GOSPEL MEDITATION

Lately I've been enjoying the deep meaning of Eastern icons. I love how they express a tapestry of meaning in a way that can surpass the written or spoken word. Today's parable of the ten virgins from Jesus is a good example. Try googling "wise and foolish virgins icon" and you'll see an image of how our Christ meets our heart's deepest needs if we attend to him with the proper attitude.

I'm serious. Take a moment to google and look at it. See how it depicts the risen Jesus behind a closed door with the five wise virgins with lighted lamps. He gazes with them toward the five foolish and lamp-less virgins, symbolizing the outward looking of divine love for the lost. Moreover, the wedding feast is no ordinary one. It takes place in a walled city and garden, indicating it's a new Jerusalem and a return to Eden. The table isn't typical, either. It's a Eucharistic feast. Now we see that the door in Jesus' parable is the way into the church, where Christ is the new light burning amidst the dark midnight of this world.

The richness continues. We notice, too, that the foolish virgins look exactly the same as the wise ones in their clothes, hair, and expressions. The only difference is they departed to buy oil and now they are sadly excluded. We often act like consumers in the marketplace to fulfill our need for love and mercy. We'll always end up disappointed if we shop around. Jesus sums up the moral of the story this way: "Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour." Watch, remain, don't spiritually shop. It is always better to quietly remain close to the Eucharistic community of the Church, even if we feel like our oil has run out. This week let's consider placing the icon of the wise and foolish virgins on our phone lock screen or computer desktop to help us remember to stay close to him, especially when life feels dark. — Father John Muir ©LPi

Everyday Stewardship

For all I know this Everyday Stewardship reflection is the last one you will ever read. That's not because I fear you will no longer get something out of reading these. At least, I hope not! It is because Jesus may very well return by this time next week. Then there will be no more need for reflections like these in bulletins, on websites, or wherever else you are reading this. You think the odds are against this happening in the next few days? I can gamble from time to time but I guess this is not something I am willing to say won't happen for sure. We do believe Jesus will come again, don't we?

For all of us there are things we put off until tomorrow. Sometimes, that tomorrow never comes. We act like we have all the time in the world. However, time on this earth is for certain one thing that does not exist in unlimited supply. Death is the primary way earthly time ends for us. Yet there will come a time when Jesus returns and if you and I are still living at that time, I hope he finds us ready.

Are you ready for such an event? Have you taken seriously your decision to be a disciple of Jesus Christ? Has that decision moved you to live a life of stewardship where all you have and are belongs to God? Or have you put all of that off to somewhere down the road? Chances are you will be reading next week's reflection and nothing too earth changing will have happened. But then, maybe, just maybe, this time is when we all lose that bet.

The Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of Divine Providence

The Blessed Virgin is the Handmaid of God's Love and a Generous Mother to Her Children. Father, all-powerful and ever-living God, we do well always and everywhere to give you thanks through Jesus Christ our Lord. In the wisdom of your providence the Blessed Virgin Mary was overshadowed by the Holy Spirit and gave birth to the Savior of the world. In Cana of Galilee, when she interceded with her Son for the bridegroom and bride, he gave the first of his signs: water was turned into wine, the wedding guests rejoiced, and the disciples believed in their Master. Now, enthroned as queen at her Son's right hand, she provides for all the needs of the Church as the handmaid of your love and as a mother who cares for each of her children, entrusted to her by Christ Jesus while he hung upon the cross. Now with all the saints and angels, we praise you for ever:

Special Marian prayers were promulgated in 1744 for the Barnabites, the first Religious Order formed in honor of the great Apostle, Saint Paul. Although Saint Barnabas was Saint Paul's companion on most of his pastoral journeys, and was Paul's 'sponsor' who attested to his conversion, the order was named the Barnabites since they met in the Church of Saint Barnabas in Milan, Italy. And the devotion to Our Lady, Mother of Divine Providence is intimately connected to the history of the first Barnabite house in Rome.

In the early 1600's, they ran short of funds to complete their new church, so the pastor made a pilgrimage to Loreto to implore Mary's intercession – and they received the necessary financial means for its successful construction. This formed the basis of a new title for Mary: Mother of Divine Providence, which highlights Mary's intercessory role in making sure that – if God ordains or wills something, nothing will stop it from happening – if we implore Mary's help and follow her example of total trust in the Lord – and of seeking God's will, not our own.

The Order's devotion to Mary was solidified when, in the late 1600's, they were evicted from their residence. After removing an image of Mary painted on a wall - to which a number of miracles had been attributed – the architect responsible for the wall painting dropped it and it was smashed beyond repair. To repay the Barnabites he offered them a remarkable painting of Mary holding the Infant Jesus in her arms, painted by Gaetan, a disciple of Raphael. Since the 1800's, every Barnabite is to have a copy of this painting of Our Lady, Mother of Divine Providence, in his room to remind him of Mary's role in our life which is so beautifully depicted in this painting.

In Gaetan's Madonna, the Child Jesus' fingers confidently clasp those of Mary: a symbol of the sacred source of the power of the Mother of God. The Child Jesus seems to be saying: "Mother, I place in your hands the authority to act in my Name. From my infinite treasure, you are to provide good things to all those who implore your aid." We would be wise to place ourselves in those same loving hands!

Please drop them in the Catholic Charities donation bin located on the Church grounds. Your donations help Catholic Charities help those less fortunate. Thank you.

MARY'S ROLE

We continue to reflect on the unique role Mary played – and still plays – in the life of her Son and in His Body, the Church. Acts 1: 13-14 states that Mary stayed with the Apostles in the Upper Room as they awaited the Day of Pentecost, the 50th day after Easter. No doubt Mary bolstered their faith and trust in the Lord, who had already worked marvels through her – just as He would renew the world through them – once they were filled with and empowered by the gift of the Holy Spirit, as she once was. Here's what we pray in Preface # 40 in the Collection of Masses of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

PRAY THE ROSARY WITH US

Rose-Philippine Duchesne

was born on August 29, 1769, in Grenoble, France, to a wealthy family that was deeply committed to their Catholic faith. From a young age, Rose-Philippine felt called to religious life and aspired to become a member of the Society of the Sacred Heart. However, her family was opposed to this decision, and it was not until she was 18 years old that she was able to join the order. In order to escape her family's plans for her, she convinced an aunt to accompany her on a visit to the Visitation of Holy Mary religious order's monastery. Once there, she immediately requested admission and was accepted, leaving her aunt to return home without her and to break the news to her family. She made her final vows in 1789, just as the French Revolution was beginning to sweep the country.

During the revolution, many religious orders were disbanded, and religious persecution was rampant. However, Sister Rose-Philippine refused to abandon her faith or her calling to serve others. She continued to work in secret, often risking her life to provide aid and comfort to those in need. During the French Revolution's Reign of Terror, however, she was forced to move home. Determined to not be discouraged, she lived according to the Rule of her congregation and served her family, and those religious who had been imprisoned, to the best of her ability during that time.

Inspired by a missionary spirit Sister Rose-Philippine accepted an invitation to set up schools for Native American and French children in the diocese of Louisiana. In September of 1818 the first Sacred Heart school outside of Europe was opened in St. Charles, Missouri. The first novitiate would be opened the next year in Florissant, Missouri. Life on the frontier was fraught with hardship, from extreme cold to a shortage of resources, including food, shelter, and clothing. Despite these obstacles, Sister Rose-Philippine opened schools and orphanages, taught young girls how to read and write, and ministered to the sick and the poor.

It was not until Rose-Philippine was 72 years old that her wish to serve the Native Americans was granted. The Jesuit head of a mission to open a school for the Potawatomi in Sugar Creek, Kansas insisted that she join. Though ill and frail she stayed with the Potawatomi for a year, spending long hours in contemplation which earned her the nickname, Quah-kah-ka-num-ad, "Woman-Who-Prays-Always."

She died on November 18, 1852, at the age of 83. On July 3, 1988, Pope John Paul II declared Rose-Philippine Duchesne to be a saint. Sister Rose-Philippine was known for her kindness, her compassion, and her unwavering faith. She inspired many others to follow in her footsteps, and her legacy lives on today in the work of the Society of the Sacred Heart and other religious orders that continue to serve others around the world. -Saint Rose-Philippine Duchesne © LPI
