MISSION STATEMENT

"We, the community of St. Gregory Barbarigo, are called forth in Baptism to follow the mission of Jesus to teach, to love, and to serve."

The common theme running through today's readings is one of joy and encouragement, and the need for patience in those awaiting the first coming of Jesus. Today is Gaudete Sunday because today's Mass begins with the opening antiphon: "Gaudete in domino semper," i.e., "Rejoice in the Lord always." Today we light the rose candle, and the priest may wear rose vestments to express our joy in the coming of Jesus as our savior. The prophet Isaiah in the first reading encourages the exiled Jews in Babylon to believe that God is going to save them and transform their lives. In the second reading James the Apostle encourages the early Christians to be patient "because the coming of the Lord is at hand." Finally, in today's Gospel reading, Jesus encourages John the Baptist to cast away the popular expectations about the Messiah and simply to accept His healing and preaching ministry as the fulfilling of the messianic prophecy of Isaiah.

Instead of criticizing Jesus or breaking away from him, John approached Jesus through his disciples. The disciples asked Jesus if he was the one or should they look for another? John had his doubts, but he was open to hearing Jesus say that he was, indeed, the one! John must have recognized the scriptural allusions behind Jesus' answer. Isaiah 29:18 speaks of the deaf hearing and the blind seeing. Isaiah 35:6 speaks of the lame leaping like a deer. Isaiah 26:19 speaks of the dead becoming alive. Isaiah 61:1 speaks of good news for the oppressed, the brokenhearted, captives and prisoners. These were signs of the Messiah's coming. Jesus could have rebuked John for his doubts, but instead offered him a blessing. Jesus had not lived up to John's expectations, but John did not allow that to be a stumbling block. Soon enough, Jesus would deal with the people of his hometown, who took offense at him (13:57). Complimenting John, Jesus says that John is the fulfillment of Malachi 3:1 ("See, I am sending my messenger to prepare the way before me") presenting the Baptist as the end-time messenger the forerunner of the Messiah. How can we imitate John the Baptist in our questioning are you the Messiah?

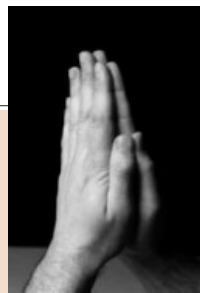

1) Learn to survive a faith crisis: From a theological perspective, this entire episode helps us understand how the experience of a faith crisis can play a role in our spiritual and emotional development. If John the Baptist, even after having a direct encounter with Jesus the Messiah, can question, doubt, and revise his faith, then so can we. If disillusionment is a necessary precondition for a more resilient faith, then we too must be open to its possibilities. In moments of doubt, despair, and disillusionment, we are, indeed, in good company. Occasional doubts – even horrifying doubts – are one thing, but doubts that persist in the face of every biblical remedy demand careful attention. Let us remember the truth that all our Christian dogmas are based on our trust and faith in the divinity of Jesus who taught them. It is up to us to learn our faith in depth and remove our doubts.

2) Go and tell others what you hear and see. In medieval times, this day—the Third Sunday of Advent—was called Gaudete Sunday as equivalent to Laetare Sunday during Lent. As we pray today, we also rejoice that the Lord does not fail to show his power and might. We rejoice at the thought that Jesus is going to be reborn in our lives as love, mercy, forgiveness and spirit of humble and sacrificial service during this Christmas season. During this season, let us joyfully share God's bountiful grace, forgiveness, and mercy with others. What Jesus commanded John's disciples, he commands us as well: Go and tell others what you hear and see.

3) Open your hearts and let God transform your lives: We too should be encouraged by today's readings. They remind us that our lives can also be transformed if we are patient and place our trust in God. The message of Advent is that God is present among us, in our everyday lives. We must prepare our hearts to recognize and welcome Him. "If a man is the center of his life, everyone around him becomes hell for him because everyone around him interferes with him and obstructs what he wants to do" (Jean Paul Sartre). Let us believe in our hearts the gospel message about Jesus given by Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John. Will these gospel reports create metanoia (a change of thinking about God, ourselves, and the world) in us during Advent? May our Advent conversion of heart help us experience Jesus more fully in lives our messiah.

We are in need of people to make light meals for the RCIA class on Wednesday evenings. If you are able to help out, please sign up on the sheets in the gathering space or call the Parish Office.

Purposeful Hospitality

In the next several weeks we will be seeing people in church that are new or that we don't see very often. Please welcome them and let them know they belong here. As Chris Stefanick told us at REBOOT, the easiest way to make people feel welcome is to simply say "Welcome". There are lots of little things we can all do to make everyone who enters the church feel the love of Jesus through us like sitting in the center of your pew so people feel free to sit beside you. If you want to learn more, scan the QR code to watch this short video from Julianne Stanz.

Thank you for sharing your gifts. —

Luke 1: 26-38

Pope Francis: We pray that people living with disabilities may be at the center of attention in society, and that institutions may offer inclusive programs which value their active participation.

Bishop Johnston: For all those separated from family or loved ones because of war, migration, military service or other circumstances; that they be strengthened by God and renewed by his consolation.

Guess Who's Coming to Dinner

Scan the QR code to sign up. You can be a host or a guest.

The Welcoming Committee will track and organize everything. If you are a host, you will decide how many guests you can seat and what your main course will be.

Guests will be asked to bring a side. Guests will receive the address of the host just before the event, so everyone will be surprised when they arrive for dinner. The first dinner is January 20th, so sign up by January 8th!

THE ANNUAL CATHOLIC SURVEY

Giving Catholics Everywhere a Voice—Please take the survey!

Whether you go to Mass each week, have been away for a long time, or you're somewhere in between, your voice deserves to be heard. The Annual Catholic Survey is the best platform for you to share your real experience of Catholicism in America!

It's only 10 questions and takes about a minute. Scan the QR code to take the survey now.
