Abortion

God loves each human life from the instant of his or her conception and entrusts this gift to the protection of a mother and father. Abortion ends the life of a child and offends God. It also deeply wounds the women and men involved.

Advent Penance Service:

Dec. 16, 17 and 18
@5pm – 7pm
Dec. 19 @8am - 10am

To serve you better I'm scheduling the confessions. Only 25 person per day and appointment cards are available at Our Blessed Mother's Altar. Select the Day and Time. Pick up the appointment card ahead of time (Sample Card shown).

"Speaking the Truth in Love" Series - Part 4
Sunday December 20, 2020 2:00 PM–4:00 PM
"What does it mean to be black and Catholic? It means that I come to my church fully functioning...I bring myself, my black self, all that I am, all that I have, all that I'm worth, all I hope to become. I bring my whole history, my traditions, my experience, my culture, my gesture and movement and teaching and preaching and healing and responsibility as a gift to the Church." Servant of God, Sister Thea Bowman

The Second Sunday of Advent challenges us to prepare a royal highway in our hearts for Jesus so that we may receive Him as our saving God during Christmas. We should also be prepared for Christ's daily coming into our lives in the Holy Eucharist, in the Holy Bible and in the praying community.

Light and Shadows: Our Nation 25 Years after Roe v. Wade

Part of the statement of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops

To all our fellow citizens we say: Abortion is an assault on human dignity, an act of violence against both mother and child and the whole human family. Legal protection for unborn human life must be restored in our nation. As the Second Vatican Council also reminded us "Whatever is opposed to life itself, such as any type of murder, genocide, abortion, euthanasia, or wilful self-destruction...all these things and others of their like are infamies indeed. They poison human society, but they do more harm to those who practice them than those who suffer from the injury. Moreover, they are a supreme dishonor to the Creator" (Gaudium et spes, 27).

We recall what is best in our common national heritage. Human beings, simply because they are human must be recognized as persons with fundamental human rights. Our nation fought a terrible civil war because the practice of slavery was finally recognized to be inconsistent with our national ethos enunciated in the Declaration of Independence: All are endowed by their Creator with the inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Slavery is repugnant because it treats human beings as property to be disposed of at the will of another. It was morally absurd then to say: "I am personally opposed to owning slaves and would never own any myself, but I can't force my moral views on others. It is not the government's task to legislate morality. It is a personal choice." It is just as morally repugnant to say the same about abortion today. Our nation stands in judgment now, as it did more than a century ago: are we to be a nation that honors its commitments to the right to life, or not? And if not, then just what does our nation stand for?

No one has spoken more eloquently about the sacred value of human life than has our Holy Father, Pope John Paul II. It is he who reminds us that all who are "sincerely open to truth and goodness can, by the light of reason and the hidden action of grace, come to recognize in the natural law written in the heart (cf. Rom.2:14-15) the sacred value of human life from its very beginning until its end, and can affirm the right of every human being to have this primary good respected to the highest degree. Upon the recognition of this right, every human community and the political community itself are founded" (Evangelium Vitae, 2).

We see in our culture an ongoing conflict between good and evil, a conflict between life and death. As we strive to assure peace and justice, too often it is forgotten that the common good can only be served when the right to life, the right on which all other inalienable rights of the individual rest and from which they develop, is acknowledged and defended (cf. Evangelium vitae, 101).

In spite of the relentless propaganda in favor of abortion, most Americans have not become fully insensitive to the killing of children so weak that they cannot cry for help. Indeed, the 1973 abortion decisions set in motion the broadest grassroots movement this nation has ever seen. Our debt to those who serve the pro-life cause is immeasurable. They are the witnesses and bearers of our nation's most noble aspirations. In a special way, through the national debate on partial-birth abortion, they have focused the attention of Americans on the plight of the child.

Perhaps the most uplifting sign of hope is the witness of those teenagers and young adults who have come of age with legal abortion, but who are not seduced by its empty promises. They participate in the annual March for Life, fill our National Prayer Vigil for Life, organize supporters in their schools and campuses, run baby showers, and write to us asking what they can do to end abortion.

Religious Education

Religious Education News: We have begun the 2020/2021 period. We will continue to register new kids into the program, which are offering from Kindergarten through Confirmation ( 7th Grade and up). Classes start 9:15- 10:30 am at Monsignor Moran Hall.

RCIA

Rites of Christian Initiation for Adults ( RCIA ) I am very excited this year as the Holy Spirit has called many more than usual to our gatherings of learning, praying and fellowship. Please plan to attend on Thursday evenings from 6-7 pm at Monsignor Moran Hall. This program includes all Sacramental preparation for Adults as well a study preparing for conversion into the Catholic Church. Everyone is welcome as we make our way through the Catechism of the Catholic Church! Please let me know if you have any questions.
