Dear Parishioners,

In the midst of this difficult time which has affected the way we work and worship, I would like to assure you of my prayers for you. As the church has been able to remain open this past week, though public Masses cannot be offered, a few of the faithful continue to come by to pray and receive the sacraments. I know that many of you feel the lack of normalcy inherent in not being able to come to daily or even Sunday Mass, but I pray that this trial will grant us all a greater love for the Eucharist. As with so many other blessings in life, we often come to a greater appreciation of what we habitually have when the status quo is disrupted. Remember that God uses all things providentially for the good of those who love him, as St. Paul reminds us in the Letter to the Romans (Cf. Romans 8:28). The Holy Spirit speaks to us through the circumstances of our lives. What could he be telling you? Spend more quality time with your family, perhaps? We may be separated from what we want to do right now but consider that in the case of most of us we are not necessarily impeded from doing what we need to do. Maybe there are issues we have been avoiding or distracting ourselves from that cannot be ignored anymore. Let's try to make the most of this time together through building up our core relationships that we may have been neglecting. We choose our friends, but God chooses our parents and children, brothers and sisters. Let yourself be reminded how important God and your family are. See the Father's hand in everything, especially in what we cannot control. I hope you are all doing well and staying healthy. Please God, we will be together again soon.

God bless you,

Fr. Andrew

Pro Life

With great openness and courage, we need to question how widespread is the culture of life today among individual Christians, families, groups and communities in our Diocese. With equal clarity and determination we must identify the steps we are called to take in order to serve life in all its truth.

Rosary Society

The Rosaries you pray this week will be for mothers facing an unexpected pregnancy as she prepares to encounter Christ anew through the gift of the child.
