OUR MISSION

St. George Catholic Church Parish is an open loving parish community united by our faith in Jesus Christ. Located within the Diocese of Baton Rouge, we are closely bound to our diocesan family and the universal Roman Catholic Church. Our prayerful liturgies are community celebrations shaped by a tradition of over one hundred years of Eucharistic worship on this site. Guided by the Holy Spirit, we are called to use our gifts to express our praise, love, and thanksgiving to God. We challenge and support one another in humbly living the gospel message and serving the common good as witnesses of Jesus Christ.

PASTOR'S MESSAGE

September 3, 2023

22ND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

A number of years ago, contractors were cleaning up after painting our parish hall in Donaldsonville. I asked them to rehang the large crucifix back above the entrance. One of the contractors, who used to be Catholic but attends a Baptist church, said, "Fr. Paul, I still hang a crucifix in my house, but the church I'm attending says that we should not hang a crucifix. They explained that Christians serve a Risen Christ, not a bloody, suffering victim, as seen on Catholic crucifixes. Can you explain why we hang a crucifix instead of a cross?"

A 4 year old attending Mass for the first time with his Maw Maw turned to her and asked, "Maw Maw, who is that man? Why is he on that thing? He looks scary." The child had his first encounter with crucifixion, a cruel and horrible method that Romans devised to execute criminals. So naturally, any person seeing a crucifix for the first time would likely react negatively. We hear a similar reaction in Peter in today's Gospel. Peter did not understand what Jesus was about to do as he entered Jerusalem. Jesus, peering ahead with prophetic vision, foresaw a chain of events that would cause him to suffer greatly and ultimately be killed on the cross. The disciples were shocked by what Jesus had revealed to them, and even though Jesus mentioned being raised from the dead on the third day, they did not understand. Peter would have none of this talk about doom and gloom awaiting Jesus as he said, "God forbid, Lord! No such thing shall ever happen to you." Peter's words were not a result of spiritual discernment; instead, Peter yielded to human dislike for suffering. Then, Peter was struck by thunderous words from Jesus, "Get behind me, Satan! You are an obstacle to me. You are thinking not as God does, but as human beings do."

Once, I visited a parishioner at a hospital room in the newly-built section of Our Lady of the Lake. On the wall of the hospital room hung prominently a crucifix. I wondered what the patient was thinking as she looked at the crucifix. Have you done that recently, to sit and meditate looking at the crucifix? Who is Jesus for me? Who put Jesus there on the cross? Why did he choose to suffer, and what does his suffering mean for me? What is he inviting me to?

When we pray with a crucifix, we receive a special invitation from Jesus. First, Jesus invites us to reflect on our own life; he reminds us of the seriousness and consequences of our sins--consequences which he willingly took on by carrying the cross and sacrificing himself on it. Yet he did this for us because he considers us an intimate friend whom he loves so much. We know from St John's Gospel that on the night Jesus was to be arrested and taken away to be crucified he said to his disciples, "No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends." (John 15:13) So clearly, we need to read into this passage Jesus' sacrifice -- his love for his disciples, and indeed all of humanity, for which he was willing to lay down his life.

Second invitation: The crucifix inspires us to bear our suffering patiently. Heavenly Father chose suffering for His Son from His birth to His death, and Jesus reminded us that the servant is not above the master. If He, as God-Man, had to suffer to enter into His Glory, then we too must suffer to prepare ourselves for our glory. The sufferings of this life not only make our temperament more like the Divine Personality of Jesus but detach us from the things of this world. This Divine preparation opens our souls to the working and pruning of the Father.

Third invitation: The crucifix shows us the model of true love. Crucifix doesn't hide the reality that love is sometimes painful, for true love requires forgiveness. St. John Vianney instructs us, "O what inspiration there is in the Crucifix! Who could find it hard to persevere at the sight of a God who never commands us to do anything which he has not first practiced himself?" If Jesus cried out from the cross, "Father, forgive them for they do not know what they do," are we not also invited to do the same, to forgive those who did not know what they were doing as they hurt us?

These invitations are a few reasons why we place a crucifix and not a plain cross in the center of our faith life. Pope Pius XI explained,

"A plain cross has no blood and no nail holes - it has no trace of suffering - yet It was the love of a suffering God that saved the world. When a cross is plain, we are deprived of seeing this truth...we are deprived of being reminded of how much God loves us and how He has proved his love...we are deprived of the comforts of seeing this, and we may turn in towards ourselves rather than to our Crucified Lord."

Jesus made this invitation to love in today's Gospel, "Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will find it." We follow Christ on the cross to get to the resurrected Christ. The crucifix is a reminder that it alone is the way of life that brings us ultimate happiness. It reminds us that the path to resurrection requires us to love as he loved.

Ever Wonder About...

CATHOLIC TEACHING ON LABOR

Question:

As we celebrate Labor Day, can you tell me about Catholic teaching regarding labor?

Answer:

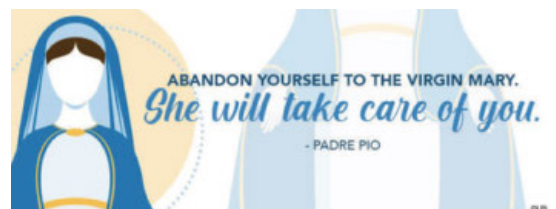

One of the most important principles of Catholic social teaching is the dignity of work and the rights of workers. Four encyclicals address this foundational social teaching: Rerum Novarum (1891) by Leo XIII, Quadragesimo Anno (1931) by Pius XI, Laborem Exercens (1981), and Centesimus Annus (1991) by John Paul II. They address both the theology and dignity of work.

In Genesis, God takes the initiative in creating the world, calling forth human beings to be faithful stewards of creation. We are thus formed to share in God's continuing creative activity by partnering with God in finishing the world and helping bring it to completion and fulfillment. From this perspective, work can be spiritually understood in terms of sharing in God's ongoing activity to build, create, and transform the world. Human beings are co-creators with God. This vocation demands self-discipline.

Besides an exercise in self-discipline, work is also the means by which we develop and fulfill ourselves. In work, we shape the world and our environment. Through work, we also shape ourselves. Pope John Paul II summarized this point in Laborem Exercens #6, "the value of work is not primarily the kind of work being done, but the fact that the one who is doing it is a person."

Labor Day offers an excellent opportunity to reflect on how we view work in light of our Catholic social teaching.

SEASON OF CREATION

The Season of Creation spans five weeks between the World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation (September 1) and the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi (October 4). This "time for creation" offers, in the words of Pope Francis, "individual believers and communities a fitting opportunity to reaffirm their personal vocation to be stewards of creation, to thank God for the wonderful handiwork which he has entrusted to our care, and to implore His help for the protection of creation as well as his pardon for the sins committed against the world in which we live."

In affirmation of our vocation as stewards of creation, St. George has adopted these initiatives:

- ♦ Paper coffee cups are now being used for all St. George Parish functions in place of Styrofoam cups
- ♦ All people attending St. George parish meetings are asked to bring their own reusable water bottles.

This month we invite your family to consider using reusables rather than disposables, such as coffee mugs, reusable bags, or cloth napkins.

QUOTES FROM POPES ON GOD'S CREATION

POPE BENEDICT XVI

"Respect for creation is of immense consequence, not least because 'creation is the beginning and the foundation of all God's works,' and its preservation has now become essential for the peaceful coexistence of mankind."

"The deterioration of nature is in fact closely connected to the culture that shapes human existence; when 'human ecology' is respected within society, environmental ecology also benefits."

"Respect for the human being and respect for nature are one and the same, but they will both be able to develop and to reach their full dimension if we respect the Creator and his creature in the human being and in nature."
