The Solemnity of Pentecost

This mystery constitutes the Church's baptism. It is an event which gave her, so to speak, her initial form and the drive for her mission. And this "form" and this "drive" are ever effective, ever present, and are renewed in a special way through the liturgical actions. Pentecost is the feast of union, comprehension and human communion. We can all see that in our world, although we are increasingly close to one another with the development of the means of communication and geographical distances seem to be disappearing, understanding and communion between people is both superficial and problematic. Imbalances endure that frequently lead to conflict; dialogue between the generations is heavy-going and at times antagonism prevails; we witness daily events in which it seems people are becoming more aggressive and more belligerent; understanding each other seems too demanding so they prefer to remain closed in on themselves, in their own interests. Can we truly find and live in this situation the unity we need?

The narrative of Pentecost in the Acts of the Apostles, which we heard in the First Reading (cf. Acts 2:1-11), contains against the background of one of the great frescoes we find at the beginning of the Old Testament: the ancient history of the construction of the Tower of Babel (Gen 11:1-9). But what is Babel? It is the description of a kingdom in which men had concentrated so much power that they thought they no longer needed to rely on a distant God and that they were powerful enough to be able to build a way to heaven by themselves in order to open its gates and usurp God's place. However, at this very moment something strange and unusual happens. While the men are working together to build the tower they suddenly realize that they are building against each other. While endeavoring to be like God, they even risk no longer being human because they have lost a fundamental element of being human: the ability to agree, to understand each other and to work together. This biblical account contains a perennial truth; we can see it in history and in our world too. The progress of science and technology have enabled us to dominate the forces of nature, to manipulate the elements and to reproduce living beings, almost to the point of manufacturing the very human being. In this situation praying to God seems obsolete or pointless, because we ourselves can construct and achieve whatever we like. Yet we do not realize that we are reliving the same experience as Babel. It is true, we have increased the possibility of communication, of obtaining information, of transmitting news, but can we say that our ability to understand each other has increased? Or, perhaps, paradoxically, do we understand each other less and less? Doesn't a sense of mutual mistrust, suspicion and fear seem to be creeping in among human beings even to the point of making one individual dangerous to another? Let us therefore return to our initial question: can unity and harmony really exist? How?

We find the answer in Sacred Scripture: unity can only exist as a gift of God's Spirit who will give us a new heart and a new language, a new ability to communicate. And this is what happened at Pentecost. On that morning, 50 days after Easter, a mighty wind blew through Jerusalem and the flame of the Holy Spirit came down upon the disciples gathered together. It settled on each one of them and kindled within them the divine fire, a fire of love capable of transforming them. Their fear evaporated, they felt their hearts filled with new strength, their tongues were loosened and they began to speak freely in such a way that everyone could understand the announcement that Jesus Christ had died and was risen. At Pentecost, where there had been division and alienation, unity and understanding were born. However, let us look at today's Gospel in which Jesus says: "When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth" (Jn 16:13). Here, in speaking of the Holy Spirit, Jesus explains to us what the Church is and how she should live in order to be herself, to be the place of unity and communion in Truth; he tells us that behaving as Christians means no longer being shut into our own "I" but rather being open to all things: it means inwardly welcoming the whole Church within ourselves or, even better, inwardly letting her receive us. Therefore when I speak, think and act as a Christian I do not do so by closing myself into myself, but I always do so in all things and starting with all things: thus the Holy Spirit, the Spirit of unity and of truth, may continue to resonate in our human hearts and minds and spur people to meet and to welcome each other...

Dear friends, we must live in accordance with the Spirit of unity and truth and this is why we should pray that the Spirit illuminate and guide us so that we may overcome our fascination with following our own truths and receive the truth of Christ, passed on in the Church. Luke's account of Pentecost tells us that before ascending into heaven Jesus asked the Apostles to stay together to prepare themselves to receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. And they assembled in prayer with Mary in the Upper Room to await the promised event (cf. Acts 1:14). Gathered with Mary, as at her birth, today too the Church prays: "Veni Sancte Spiritus! — Come Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of your faithful and kindle in them the fire of your love!". Amen.

"Nhu Cha đã sai Thầy, Thầy cũng sai các con: Các con hãy nhận lấy Thánh Thần".
 Tin Mừng Chúa Giêsu Kitô theo Thánh Gioan. Vào buổi chiều ngày thứ nhất trong tuần, những cửa nhà các môn đệ họp đều đóng kín, vì sợ người Do-thái, Chúa Giêsu hiện đến, đứng giữa các ông và nói rằng: "Bình an cho các con!" Khi nói điều đó, Người cho các ông xem tay và cạnh sườn Người. Bấy giờ các môn đệ vui mừng vì xem thấy Chúa. Chúa Giêsu lại phán bảo các ông rằng: "Bình an cho các con! Như Cha đã sai Thầy, Thầy cũng sai các con". Nói thế rồi, Người thổi hơi và phán bảo các ông: "Các con hãy nhận lấy Thánh Thần, các con tha tội cho ai, thì tội người ấy được tha. Các con cầm tội ai, thì tội người ấy bị cầm lại". Đó là lời Chúa.

Dear Parishioners,
thank you!

As this school year draws to a close, we wanted to thank you for your support this past year. Due in a very large part to your generosity at our Agape Gala last November and other fundraisers we have held this past year, we were able to help sponsor a group of 23 from our parish to attend Camp Summit July 25-28. Nine of those attending are high schoolers who will have the blessing of spending a weekend in leadership training prior to Camp!

We are also sending a group of 10 to Steubenville July 29-31!

These are unusually high numbers of students for our Parish and it has everything to do with your generous support that removed the monetary obstacles so these teens and families could say YES to His invitation! They are blessed to be part of a parish that shows such respect and faith in it's youth. On behalf of us all, I thank you!

We look forward to sharing more about their experiences with you in the coming months. Please stay tuned and....

SAVE THE DATE FOR OUR ANNUAL AGAPE GALA BEING HELD WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 9, 2022.

This will be an evening for young and wise alike to share God's love with one another... "willing the Good of the other" #AgapeLove. May God continue to bless you and your family for all you do for Him and His children.

In Christ,

Pro Life

Christ invites us to trust in His invisible grace that prompts us to the generosity of supernatural charity, as we identify with everyone who is ill; 'Amen, I say to you whatever you did for one of the least brothers of mine, you did for me'.

Evangelion Juan 20,19-23

AL anochecer de aquel día, el primero de la semana, estaban los discípulos en una casa, con las puertas cerradas por miedo a los judíos. Y en esto entró Jesús, se puso en medio y les dijo:

«Paz a vosotros».

Y, diciendo esto, les enseñó las manos y el costado. Y los discípulos se llenaron de alegría al ver al Señor. Jesús repitió: «Paz a vosotros. Como el Padre me ha enviado, así también os envío yo».

Y, dicho esto, sopló sobre ellos y les dijo:

«Recibid el Espíritu Santo; a quienes les perdonéis los pecados, les quedan perdonados; a quienes se los retengáis, les quedan retenidos».
