Johnson and Johnson COVID-19 Vaccine Morally Acceptable for Use

March 3, 2021

On March 2, 2021, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) issued a statement addressing the use of the Johnson and Johnson COVID-19 vaccine approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration for use in the United States. In the joint statement, the chairmen of the USCCB Committees on Doctrine, Bishop Kevin C. Rhoades of Fort Wayne-South Bend, and Pro-Life Activities, Archbishop Joseph F. Naumann of Kansas City in Kansas, noted that "Pfizer and Moderna's vaccines raised concerns because an abortion-derived cell line was used for testing them, but not in their production. The Johnson & Johnson vaccine, however, was developed, tested and is produced with abortion-derived cell lines raising additional moral concerns."

Referencing the December 17, 2020 Note from the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, the Committees made clear that "when ethically irreproachable Covid-19 vaccines are not available ... it is morally acceptable to receive Covid-19 vaccines that have used cell lines from aborted fetuses in their research and production process."

The Committees also noted that "if one can choose among equally safe and effective COVID-19 vaccines, the vaccine with the least connection to abortion-derived cell lines should be chosen.

Therefore, if one has the ability to choose a vaccine, Pfizer or Moderna's vaccines should be chosen over Johnson & Johnson's."

However, the Committees also affirmed "that being vaccinated can be an act of charity that serves the common good" amid the ongoing world-wide pandemic that has affected so many lives.

Furthermore, the Vatican COVID-19 Commission and the Pontifical Academy for Life, stated clearly in their Note on December 29, 2020 that "all clinically recommended vaccinations can be used with a clear conscience and that the use of such vaccines does not signify some sort of cooperation with voluntary abortion."

The full statement from the bishop chairmen may be found here: <https://www.usccb.org/moral-considerations-covid-vaccines>

Spring Calls

Do you feel called to diakonia?

Come, my darling, come with me. Song of Songs 2:10

"WE are EASTER People and ALLELUIA is our song.

Let us sing "Alleluia" here and now in this life, even though we are oppressed by various worries, so we may sing it one day in the world to come, when we are set free from all anxiety.

How happy will be our shout of "Alleluia" as we enter heaven, how carefree, how secure from any assault, where no enemy lurks and no friend dies. Advance in virtue, in true faith, and right conduct.

Sing up!"
