Principals' Message

We all want to achieve and be recognized for it.

It starts from within, what we bring to a situation, a challenge, a problem.

But we work as a team, don't we?

Though ideas begin with an individual, they are normally realized through a team.

In life, like school, you will sometimes be blessed by good team members, and other times, sadly, hindered by another type.

You will always be judged as to the value you bring to your team.

You may be brilliant, gifted, but if team members don't want to work with you, there is only so far you can go.

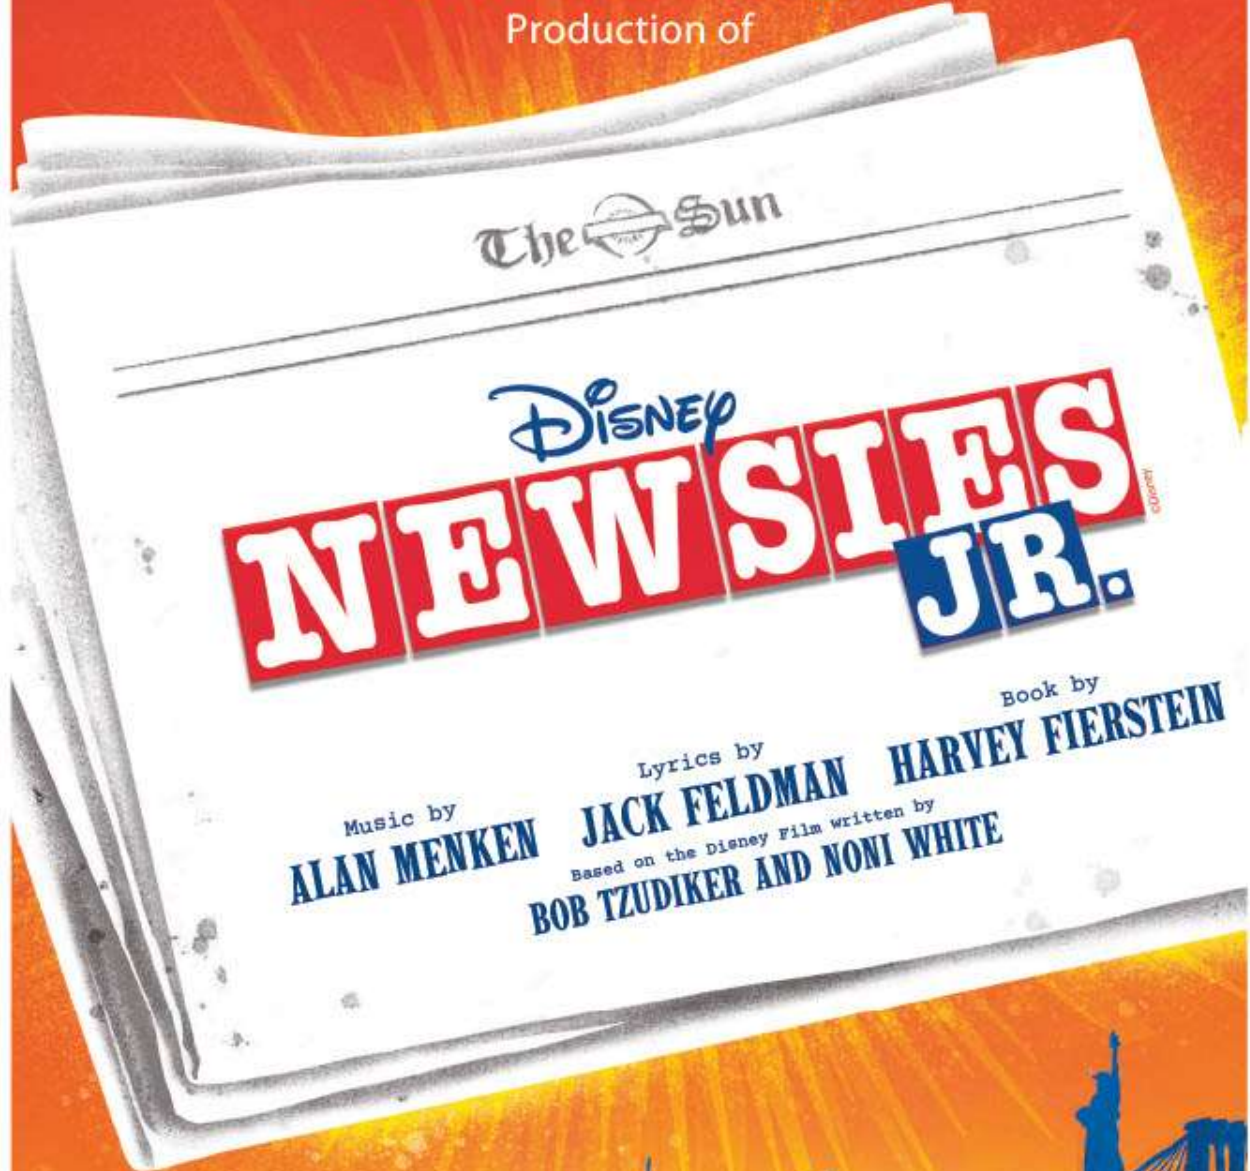

Be a high achiever and a valued member to your team.

Your future success depends on it.
