Ave + Maria! A great crisis in Western society is the lack of genuine catechesis. Ireland, for example, was a nation steeped in the Catholic faith for centuries, yet that faith was not clearly communicated to the young who encountered a rich Catholic culture without a fundamental understanding of its source. Secularism crept in and an uncatechized generation began to dig up the roots that made the culture and society prosper. Ireland is just one example; this is happening in the entire Western world to a greater or lesser degree. The need for catechesis is very apparent. In no other branch of education would children be left untaught to learn and discover the well-known fundamentals of a discipline haphazardly. If the faith is valuable to us, we should communicate it to our children as the most valuable part of their inheritance from us. Remember the words of Saint Paul, "How are they to believe in Him of whom they have never heard?" (Romans 10:14). In order to teach, you do not have to be living and understanding everything in your faith perfectly. Christ is the perfect example and we strive to imitate Him. We are at once disciples, learning from the Lord, and apostles, sent to teach the nations what we ourselves have received. It is the task of each Christian to teach those being initiated into the faith through an authentic Christian witness.

The role of parents and grandparents in the catechesis of the young cannot be underestimated. If the family is the first school, this is especially the case when we consider faith and prayer. The life of prayer goes hand-in-hand with passing on the faith from one generation to the next. G.K. Chesterton once wrote, "Education is simply the soul of a society as it passes from one generation to another." Our children and grandchildren will be able to distinguish an authentic life of prayer and relationship with Christ from just going through the motions. Let the children see your faith lived out in prayer and moral values. The example of a genuine life can instill the truth of the faith deeply in the hearts of the young.

The first examples of the faith, gathered in childhood, hold an important place in a person's spiritual formation. In the early years of life, parents, grandparents, and family members have a profound influence on us. They can be trusted to tell us the truths we do not yet understand. The young can have the possibility of eternal life opened to them through education in the faith and the reception of the sacraments. Experience shows us that as people enter their teenage years and early adulthood the influences in their lives change. Friends and colleagues become more influential at times than parents and grandparents. However, the religious foundation once established can be revisited later in life, and commonly is, once the influence of the world fades.

Imagine the whole of life as a mountain. As you start going up, you pass through a thick atmosphere where life thrives. Trees can grow and take root in this zone, but as you progress further the air thins. High mountains have a tree line which marks where the air becomes too thin to sustain permanent vegetation. Any climber who wants to reach the top knows that he has to endure an atmosphere that is poor in oxygen for a time. However, he also knows that he cannot spend too much time at the summit and that the place he can truly flourish is below the tree line. The initial climb could be seen as the beginning of life where the faith can be well-nourished and thrive. At a certain point, the landscape at the top becomes barren; we pass through a hostile atmosphere where the influences of the world overshadow the voice of God and the Church. Yet, if we are blessed enough to be let down by the world when we begin to descend from the spectacle of the mountain we see the familiar trees and are encompassed by the atmosphere of faith we learned of long ago. This analogy may not help as much as I should like, but the point is that often the faith has a stronger influence on us at the beginning and end of our life. However, it is more natural to return to what you know than it is to seek help and comfort from what is unfamiliar. Those who come back to God later in life often were introduced to Him in their earliest years. Therein lies the importance of catechizing the young. If they are willing to receive the faith, it will be carried with them even if the influence of the world is so strong they do not pay attention to it until the end of their lives when the world is quieted. Here we can learn from the patience and prayer of St. Monica, the mother of St. Augustine, who prayed for decades that her son might be converted. We want to win all for Christ no matter how long we have to wait. Start your children out right and pray them safely home.

PHÚC ÂM: Lc 14, 1. 7-14 "Hễ ai nhắc mình lên, sẽ phải hạ xuống, và ai hạ mình xuống, sẽ được nhắc lên".
 Tin Mừng Chúa Giêsu Kitô theo Thánh Luca. Khi ấy, nhằm một ngày Sabbat Chúa Giêsu vào nhà một thủ lãnh các người biệt phái để dùng bữa, và họ dò xét Người. Người nhận thấy cách những kẻ được mời, chọn chỗ nhất, nên nói với họ dụ ngôn này rằng: "Khi có ai mời người dự tiệc cưới, người đừng ngồi vào chỗ nhất, kéo có người trọng hơn người cũng được mời dự tiệc với người, và chủ tiệc đã mời người và người ấy, đến nói với người rằng: 'Xin ông nhường chỗ cho người này!'. Bấy giờ người sẽ phải xấu hổ đi ngồi vào chỗ rớt hết. Nhưng khi người được mời, hãy đi ngồi vào chỗ rớt hết, để khi người mời người đến, nói với người rằng: 'Hỡi bạn, xin mời bạn lên trên'. Bấy giờ người sẽ được danh dự trước mặt những người dự tiệc. Vì hễ ai nhắc mình lên, sẽ phải hạ xuống, và ai hạ mình xuống, sẽ được nhắc lên". Rồi Người lại nói với kẻ đã mời Người rằng: "Khi ông dọn bữa ăn trưa hay tối, thì đừng mời bạn bè, anh em, bà con hay láng giềng giàu có, kéo đến lượt họ cũng mời ông, và như thế ông đã được trả lễ rồi. Nhưng khi làm tiệc, hãy mời những người nghèo khó tàn tật, què quặt, và đui mù; ông sẽ có phúc, bởi họ không có gì trả lễ. Vì ông sẽ được trả lễ khi những người công chính sống lại". Đó là lời Chúa.

PRO LIFE

The Church has consistently taught that every human life is precious and worthy of protection.

Rosary Society

Rosaries prayed for the weekend of August 31 Sept.1, 2019, may the life of every human person, from conception to natural death, be protected in our laws and cherished in our hearts, Sundays, 7:05 am and 9:05 am in the main Church & Wednesdays, 3:30 pm in Xavier Hall Chapel.

Lc 14, 1. 7-14

Un sábado, Jesús fue a comer en casa de uno de los jefes de los fariseos, y éstos estaban espiándolo. Mirando cómo los convidados escogían los primeros lugares, les dijo esta parábola:

“Cuando te inviten a un banquete de bodas, no te sientes en el lugar principal, no sea que haya algún otro invitado más importante que tú, y el que los invitó a los dos venga a decirte: ‘Déjale el lugar a éste’, y tengas que ir a ocupar, lleno de vergüenza, el último asiento. Por el contrario, cuando te inviten, ocupa el último lugar, para que, cuando venga el que te invitó, te diga: ‘Amigo, acércate a la cabecera’. Entonces te verás honrado en presencia de todos los convidados. Porque el que se engrandece a sí mismo, será humillado; y el que se humilla, será engrandecido”. Luego dijo al que lo había invitado: “Cuando des una comida o una cena, no invites a tus amigos, ni a tus hermanos, ni a tus parientes, ni a los vecinos ricos; porque puede ser que ellos te inviten a su vez, y con eso quedarías recompensado. Al contrario, cuando des un banquete, invita a los pobres, a los lisiados, a los cojos y a los ciegos; y así serás dichoso, porque ellos no tienen con qué pagarte; pero ya se te pagará, cuando resuciten los justos”.

Hacemos un cordial invitación a La Legión de María todos los sábados de 9:00 am a 10:00 am en la sala 205.
