FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

We have wonderful testimonies to faith in this weekend's readings. The gospel, in particular, tells the story of Jairus, the synagogue official, who is desperate. According to him, his daughter is dying and he trusts that, if Jesus would come and lay his hands on her, she will be well. In the midst of this, the woman who had suffered with a hemorrhage for years believes she has only to touch the clothing of Jesus and she will be healed! What faith. What trust. On both counts, Jesus comes through.

The woman with the hemorrhage is healed immediately and Jesus feels the power going out of him. When He finishes complimenting her for her faith, he then goes to the synagogue official's house, even though other people, without faith and trust, think it is a waste of time. But the synagogue official remains faith filled, and hopeful. Jesus, in return, heals his daughter who has died.

Sometimes it is hard to trust. Sometimes it is difficult to have faith, especially in the midst of suffering and death. But God assures us, once again in the readings, that He does not desire us to suffer and die but to live and live fully.

Fr. Jerry Francis

Did you know that the entire Universal Church is in a process of renewal called Synodality? What does it mean to be a synodal Church?

"Being a synodal Church means being a Church that is the sacrament of Christ's promise that the Spirit will always be with us."

Becoming a more synodal Church is a change that allows the Church to become more truly what it is. For Pope Francis, it is clear that this change involves a conversion of mindset and culture, but which will also result in a structural change. He speaks of "moving not occasionally but structurally towards a synodal Church, an open square where all can feel at home and participate."

The Pope describes this becoming a synodal Church as an opportunity to become a "listening Church" and a Church of "closeness, compassion and tender love" which better reflects the "style of God". The Synod is about us, the people of God at Sacred Heart Parish and who we want to become as a Church. Be informed. Learn more:

CONNECT WITH SACRED HEART

November 2–3, 2024 Women's Cornerstone Retreat

The Women's Cornerstone Ministry of Sacred Heart is once again offering a retreat for women, ages 21 and above. This special retreat provides women with the opportunity to strengthen their relationship with God wherever they are in their faith journey. Time away in fellowship with other women allows us to renew, reflect, and revitalize in a beautiful casual setting nestled in the Monocacy River Valley of Sugarloaf Mountain, only an hour away from Glyndon. Four meals and overnight accommodations in a clean, hotel-like lodge are included. For more information about the retreat venue, visit claggettcenter.org

To register, visit shgparish.org/cornerstone2024 or e-mail shgcornerstone3@gmail.com

Faith Formation Registration

You can still register for 2024-25 Religious Education and Confirmation!

Saint Margaret Mary Alacoque: The Sacred Heart of Jesus

Born: July 22, 1647 in L'Hauteclerc, Burgundy, France

Died: October 17, 1690 at Paray-le-Monial

Canonized: 1920 by Pope Benedict XV Feast Day: October 16

Patronage: Devotees of the Sacred Heart of Jesus; loss of parents; polio patients

Saint Margaret Mary was born at L'Hauteclerc, Burgundy, France, on July 22, 1647 to Claude Alacoque and Philiberte Lamyn. Her father died when she was about eight years old, leaving her family in a precarious financial situation and at the mercy of relatives. As a young girl, she was stricken with rheumatic fever, and the resulting paralysis forced her to be bedridden for the next four years until the age of fifteen. It was during this time that she developed an intense devotion to the Blessed Sacrament and made a vow to the Blessed Virgin to consecrate herself to religious life. During these hard times Margaret continued her devotion to the Blessed Sacrament and Christ made His presence known to her. She later wrote, "At that time, all my desire was to seek happiness and comfort in the Blessed Sacrament."

She had three more visions over the next year and a half in which Jesus instructed her in a devotion that was to become known as the Nine Fridays. Christ also inspired Margaret Mary to establish the Holy Hour and to receive Holy Communion on the first Friday of every month. In the final revelation, the Lord asked that a feast of reparation be instituted for the Friday after the octave of Corpus Christi.

On May 25, 1671, at the age of 23, Margaret entered the Order of the Visitation convent at Paray-le-Monial. She pronounced her final vows on November 6, 1672 and took the name Mary. During her retreat before her profession, she had a vision of Jesus in which He said, "Behold the wound in my side, wherein you are to make your abode, now and forever." The Lord continued to appear to her in visions and on December 27, 1673, the feast of Saint John the Evangelist, as she knelt at the grill before the exposed Blessed Sacrament, she experienced a vision in which the Lord told her to take the place that Saint John had occupied at the Last Supper, and that she would act as His instrument. Jesus revealed His Sacred Heart as a symbol of His love for humanity, saying, "My divine Heart is so inflamed with love for humanity ... that it can no longer contain within itself the flames of its burning charity and must spread them abroad by your means." She described that His Heart was on fire and surrounded by a crown of thorns. Our Lord told her that the flames represented His love for humanity, and the thorns represented humanity's sinfulness and ingratitude. Jesus informed her that her mission was to establish the devotion to His Most Sacred Heart, and He revealed twelve promises that He would bestow upon all those who practice the devotion.

Margaret Mary told her superior, Mother de Saumaise, about the visions and was treated with contempt. She was forbidden to carry out any of the religious devotions that had been requested of her in her visions. She became ill from the strain, and her superior, looking for a divine sign, vowed to believe the visions if Margaret Mary was cured. Margaret Mary prayed and recovered, and her superior kept her promise. There was a group within the convent who remained skeptical, however. Her superior ordered Margaret Mary to present her experiences to theologians, but they were judged to be delusions.

Blessed Claude de la Colombiere, a holy and experienced Jesuit, arrived as confessor to the nuns, and in him Margaret Mary recognized the understanding guide that had been promised to her in the visions. He became convinced that her experiences were genuine and adopted the teaching of the Sacred Heart that the visions had communicated to her. Her revelations were made known to the community when they were read aloud in the refectory from a book written by Blessed Claude. Her revelations in the open, she encouraged devotion to the Sacred Heart, especially among her novices, who observed the feast in 1685. A chapel was built in 1687 at Paray in honor of the Sacred Heart, and devotion began to spread in other convents of the Visitandines, as well as throughout France. Margaret Mary became ill and died on October 17, 1690 during the fourth anointing step of the last rites. As she received the Last Sacrament, she said, "I need nothing but God, and to lose myself in the heart of Jesus."

The devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus was officially recognized and approved by Pope Clement XIII in 1765, seventy-five years after her death. Margaret Mary was declared Venerable in March, 1824 by Pope Leo XII, and pronounced Blessed on September 18, 1864 by Pope Pius IX. The inauguration of the Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus occurred in 1856, and Margaret Mary was canonized by Benedict XV in 1920.
