FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

Our second reading, from the First Letter of Saint Paul to the Corinthians, gives us the earliest account of the Last Supper and the gift of the Eucharist to the early Christian community. One would think that our earliest account would be from the gospels, but Saint Paul wrote his letters long before any gospel was penned. He tells us that Jesus, on the night he was handed over, took bread, gave it to the disciples and said, "This is my body." In the same way, He took the chalice filled with wine, and said, "This is my blood." Although much of the Last Supper correlates with the Passover, these words and these gestures were unique to Jesus' celebration that evening. He was doing something new. He was giving us the gift of Himself for all eternity until we are with Him in eternity.

The gospel this weekend may seem strange, thinking that we would hear an account of the Last Supper. Instead, we hear the miracle of the five loaves and two fish being turned into enough to feed thousands. But, if one looks closely, one can see the Eucharistic overtones as Jesus takes bread, blesses and breaks it and then distributes it. This is intentional on the part of the gospel writer. He wants us to hear the Eucharistic overtones in the great generosity of Jesus and in His care for the people.

As we celebrate the feast of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ, let us renew our faith in this glorious sacrament, and be resolved to be generous in sharing ourselves and our faith with others.

Fr. Jerry Francis

DEL PASTOR

Queridos feligreses,

Nuestra segunda lectura, de la primera carta de San Pablo a los Corintios, nos da el primer relato de la Última Cena y del don de la Eucaristía a la comunidad cristiana primitiva. Uno pensaría que nuestro relato más antiguo sería de los evangelios, pero San Pablo escribió sus cartas mucho antes de que se escribiera cualquier evangelio. Nos dice que Jesús, la noche en que fue entregado, tomó pan, se lo dio a los discípulos y dijo: "Esto es mi cuerpo." De la misma manera, tomó el cáliz lleno de vino y dijo: "Esta es mi sangre." Aunque gran parte de la Última Cena se correlaciona con la Pascua, estas palabras y estos gestos eran exclusivos de la celebración de Jesús esa noche. Estaba haciendo algo nuevo. Él nos estaba dando el regalo de sí mismo por toda la eternidad hasta que estemos con Él en la eternidad.

El evangelio de este fin de semana puede parecer extraño, pensando que, en cambio, escucharíamos un relato de la Última Cena. En cambio, escuchamos el milagro de los cinco panes y dos peces convertidos en suficientes para alimentar a miles. Pero, si uno mira de cerca, puede ver los matices eucarísticos cuando Jesús toma el pan, lo bendice y lo parte y luego lo distribuye. Esto es intencional por parte del escritor del evangelio. Quiere que escuchemos las connotaciones eucarísticas en la gran generosidad de Jesús y en su cuidado por la gente.

Al celebrar la fiesta del Santísimo Cuerpo y Sangre de Cristo, renovemos nuestra fe en este glorioso sacramento y resolvámonos a ser generosos al compartir nosotros mismos y nuestra fe con los demás.

Fr. Jerry Francis
