FROM THE ASSOCIATE PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

Have you ever seen a stained-glass window from the outside? It looks dull, even lifeless. But when the light shines through it from within, it becomes something beautiful—vivid, alive, and full of meaning. That's what happens when we allow the love of Christ to shine through us. In the Gospel for the Fifth Sunday of Easter (John 13:31-33a, 34-35), Jesus gives us His defining command: "Love one another. As I have loved you, so you also should love one another." He's not asking for ordinary affection or polite kindness—He's calling us to love with the same generous, sacrificial, and forgiving love He shows us.

As members of this Sacred Heart Parish, our love for one another is meant to make Christ visible in the world. It's what gives color and light to our faith. When we choose compassion over criticism, mercy over judgment, and service over selfishness, we become windows through which others can see the beauty of God's love. Let us ask for the grace to live this command daily—not just as individuals, but as a united family of faith, glowing with the love that first came from Him.

In Christ's love,

Fr. Ángel Acuña
