REFLECTION

Today's gospel is such a familiar one and such an enduring image that the title for the hero has passed into everyday use to describe a stranger who does a good turn for another. Many countries even have what is known as a 'Good Samaritan Law' that protects those who may hurt another person when they act in good faith to provide aid.

The parable is told in response to the question, 'And who is my neighbour?' Anyone hearing Jesus tell the story would have recognised the familiar story structure – things happening in three with the most important element occurring on the third repetition. As three people came upon the injured man on the road, the audience would have known that the hero of the story would be the third one along. But, as Jesus often did with his parables, the pattern is suddenly disrupted. Rather than the hero being an upright, faithful Jewish person, it is none other than a Samaritan who is the one who shows mercy. Samaritans and Jews had a deep-seated mistrust and suspicion towards one another that went back generations. So strong was the ill-feeling between the two peoples that when Jesus finishes his story and asks the lawyer which man proved himself a neighbour, the lawyer cannot even say 'the Samaritan' – he says 'the one who took pity'.

The story concludes with the instruction, 'Go and do the same yourself'. The commandment is to act with compassion towards others – even those you may not like. The priority of compassion over the Law is a major theme of the gospel of Luke. It is often described as the gospel of compassion. The Samaritan acts with compassion, rather than out of 'patterned' behaviours and attitudes. Jesus challenges the lawyer – and us – to 'Go and do the same'

FIRST READING: Deuteronomy 30:10-14

A reading from the book of Deuteronomy.

Moses spoke to the people, saying,
 "Obey the Lord your God
 by observing his commandments and decrees
 that are written in this book of the law,
 turn to the Lord your God with all your heart
 and with all your soul.
 "Surely this commandment
 that I am commanding you today
 is not too hard for you,
 nor is it too far away.
 It is not in heaven, that you should say,
 'Who will go up to heaven for us,
 and get it for us so that we may hear it
 and observe it?'
 Neither is it beyond the sea, that you should say,
 'Who will cross to the other side of the sea for us,
 and get it for us so that we may hear it
 and observe it?'
 "No, the word is very near to you,
 it is in your mouth and in your heart
 for you to observe."

The word of the Lord.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: Ps 69.13+16, 29-30, 32-33, 35ab+36

R. Turn to the Lord in your need, and you will live.

As for me, my prayer is to you, O Lord.
 At an acceptable time, O God,
 in the abundance of your steadfast love, answer me.
 With your steadfast help, rescue me.
 Answer me, O Lord, for your steadfast love is good;
 according to your abundant mercy, turn to me.

But I am lowly and in pain;
 let your salvation, O God, protect me.
 I will praise the name of God with a song;
 I will magnify him with thanksgiving.

Let the oppressed see it and be glad;
 you who seek God, let your hearts revive.
 For the Lord hears the needy,
 and does not despise his own that are in bonds.

For God will save Zion
 and rebuild the cities of Judah;
 the children of his servants shall inherit it,
 those who love his name shall live in it.

R. Turn to the Lord in your need, and you will live.

SECOND READING: Colossians 1:15-20

A reading from the letter of Paul to the Colossians.

Christ is the image of the invisible God,
 the firstborn of all creation;
 for in him all things in heaven
 and on earth were created,
 things visible and invisible,
 whether thrones or dominions or rulers or powers;
 all things have been created through him
 and for him.
 Christ is before all things,
 and in him all things hold together.
 He is the head of the body, the church;
 he is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead,
 so that he might come to have first place
 in everything.
 For in Christ all the fullness of God
 was pleased to dwell,
 and through him God was pleased
 to reconcile to himself all things,
 whether on earth or in heaven,
 by making peace through the blood of his cross.

The word of the Lord.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!
 Your words, Lord, are spirit and life;
 you have the words of everlasting life.
 Alleluia!

GOSPEL: Luke 10:25-37

Who is my neighbour?
