MISSION STATEMENT

"We, the community of St. Gregory Barbarigo, are called forth in Baptism to follow the mission of Jesus to teach, to love, and to serve."

This week once again the first reading complements and explains to the gospel. The gospel is about Jesus curing a leper. The first reading is about what the Law had to say about how to treat a leper. It gives us a context or background that enhances our understanding of what Jesus was doing. This is typical of how the first and third readings are related, especially during Ordinary Time.

When those of us born before the Vatican II Council grew up, Mass was different. It was in Latin, the priest's back was to us most of the time, there was only communion on the tongue (no distribution of the Precious Blood) as we knelt at communion rails, no Extraordinary Ministers to help, Eucharistic Prayer was the only Eucharistic Prayer we had, and the Gregorian Chant was beautiful. Not only were the readings in Latin, but there was just ONE year of readings, and there were only TWO readings per Mass (including the gospel), even on Sundays. As a result, we heard much less scripture in the Liturgy. In my experience, we were discouraged from reading scripture on our own lest we fall into erroneous interpretations of scripture.

After Vatican II the current rite came into being. We now celebrate in the vernacular (the language of the culture) so that all people can understand. This made Catholicism less "strange" to non-Catholics; it was meant to enhance participation of the faithful as well as make Mass more accessible to non-Catholics and those who did not understand Latin. The change was meant to enhance Ecumenical dialogue, the exchange of ideas, theology, and worship between Protestants and Catholics. There was a sense of transcendence in the old rite, since not all understood Latin and only the priest handled consecrated hosts. But there was less participation and it took more effort to understand what we did.

The aspect I would like to reflect on with you today is the change in the amount of scripture that is presented. In a common effort to expose the faithful to more scripture and to do it in a more systematic manner, Biblical and Liturgical scholars gave their opinions on which scriptures in the Old and New Testaments should 1) necessarily be read, 2) are desirable to be read, 3) could be read or not read, 4) could or should be omitted. This was an effort undertaken by both Catholic and some Protestant churches in an effort to come up with a common lectionary – the three year cycle of Sunday readings that we have now. In those days the thought of sharing a common lectionary with our "enemies" was revolutionary. But it happened because of the vision of our leaders and a common desire to come closer together as Christians. As a result, we share this lectionary with Episcopalians, Lutherans, Methodists, and some others. From the Catholic perspective, we now read much more scripture over the course of the three years. For example, Year A is dedicated to the gospel of Matthew, Year B to Mark, Year C to Luke. The Gospel of John is worked into Christmas and Easter times, as well as to supplement Mark's Gospel since it is so short. For those who attend daily Mass, there is a two year cycle, I & II, which has the same gospel each year but contains further exposure to parts of the New and Old Testament – last week (5th week, year II) was passages from the Book of Kings, this coming week (6th week, year II) the passages are taken from the Letter of James.

Not only do we hear MORE scripture, but in the Sunday readings, especially in Ordinary time, the passages are arranged so that the first reading (usually from the Old Testament) connects to and gives background on the Gospel. This way of arranging the lectionary allows us to put the teaching of Christ into a Biblical (often Old Testament) context, to develop a more scriptural spirituality; it demands that we understand more about the Bible and salvation history, and it helps us to learn to interpret God's Word better. It also shows us how the two Testaments are connected. Hopefully, it will help us to discern better what the Lord is asking of us today, here and now as we immerse ourselves in what God has done in salvation history. The question often asked by current commentators on the Gospel passages is: "How would a first century Jew understand what Christ said?" More often than not, the first reading provides a hint of what a "first century Jew" would have known.

The emphasis on learning more about the Bible has spawned a huge number of Bible studies, group reading, podcasts, presentations on specific books of the Bible or chapters of a gospel. I am delighted to see that our parish have "caught the fever" to learn more and more about the Bible, especially to pray with the Bible texts. The increase of small groups studying the Bible is a good sign that you are doing this. Helpful presentations like "Bible in a Year" by Fr. Mike Schmitz, or even his more recent "Catechism in a Year", as well as the many offerings by FORMED.ORG, Matthew Kelley's Dynamic Catholic, or Ascension Press are among those resources. I love that you are active in acquiring this knowledge. I also perceive that you are understanding my preaching more as your knowledge of the scriptures and of salvation history grows. It is a key dimension in our pursuit of holiness together as we learn to put our pilgrimage towards heaven into the context of salvation history articulated in the Bible.

Keep up the good work! It is a joy to be your pastor!

Fr. Albert Bruecken O.S.B.

Stewardship-A Way of Life 3

On Ash Wednesday and throughout Lent, we are called to repentance and deeper communion with God and neighbor through prayer, fasting and almsgiving.

In a special way, Lenten almsgiving enables us to grow in generosity, actively participate in the body of Christ and respond to God's call to love and care for others.

Your Lenten alms through CRS Rice Bowl make a global difference for millions of our sisters and brothers experiencing the greatest need. They help families in countries like Uganda, El Salvador and Indonesia to access nutritious food, build sustainable livelihoods and adapt and thrive in the face of climate change.

Please don't forget to pick up your rice bowl in the gathering space.

Did you know? Our Ash Wednesday collection is divided between the Ministry Center and Community Services which helps those in our community in need. Thank you for your continued support!

St. Therese Circle

We are meeting Monday, February 12th, at 1 pm in the parish hall. All ladies of the parish are welcome to join. The presentation about Hospice Volunteers is open to everyone.

Ash Wednesday is February 14th

We have several opportunities for you to receive ashes on Wednesday. There is Mass at 8 am and 7 pm, and a prayer service at noon.

Ash Wednesday is a time when we see people from other denominations and people who don't attend regularly in our church. Please be hospitable so everyone will feel they belong here and will want to come back. Do you have non-Catholic friends who are curious about the Catholic faith? Ash Wednesday, the Stations of the Cross, KofC Fish Fries, and Holy Week celebrations are great events to invite them to. Personal invitation is the best way to grow our church.

Thank you for sharing your gifts. — Chris Kuhlemeyer

FISH FRY: Please join the Knights of Columbus for a Fish Fry on Friday, February 16 from 5:00 - 7:00 PM. Breaded Whitefish Fillets, Baked Beans, Cheesy Potatoes, Dessert and Drinks will be served. There will also be the option to drive-thru as well. (Drive-thru will not include dessert or drink). For those who will be driving-thru, please travel north on Davis Street, and stop by the entrance to the parish offices. A Free Will offering will be collected for both sit-down and drive-thru options.

Interested in being a Hospice Volunteer?

Come and find out more on Monday, February 12th at 1 pm in the Parish Hall.

St. Therese Circle is hosting Kari Maag from Mosaic Hospice who will be here to share what it means to volunteer with Hospice.

All interested men and women are welcome.

CGS Bright Spots

Here are some snapshots of the goings-on in the atria. See our children hard at work!
Cathy Handlos

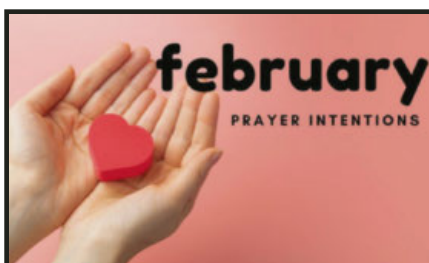

Falcon Families,

Our children have really enjoyed all of the Catholic Schools Week activities that have taken place. The two prominent presentations that have been shown in the atrium this week have been in the Level 1; The Mustard Seed and in the Level 2 reviewing the gesture of Epiclesis. The mustard seed is the smallest of all seeds, but grows into a large tree. Our conversation included what "makes" a plant grow. God's power is so great in all things that grow.

Epiclesis is the gesture that the priest does to call down the Holy Spirit to come upon the bread and wine to make them the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. The children in the Level 2 atrium have the opportunity to practice this gesture. Read the Holy words that accompany this gesture and ponder its' meaning.

Have a very Blessed week! - Cathy Handlos

Pope Francis: We pray that those with a terminal illness, and their families, receive the necessary physical and spiritual care and accompaniment.

Bishop Johnston: For those who are discerning a call to the priesthood or consecrated religious life.

Groups are Forming Now!

As we learned from Chris Stefanick at REBOOT, small groups are a great way to share and grow our faith. If you haven't participated before, now is a great time to start as new groups are forming for Lent.

Paper sign ups are in the gathering space. Watch for electronic sign ups in your email. If you would like more information, please call Chris Kuhlemeyer in the parish office 660.582.3833.

Thank you for sharing your gifts. — Chris Kuhlemeyer

Annual Catholic Appeal

The diocese will be sending you a tax letter soon if you contributed to the Annual Catholic Appeal. A request for donation will be included with the mailing. Thanks to your generosity, our parish reached our goal in December. At the diocesan level, the campaign has reached 93% of its goal of $2,000,000.

Leaders Needed!

This is a great new series on Formed.org. We just need some leaders to offer it to parents. While kiddos are in Sunday School would be a great time to watch these short videos together and have great discussions. If you are willing to lead or help with leading please let me know. Chris Kuhlemeyer
