A saint to help you get souls from Purgatory to Heaven

(Aleteia) Annabelle Moseley - published on 10/31/23

The month of November is dedicated to the Holy Souls. This saint is an inspiration and a friend to help us in our devotion.

In this month of November, which is dedicated to the Souls in Purgatory, we are reminded of the Church's call for us to pray for the Holy Souls. One of the saints of November, St. Gertrude the Great, is famous for her shining example in assisting the Holy Souls in Purgatory. Much of what we learn through St. Gertrude the Great can help us to have refreshed zeal for November's liturgical theme.

Her feast day is November 16, right in the heart of the month. And this is a saint who helps us put more of our heart into our faith, whether it's through our devotion to the Sacred Heart or our heartfelt charity offered to those suffering in Purgatory.

Gertrude's story

Born in 1256, St. Gertrude the Great entered a monastery school at about four or five years old (either due to the death of her parents or because she was a child oblate offered by her parents as the Bible's Hannah offered Samuel) and she was famously brilliant. The education she achieved was unprecedented for a woman of her times. She became proficient in everything from philosophy to painting.

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Lately I've been enjoying the deep meaning of Eastern icons. I love how they express a tapestry of meaning in a way that can surpass the written or spoken word. Today's parable of the ten virgins from Jesus is a good example. Try googling "wise and foolish virgins icon" and you'll see an image of how our Christ meets our heart's deepest needs if we attend to him with the proper attitude.

I'm serious. Take a moment to google and look at it. See how it depicts the risen Jesus behind a closed door with the five wise virgins with lighted lamps. He gazes with them toward the five foolish and lamp-less virgins, symbolizing the outward looking of divine love for the lost. Moreover, the wedding feast is no ordinary one. It takes place in a walled city and garden, indicating it's a new Jerusalem and a return to Eden. The table isn't typical, either. It's a Eucharistic feast. Now we see that the door in Jesus' parable is the way into the church, where Christ is the new light burning amidst the dark midnight of this world.

The richness continues. We notice, too, that the foolish virgins look exactly the same as the wise ones in their clothes, hair, and expressions. The only difference is they departed to buy oil and now they are sadly excluded. We often act like consumers in the marketplace to fulfill our need for love and mercy. We'll always end up disappointed if we shop around. Jesus sums up the moral of the story this way: "Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour." Watch, remain, don't spiritually shop. It is always better to quietly remain close to the Eucharistic community of the Church, even if we feel like our oil has run out. This week let's consider placing the icon of the wise and foolish virgins on our phone lock screen or computer desktop to help us remember to stay close to him, especially when life feels dark. — Father John Muir

Although she was born about 400 years before the famous "Apostle of the Sacred Heart," (St. Margaret Mary Alacoque), St. Gertrude the Great was an early devotee of the Sacred Heart. She was a nuptial mystic who considered herself a bride of Christ. She had a famous vision of St. John the Beloved. He told St. Gertrude the Great that when he rested his head upon the chest of Jesus Christ on the night of the Last Supper, he had learned secrets and devotions that he did not record in Scripture as they had to be reserved for later generations when the world's love had grown cold. The writings of St. Gertrude the Great helped set the stage for the devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus to bloom across the world.

Gertrude's famous prayer

But what St. Gertrude the Great is perhaps most famous for is the prayer that bears her name, which is known as "The Prayer of St. Gertrude the Great for the Souls in Purgatory."

It is said that Jesus promised St. Gertrude that every time the prayer is prayed devoutly, He would release 1,000 souls from Purgatory. That very thought should give us a good idea of what a plethora of souls are in Purgatory! And yet, as a holy priest I recently heard reminded in a homily, we too seldom hear about our duty to our departed loved ones: to pray them home!

We must remember that the Church teaches (even if its pastors don't always remind) that those in Purgatory are dependent on our aid. They are eager to pray for those who pray for them. Each soul you free from Purgatory with your prayers is one more friend and advocate waiting for you in heaven!

What are we waiting for? Imagine how many souls will be freed from Purgatory if each person reading this article pauses for a moment to pray:

Eternal Father, I offer Thee the Most Precious Blood of Thy Divine Son, Jesus, in union with the Masses said throughout the world today, for all the holy souls in purgatory, for sinners everywhere, for sinners in the universal church, those in my own home and within my family. Amen.

"It is therefore a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead, that they may be loosed from sins" (2 Maccabees 12:43-46) Some of these Holy Souls, doubtless, are people who crossed our path in life. Others are friends we never met but will someday find waiting to pray for us in the moment of our greatest need.

Inspiration from Gertrude

Here are three quotes from St. Gertrude the Great that serve as guidance for us in our own prayer lives and a special inspiration this November:

1) "Every time we look at the Blessed Sacrament, our place in heaven is raised forever."

Once again, St. Gertrude is reminding us of our eternal life, that what we do here on earth matters significantly for our life after death. To live out the guidance of this quote, we should make every attempt to attend Mass frequently, not just on Sundays.

2) "Gratitude for suffering is a precious jewel for our heavenly crown ... Man should always firmly believe that God sends just that trial which is most beneficial for him."

Catholic parents have, throughout the centuries taught their children to "offer it up" for the Holy Souls when a difficulty came their child's way. And great saints and popes have affirmed this practice. Let us offer our suffering for the assistance of others and for the good, ultimately, of our own souls. If we are noble about our earthly sufferings, chances are good we will face less time in Purgatory.

3) "O Lord, I offer thee this work through thy only Son, in the power of the Holy Spirit, to the praise of Thy eternal majesty."

St. Gertrude prayed this regularly; she was taught by Our Lord that whatever action was offered with this prayer would have a high worth in the eyes of God. With St. Gertrude's help we recognize that we should waste no chance, however seemingly small or mundane, to offer all for God's glory.

To celebrate the influence of St. Gertrude the Great this month, and follow her devout example, we can add the Holy Souls prayer to each decade of our Rosary this month; share her beautiful prayer with a friend and encourage them to pray it with you; visit a cemetery and pray for those with no one to pray for them, get an at-home Holy Hour devoted to assisting the Holy Souls; and pray all month through the intercession of St. Gertrude.

LITURGY MATTERS

CANTOR TESS ROSE

This weekend I'd like to introduce you to our cantor, Tess Rose.

Tess has been a part of our music ministry since she began singing with the children's choir, under the direction of former music director Donna Barnes, at the tender age of 7.

A natural talent, gifted communicator and graduate of Holy Trinity School, Tess cantored the Children's Christmas Eve and Easter Sunday Masses throughout her elementary, middle, and high school years, even coming home from university to continue her unbroken record of service!

Today she is a professional voice teacher holding a Bachelors of Music in Classical Voice Performance from CSULB and a Masters in Music in Voice Pedagogy from Shenandoah University. She has a studio in San Pedro where she teaches private voice lessons.

It is such a blessing to have Tess as a part of our music ministry and we look forward to her continued presence as cantor at our Masses.

Thanksgiving Day Mass 9:00 a.m.

Called to care for others, we generously give from our abundance to those who have little.

Holy Trinity's long established tradition of bringing non-perishable food items to our Thanksgiving Day Mass continues next Thursday, November 24, at 9:00 a.m.

Please remember that the giving of our food items is a part of the liturgy and that all gifts should be held in the pews until it is time to bring them forward in procession and placed in the food bins. This ritual action occurs after the homily and intercessions at the Presentation of the Gifts.

After Mass you are also asked to help take the food items down to the parish center auditorium so they may be prepared for distribution.

Thank you for your celebrated generosity!

Safeguard The Children

Did You Know?

Understanding the VIRTUS® "Protecting God's Children" program

Child sexual abusers often target nurturing, child-friendly environments, where parents and participants assume that no one would ever want to harm a child. The Archdiocese of Los Angeles began implementing the VIRTUS® Protecting God's Children sexual abuse prevention program in 2004 to send a message to potential predators that child sexual abuse is not tolerated. Through this program, adults learn that through early identification, awareness, and education they can be "proactive" in protecting children and young people from child sexual abuse. Since the program began, more than 405,000 adults have been trained in abuse prevention. Additionally, more than 165,000 Catholic school and religious education students are trained annually with an age-appropriate curriculum on boundary awareness and how to communicate if violations of those safe boundaries occur. For more information, visit <https://lacatholics.org/education-and-training/>.

The Archdiocese of Los Angeles is committed to ensuring that parishes, schools and ministries are safe places for everyone in our community. The proceeds go towards their construction project for a new convent and youth ministry center. They began construction in June, however, don't have enough funds to complete the project. For this reason, they ask for your support. Every purchase greatly helps. They accept credit cards, checks and cash.
