On this 1st Sunday of Advent, we are ushered into the new liturgical year in the Church. Quite intriguingly, our gospel reading this Sunday hints about the end of time! Advent means coming, but coming of what or whom? To be sure we prepare for the celebration of Christmas, the time when we recall God fulfilling His promise to come down and save His people as we read in this Sunday's First Reading. While this has happened already, the time when Jesus Christ will return as He promise to gather everything under his dominion and present this to His Father has not yet come. Advent, therefore, is a time when we prepare for the second coming of Jesus Christ when the old order disappears, and the new order begins! We wait for this blessed time to happen not with fear but full of hope and excitement! It is like the excitement we feel in the air preparing for Christmas! People make their lists and go out of their way to buy gifts as early as possible, so they won't get caught flat footed when Christmas comes! We do not know when Christ returns in His glory. But, we know Jesus will definitely come when everyone, the good and the bad, will unmistakably recognize Him as King. As we wait for this to happen, we keep awake and vigilant, faithful to our duty and responsibilities as God's stewards of those that He entrusted to our care. We don't want to get flatfooted when Jesus Christ comes. Meanwhile, times will continue to be rough and challenging. With Christ sure to come again, however, we are strengthened by the fact everything shall be made new like the "budding" of a tree! May we not get caught on the hustle and bustle of the Christmas rush buying gifts, but prepare ourselves for God, who is the potter, to mold us as a worthy gift to His Son, the King!

On Saturday, December 9, from 10:00 am through 11:00 am, Fr. Sebastian Carnazzo, Ph.D, will lead us in the study of the mystery of the birth of Jesus, the Messiah, based on the Gospel according to Luke. Friday, December 8th, is the Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary. It is a holy day of obligation. Masses are at 8:30 am and 7:00 pm. The celebration of the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe on Friday, December 15th, begins with a Rosary at 6:30 pm followed by a Mass at 7pm. The Parish's Christmas concert is on Sunday, December 10th, from 3pm through 4pm. The Christmas Giving Tree is up at the church's main entrance. Pick a suggested gift and make somebody happy this Christmas! All gifts must be turned in by Monday, December 18th.

Saint of the week

Servant of God Walter Ciszek was a Jesuit priest and theologian who spent 23 years as a prisoner of war during the World War II and the Cold War. His endurance of suffering for his beliefs and his writings reminds us of the importance of religious freedom and the power of faith.

Prayer

We adore You, Most Holy Trinity, and we thank You for the exemplary life of Your Servant, Father Walter Ciszek. We pray that his strong faith in Your loving providence, his great love for You, and his kindness to all people be recognized by the Church. If it be Your will, may he be given to us as a saintly model of these virtues so that we too may be better motivated to dedicate our lives to Your greater honor and glory. We commend our petition through the prayers of the holy Mother of God. For to You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, is due all glory, honor, and worship, now and forever.
Amen.

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Lately I've been listening to a science-based podcast on healthy daily living. The host frequently discusses the wide range of health benefits of sleep. So, each night I'm trying to get more, and better, slumber, and it's helping me feel energized. So, why in the world should we follow Christ's advice this week? "Watch therefore, for you do not know when the master of the house will come ... lest he find you asleep." Isn't sleep, especially at midnight and cockcrow, a good thing?

Of course, it is. But the wakefulness the Lord calls us to is a deep, personal orientation to Him. A nightly vigil is therefore a metaphor for this, but it's not just that. We should give up real sleep in order to pray, too. This difficult practice is a time-tested way to foster wakefulness of heart. When we give up sleep to pray, it focuses us. We learn that life is not an endless series of days. You and I belong to the Lord — awake or asleep, in life and in death. Sooner or later, even our need for our physical sleep will pass away. And our attentiveness to God — that is, whether we are awaiting Him to meet us — will be all that matters.

May I challenge us this week and this Advent to intentionally give up at least one hour of sleep each week for prayer? Stay up later, wake up in the middle of the night, or an hour earlier, and pray. Will we be a bit more tired the next day? Yes. But we'll be amazed at the spiritual wakefulness that results, too.

— Father John Muir

Liturgical Life

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC

Memento Mori

Just this week, my husband and I signed our wills, and the lawyer was careful to couch our transaction in gentle, abstract language: “When we lose you” she kept saying, instead of “When you die.”

It’s very uncomfortable to dwell on our death. But the Christian life does not just encourage us to do so: it demands that we do.

I once came upon a prayer consecrating the last two hours of life to the Blessed Mother. I have since found variations of the prayer online with different phrasing, but the sentiment of them all is the same: let me not be caught sleeping. Let me be ready.

“You can’t do all your homework at the end,” a deacon who ministers to the dying once told me. “Good Friday is waiting in the wings for all of us.”

I think of that a lot when I don’t particularly feel like praying, when I think I’m too busy to go to confession or when feelings of resentment fester inside me on Sunday mornings as I pack my family off to church. All our good deeds are like polluted rags, says the prophet. We have all withered like leaves.

You can’t do all your homework at the end. God is faithful. Are we?

“May he not come suddenly and find you sleeping. What I say to you, I say to all: ‘Watch!’”
— Mark 13:36

Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

Why do we do that? Catholic Life Explained

Question:

Why haven’t Catholic Churches gone the way of disposable cups for wine distribution?

Answer:

If a Catholic has ever attended a Protestant worship service and saw the communion service that was offered for that community, one of the things that might have stood out was the use of small, disposable cups for distributing the wine or grape juice. This is in stark contrast to the precious metal chalices used in Catholic churches during the Mass.

Although practices for Protestant Christians can vary (ranging from large shared chalices, to personal-use cups, to dipping the bread in the wine/grape juice), the norms governing Catholic practices are fairly direct: “Sacred vessels are to be made from precious metal. If they are made from metal that rusts or from a metal less precious than gold, then ordinarily they should be gilded on the inside. In the Dioceses of the United States of America, sacred vessels may also be made from other solid materials that, according to the common estimation in each region, are precious ... they are to have bowls of nonabsorbent material” (nos. 328-330). Rather than being a commentary on the beliefs or practices of those other communities, these rules are intended to highlight the reverence that Catholics have for the bread and wine consecrated at Mass, which become the Body and Blood the Lord.

Jesus said to his disciples: "Be watchful! Be alert! You do not know when the time will come. What I say to you, I say to all: 'Watch!'"

- Mk 13:33, 37

Questions of the Week

Invite Parishioners to Reflect and Respond to Scripture

First Reading

In prayer, the prophet Isaiah grieves over our sins that separates us from God. What sorrow or distress have you experienced over the past week?

Second Reading

Paul offers up a prayer of thanksgiving to God for the many gifts the believers have received because of their faith in Jesus. As we begin the season of Advent, for what are you thankful?

Gospel Reading

Each Advent, the Gospel reading begins with Jesus instructing his disciples to watch carefully for the end times. How often do you think about the Second Coming of Jesus and judgment day?

We need volunteers as financial advisers, for IT assistance, marketing and communication, office work, hospitality and social events, grounds keeping, lectors, extraordinary ministers of holy communion, ushers, greeters, youth and adult altar servers.
