Thank you for your continuing generosity.

TWENTY-FIFTY SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Today's parable of the crafty steward, LK 16:1-13, may seem paradoxical for Jesus to use because it would seem that, in verse 8, He is commending this steward for his unethical behavior. In reality, Jesus is making the contrast between worldly people who will do anything to advance their cause and spiritual people who have little zeal for the things of God. Some may think that they can get away with cheating in business, but you cannot cheat God! As Jesus says, in verse 13: No servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon. Mammon is a Semitic word which refers to riches or money. As good stewards of God's gifts to the soul, which are the true riches, we are to use them for the good of all. Do we use the gifts we have for ourselves alone or do we use them for the common good? Do we see the bigger picture of our common humanity and work for the betterment of everyone both economically and spiritually? The Catechism of the Catholic Church # 2424 says: A theory that makes profit the exclusive norm and ultimate end of economic activity is morally unacceptable. The disordered desire for money cannot but produce perverse effects. It is one of the causes of the many conflicts which disturb the social order. A system that "subordinates the basic rights of individuals and of groups to the collective organization of production", (Gaudium et Spes 65.2), is contrary to human dignity. Every practice that reduces persons to nothing more than a means of profit enslaves man, leads to idolizing money, and contributes to the spread of atheism. St. Paul reminds us in 1 Timothy 6:10 that: ...the love of money is the root of all evils....When you study the evils of our time, you will surely find someone is making money off of them. Let us reorder our priorities by putting God first so that all other things will fall into their proper places.

CATECHETICAL SUNDAY

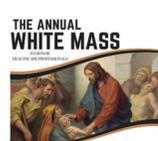

St. Peter in his letter 1 PT 3:15 says: "...Revere Christ as Lord in your hearts. Always be prepared to offer an explanation to anyone who asks you to justify the hope that is in you. However, do so with gentleness and respect and with a clear conscience...." The word for explanation in the original Greek is "apologia" and hence the term apologetics refers to the work of explaining and defending our faith. Let us continue to deepen our study of God's Word and the teachings of the Church in order to defend our faith and explain it with gentleness and love! Together with Mrs. Leslie Monette, our Religious Education Director, I thank all of our catechists, both in our Annunciation School and in our Religious Education program, for all the time, energy and love they give to forming our students in our Catholic Faith. Let us all grow to revere Jesus Christ as Lord in our hearts!

BLUE MASS

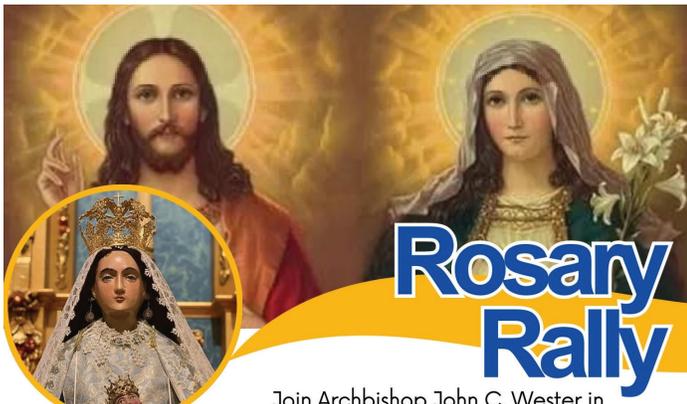

As we commemorated the 24th anniversary of 9/11 as well as too many other violent tragedies here in the United States, the Archdiocese of Santa Fe will celebrate a Blue Mass to bless all first responders—police officers, sheriff deputies, firefighters, military, emergency medical personnel, correction and probation officers. The Mass will take place on Thursday, Sept. 25th at Queen of Heaven Church at 5300 Claremont Ave., NE here in Albuquerque at 12 Noon followed by a reception. All are invited to come and thank our first responders with our prayers and support!

WHITE MASS

Annunciation Church will host this year's White Mass on Friday, Sept. 26th at 5:30 p.m. with a reception to follow in the Community Center. The White Mass is sponsored by our local Catholic Medical Association Chapter under the patronage of the twin doctors, Saints Cosmas and Damian. CMA is open to all medical professionals from doctors, dentists, psychologists, nurses, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, registered nurses, medical techs and more. Please come and join us as we honor and bless the work of our medical professionals who tend to us in our times of great need.
