are at St. Joe's in Toms River. Anecdotally, I've heard of a larger than usual number of parishioners going to St. Joe's Grade School and Donovan Catholic High School in September. See the ad on the next page.

Homeschooling

Another option is for parents to homeschool their children. Many realized they could do it during the COVID lockdowns. So, homeschooling is skyrocketing.

New and old homeschooling families benefit from networking with other families. We have done two pilot programs at St. John's. Now, we're going to continue to the next level.

Heart of Truth Homeschool Academic Service

Monica Cincotta is the director of our new service for homeschooling families. She can be reached at heartoftruthhss@gmail.com.

Monica has been involved in homeschooling for more than 20 years. Steve and I had a wonderful conversation with her recently. She has developed a great plan for helping homeschooling families who need a little help with subjects like music, art, science lab, and Latin. We'll include more in the bulletin and via Flocknote soon.

A Mother's Morning of Recollection

Monica is organizing a mini-retreat for mothers. See the last page for more information. Debbie Gaudino will be the retreat leader. She will also be the Latin teacher in the Fall. While we have homeschooling mothers in mind, all mothers are welcome.

Being Countercultural

Our culture needs transformation. Embracing the teaching of Jesus Christ means being countercultural. We desire to share our ideas on culture in the public square so that more and more people might choose to follow Jesus Christ. Raising children well is part of this countercultural movement. We want to strengthen a culture of life and bring light and healing to those entrapped in a culture of death.

God love you,

Fr. Jim O'Neill

NEW JERSEY CATHOLIC CONFERENCE

Understanding Your Rights as a Parent Concerning New Jersey's Comprehensive Health and Physical Education Curriculum for Public School Students

The New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards for Comprehensive Health and Physical Education (CHPE) require all public school students to learn about a broad range of topics, including human relationships, mental health, social well-being, physical fitness, and sexual reproduction.

For many families, these topics are better addressed at home, at a time of the family's choosing, based on the development and readiness of the student. Fortunately, the CHPE curriculum contains an opt-out provision for students whose families do not want their child taking part in some or all of these lessons.

The New Jersey Catholic Conference has developed this guide to help Catholic families of public school students better understand their opt-out rights -- and how to effectively exercise them.

New Jersey statute currently states that:

- Any child whose parent or guardian presents to the school a signed statement that any part of instruction in health, family life education, or sex education is in conflict with his or her conscience or sincerely held moral or religious beliefs shall be excused from that portion of the course where such instruction is being given and no penalties as to credit or graduation shall result therefrom. Students excused from instruction must be provided with alternative instructional content and activities aligned with the New Jersey Student Learning Standards for CHPE and the local health education curriculum.

All parents/guardians should be notified of the excusal process by the school district. However, no specific procedures are specified, so the notification could be accomplished by letter, email, handbook reference, or website post.

If you are not notified or are unable to find instructions about the excusal process using your district's resources, it is essential that you reach out to your school to inquire because a lack of response from a parent intending to opt-out would provide the district with the assumption that you actually approve of the child attending the classes. (You have opted-in unless you proactively opt-out.)

Frequently Asked Questions

Question: Must the school provide a copy of the health education curriculum upon request to help me decide if I want my child enrolled in this curriculum?

Answer: Yes, the school must make available a copy of the curriculum for review upon request. Be sure to ask your child's school's principal or vice-principal, or the district's curriculum director, about textbooks, instructors notes, and other instructional materials.

Question: If our school brings in a guest speaker for an assembly to discuss a topic related to family life education, is the school required to notify me in advance?

Answer: No. However, you may ask the school in advance for plans to bring in guest speakers and the content of their presentations to help you decide if you want your child to participate.

Question: What if I have not received opt-out information from my child's school district?

Answer: If you have not received adequate information from your school district regarding opting your child out of the CHPE curriculum, please visit your school district's website, which should provide the information you are seeking. If it does not, we recommend you contact the district's curriculum director or your parish's director of religious education for assistance.

Question: If I have contacted my child's school requesting that s/he be excused from some or all of the CHPE curriculum to no avail, what should I do next?

Answer: You have several options: You may contact your district's curriculum director, superintendent, or local school board (all of whom can be found on the school/district website). Be sure to document your steps along the way, including all inquiries made by you and the responses you received. If you need more help, you may contact the State of New Jersey at:
