FAMILY CORNER: GOD SO LOVES THE LITTLE ONES...

Every year I interview the children who are going to make their first communion to find out what they know before about their faith before they enter their second year of preparation. I asked 7-year-old Michael "Why do we go to Mass?" He answered, "We listen to the guy in the green jacket (hint: the priest) read from the bible. He's going to blow our socks off!!" he answered enthusiastically.

In the beginning of each year, your Family of Faith catechist team meets to come together in mind, spirit, and prayer, to refocus, serve the Lord and your children by teaching them the Gospel and helping them to know Jesus, their faith, and our Church.

Our Archdiocese's Catechetical website reads:

"Parents have been entrusted with the faith formation and spiritual lives of their children. Thus, it remains the parents' duty above anyone else's to teach their children in the faith."

The Catechism reminds parents to "bear witness to this responsibility first by creating a home where tenderness, forgiveness, respect, fidelity and disinterested service are the rules" (Catechism, 2223)

How do we do this? With a combined 65 years of religious education teaching experience, the team brainstormed how to best reach the children in teaching them about God and this is their list they created for themselves and those that raise children:

- Meet them where they are at, at their level. Children are very literal.
- Let them know that God is a personal God who knows them intimately and loves them deeply.
- Witness is important in the home, role modeling the faith for the children. Share how others have experienced God's intercession in their lives. Children need to HEAR their faith, stories, the Word, and personal testimony. It teaches them to speak their faith "out loud".
- Be joyful and loving witness of our faith
- The children need personal and intentional time for prayer, or it won't happen
- Read and learn the bible; learn the stories and God's word so they can know Him.
- Having consistent fun family time at home where you spend time enjoying each other (like a family board games night)
- Reminding and supporting their children in seeing God working in their everyday lives through acts of love, nature, or circumstances.

• Reinforcing the salvation story of God at the core of our Faith, His creation of and love for us, His quest to save us, Jesus His son's birth, life and saving act of the cross and resurrection – the Truth and Joy of the Good news (Kerygma)

God's Word tells us best. "Love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your strength. Take to heart these words that I give you today. Repeat them to your children. Talk about them when you're at home or away when you lie down or get up." Deut 6:5-6" May God bless our children and their families this new school year, Amen.
