Crisis in the Middle East: Understanding the Arab-Israeli Conflict

John D. Hosler, Brian L. Steed

Centuries of Arab-Israeli enmity has re-erupted into crisis, Hamas militants from Gaza unleashing an unprecedented attack on Israel and the Israelis fiercely striking back. Political and humanitarian ramifications ripple across the globe. Understanding the conflict is not easy. In a special and timely Library event, military historians from the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth examine its historical roots – how medieval times continue to inform modern beliefs about rights and ownership in the Holy Land – and explore the perspectives of both sides today. Why do they disagree on everything from the setting and characters to objectives, God's will, and the conflict's origins? To understand the animosities, one must comprehend the context.

Joining the conversation are two authorities on the region:

John Hosler, a professor of military history at the Command and General Staff College, is an expert on medieval warfare in Europe and the Near East and the author of seven books including Jerusalem Falls: Seven Centuries of War and Peace, released late last year. Holder of a doctorate in European history from the University of Delaware, he is a trustee of the U.S. Commission on Military History, a fellow of the British-based Royal Historical Society, and past president of De Re Militari: The Society for Medieval Military History.

Brian Steed is an associate professor of military history at the Command and General Staff College, where he has taught since 2013. He served in the Army as an armor officer and Middle East foreign area officer, living and working there for 8½ years. He retired from active duty as a lieutenant colonel and holds a Ph.D. from the University of Missouri-Kansas City in political science and history.

For a better understanding of the public's questions and concerns about the conflict, attendees of the event are invited to submit questions for the Q&A in advance.

Please monitor the Library's X \(formerly Twitter\), Facebook, and Instagram accounts for opportunities to enter questions. Questions also will be accepted during the program.

HEADPHONES AVAILABLE FOR THE HARD OF HEARING.
PLEASE ASK AN USHER OR GREETER.

Hope & Healing Meets Nov. 4

Our next get together for those working through the loss of a loved one will be 9 am, Saturday, Nov. 4, at the home of Melanie Savner. Our "kitchen table" topic will include ideas for getting through special days related to your departed loved one, like birthdays, anniversaries, and holidays. We will also identify ways in which good has come from our loss. Participants can just listen, or be a part of the conversation. If you are interested in this casual support group, call Melanie at 913-707-6963.

Women's Faith Group - Monday Evenings

We start our next book study on October 30th at 6:30 pm in the Little Church basement with "The Imitation of Christ" by Thomas à Kempis. All ladies of the parish are invited.

The Imitation of Christ by Thomas à Kempis

The Imitation of Christ is, considered by many, the one book second only to the Bible in popularity among Catholics. The pages of this consoling guide show readers how better to live the life of a Christian by closely following Christ's example. The Imitation of Christ will help to enable those seeking guidance in the midst of today's challenges to find encouragement to imitate Christ in many of life's situations

To accompany this study, we will also be listening to Jim Caviezel or St. Orianne in reading, meditating on, and praying with The Imitation of Christ through the Hallow app.

Grab your copy of this wonderful book OR just join in and listen with us on our journey! If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact Jamie Oswald at jamieoswald2010@gmail.com or at 913-9561428.

Session 8
The Kingdom of Comfort
Saturday, Nov. 4, 7-8 am

Seeking Volunteers to water plants!

The Plant Team is reorganizing to better care for the plants and make the best use of a volunteer's time. The new organization will ask you, the volunteer, to water one type of plant. Cynthia will tell you how often to water and which ones are yours to water. Then you can water them on your schedule usually once or twice a week. Men, women, and families are invited to join and help us care for the plants that beautify our sanctuary year round. Contact Cynthia Parks by phone or text, 913-787-3664.
