Are You A Good Samaritan?

During the month of August, we will endeavor to complete Safe Environment training of all volunteers and individuals in leadership roles. As always, as the Safe Environment Facilitator, I will be available with log-in information, codes, and technical assistance to help you complete training.

For those of you who question the need to participate in the training, I ask this question: Are you a good Samaritan? The purpose of Safe Environment is to learn how to recognize when another human being is in trouble, maybe even danger, and offer anonymous assistance to relieve their distress. A cornerstone of our faith is to "love our neighbor as we love ourself." How can we in good conscious refuse to acquire the tools necessary to offer assistance?

Beverly A. Purdom-Carter
 Safe Environment Facilitator

Out of care for the people of Sodom and Gomorrah Abraham was interceding with God by bargaining the smaller number of good people. Abraham knows exactly how to bargain with God so that God will spare the people of Sodom for the sake of just one man living there.

We are living in the world that is indifferent. Not to pray is to show your indifference toward God. Jesus taught us how to pray in the simple terms. The prayer Jesus taught us is what we need from God and what our response to Him should be. We need to honor Him, we need our daily bread, forgiveness, the strength to give forgiveness to others, and we need God's protection in times of temptation and trial. To pray it is to say to God: "You have anything I need."

Prayer acknowledges that you have a relationship with God. Consequently, the quality of your prayer is correlative to the value you place on your relationship with God. Abraham took God seriously so he haggled and bargained with God over the value of what was to be delivered. There was something very serious at stake here, so Abraham got serious with God.

Prayer is to change us, to change our minds, our attitudes and the way we live. Genuine prayer takes hold of God's presence and gives us power over ourselves. Prayer gives us the chance to see ourselves in God's eyes and therefore to live with self-respect, to leave in peace, and to live with the power not only to change ourselves but also the power to heal, love, and free others so they can see themselves in the same Light of God. Prayer liberates us.

St. Peter Claver Multi-Purpose Hall Committee

A committee, which will be known as the St. Peter Claver Multi-Purpose Committee (SPCMHC), has been formed to develop a plan for the construction of a multi-purpose hall for the Parish. With input from our parishioners, the committee will work with an architecture firm to plan, design, and raise funds for this much needed new structure.

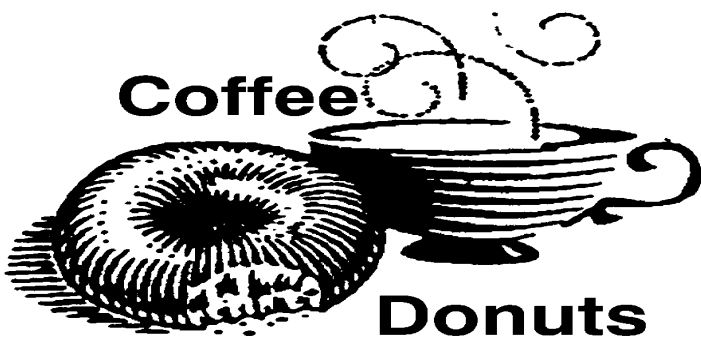

Our first meeting was held on July 2, 2025 and at this time Phil Fitzgerald, was selected as the architect whom we will work with. He has extensive experience in successfully designing, planning and initiating such projects with other area parishes.

The committees' objective at this time is to: Survey parishioners in early August for their input on building needs, overall facility improvements, dreams, etc. Develop a master-plan that will meet parish needs and accommodate everyone, i.e. youth, young adults, seniors, multi-cultural parishioners, and daily and special events.

The Funeral Mass Planning Ministry assists families with the order and rites of a Catholic funeral service. Families are provided resources to assist in their decision making for biblical and gospel readings, music, and special requests, (i.e. streaming services, solos, and/or preferred lectors when possible). This ministry also recruits Eucharist ministers, ushers, servers, and lectors for the service. The services are always scheduled and coordinated with Fr. Titus and Deacon Cumby. Katherine Miller is the contact person for this ministry.

The CCCC funeral meal team comes together to provide service to the family and friends of our deceased parishioners with food and drink. We work in conjunction with the Funeral Mass Planning Ministry which Katherine Miller assists families with.
