Today, we've just heard the Beatitudes.
By: Deacon Clary Nash

Some of the misunderstanding of the Beatitudes is to think of them as another Ten Commandments from the Old Testament, that we all should follow as a way to heaven like we do with the Old Testament and if we don't follow them, we may go someplace else.

This is a mistake. In the Beatitudes, Jesus is not setting out any rules or regulations. He's telling us we are special we are blessed. This is the way Jesus see us. This is the way we should be happy to understand the greatness of God's love for us and all things.

What Jesus tells us in the Beatitudes is why he and the Father love us. These are the ways of living that we were created for. To personalize them and make them your own because it's about our inner self our design intent.

Now what kind of a crowd was Jesus talking to? They were ordinary people, some good, some bad, some there to pick pockets, some there to find out what the holy man had to say. These are the people that he addresses. Somewhat like the world today.

A Beatitude, blessedness, basically is God's blessing on something. Jesus will say, "Blessed are..." and then he says, "Blessed are the poor. Blessed are these..." It means congratulations, in a way. It means that the response to God's blessing is saying, "I love you," and therefore you should be happy, and you should be joyful because God's blessing is God's love and God's approval. And God is saying to this whole rag tag group of people, "You're just what my Father loves and cares for, and wants you to know more about Him," and he will tell you what God is like because without God in your lives you cannot be happy and have fullness of life.

Blessed means to be very fortunate. "How fortunate you all are to know, to love and to be chosen by God." Blessed are the poor, the poor in spirit for theirs is the Kingdom of God. What does it mean to be poor in spirit? The best translation of that is: Blessed are all those who know their need for God, and God's loving presence is given to you. Know your need for God. And God knows His need for each one of us. For the Kingdom of God means the presence of God. .

The second one is: "Blessed are the meek and humble of heart for they inherit the world."

The meek are gentle people, kindly, accepting adversity with courage. Why is the world given to them? Because they're no threat to anybody. They don't covet the world. They appreciate everything, but they don't have to have anything and, therefore, they walk freely throughout the world, detached, unselfishly but always looking out for other people, and helping others, and appreciating the presence and love of God in this world.

The next one is: "Blessed are those who mourn." You may ask can you be happy when you're mourning? And the response to it is, "And you will be comforted."

To mourn in biblical language and in religious language is not to sit there feeling sorry for yourself because something terrible happened to you. To mourn is to lament over the sin and sadness, the suffering and pain that is so common in our lives and in the world in which we live. Not feeling sorry for yourself, but for all peoples that are affected. And, therefore, when we lament, we show our compassion for others as well, our understanding, for them and become one with them in their tears.

There's a great saying: when we cry together, God cries with us. We can point to Jesus in Gethsemane when he wept and lamented for the whole world. Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted by each other, and they will be comforted by the presence of God Himself.

The next one is: "Blessed are those who hunger for justice, and justice shall be given them."

Justice here means righteousness. And what righteous means is blessed are those who are right with God, who are right with their neighbors and who are right with their own selves and their own heart. And if they hunger and thirst for this kind of relationship then, of course, it shall be given, for God Himself will give it to them.

The fifth one, is mercy. blessed are the merciful, they are promised that they shall obtain mercy.

Father Hanly says mercy is very hard to translate. He likes the Hebrew translation of mercy, blessed are the merciful, mercy is "the tenderness of a mother's love."

And so when we say, "Blessed are those who give this kind of tenderness to others," this kind of God's mothering tenderness, then they will have mercy shown them by God Himself.

Clean of heart. Clean of heart: we think of purity, and purity has nothing to do with that. Clean of heart shall see God, means single minded, one-track minded people. Beatitudes has little to do with the mind but everything with the heart. If you don't love with your heart, you'll never understand the Beatitudes. Clean of heart means a one-track heart, the heart of Jesus who, when he was told to sum up his whole meaning, life, all the Old Testament, everything that was going to follow, said only one thing: love God with your whole heart and love your neighbor as yourself. This is the commandment that Jesus gave us.

The peacemakers. Peacemakers shall be called the children of God. We know how important this is because when we look at the world in which we live, there is tension and distress. The peacemaker is a blessing to the world. Every morning when I get up, I thank God for everything that has happened to me from the beginning till now, even the bad things and for everything that's going to happen to me in the future, the good and the bad, I say, "Yes Lord and thank you. Trusting that our loving God knows what is best and will make everything right. The peacemakers are called the children of God and rightly so. For Jesus came to bring us peace and we are his brothers and sisters. And it was the will of his Father that the whole world should live in peace and, therefore, those who work for peace on the smallest or greatest level, these are truly the children of God. Finally, Jesus says, "blessed are you when they insult you and persecute you and utter every kind of evil against you falsely because of me. You should rejoice and be glad for your reward will be great in heaven." be happy because you're on the right path to God's healing and salvation. God loves you, you are God's marvelous creation, claim it and then live it.

THE PEOPLE OF GOD'S KINGDOM

In our Gospel reading from Matthew, we hear the Beatitudes, the stirring opening to the Sermon on the Mount. Jesus is proclaiming the coming of the kingdom of God, and begins by considering what kind of people will enter and participate in this kingdom. They are the poor in spirit, the meek, the clean of heart, the peacemakers. We hear both Zephaniah and Paul echo this, as God specifically chooses the weak and the lowly to be God's agents in ushering in the reign of God. By living with humility and integrity, their hearts are open to being transformed by the grace of God. We too are called to live in this way. Jesus invites us to be people with open hearts, to receive God's blessing. And working through us, God may bless all of creation. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL

The "Little Church with the Big Heart" always applies throughout the entire year

January 29: Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

In the Gospel today Jesus gives us the Beatitudes, which embody a radically alternative vision of life and we find that God indeed call us to blessedness.

Your gift to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul proclaims the gospel of the kingdom and brings healing to the broken hearts of those who live in poverty.

Hope everyone had a blessed Christmas and New Year. I made bulletin announcements my main resolution this year. I'm glad to see 2022 gone! In December we fed 80 people, which included 40 children, 30 adults, 5 seniors, and 4 homeless. We were open only 2 weeks. There is a lot of need out there now. For 1,810 pounds of food distributed, the cost was $27.76. Twelve families were helped with utilities at a cost of $995. We had 69 angels on the tree in 2022. About a dozen angels were left on the tree. Panic time! One of our Sacred Heart angels took a big handful of angels. We had enough money left for the rest. Thanks to everyone for help in organizing and bagging the gifts. Times are hard, so everyone gave what they could. We are blessed. Hope everyone has a wonderful New Year. Instead of food this time, we are asking people for socks. We are out and its wintertime. If you prefer to buy food, cereal is always popular.

Thanks! Bea
