O Virgin Mary, Mother who never refuses to come to the help of your children in need, Mother whose hands never stop working for the welfare of your children, moved as they are by the loving mercy and kindness that exists in your Immaculate Heart, cast your compassionate and merciful eyes on me and see the snarl of knots that exists in my life.

Oh Mother! You know the difficulties, sorrow and pain that I've had because of them.

O loving Mother, I place the ribbon of my life and this knot into your loving hands, hands which can undo even the most difficult knot.

Most holy Mother, come to my aid and intercede for me before God with your prayers. I cast this knot into your hands the Chapter 11

Feastday: July 22
 Patron: of contemplative life, converts, glove makers, hairdressers, penitent sinners, people ridiculed for their piety, perfumeries, pharmacists, sexual temptation, tanners, women

St. Mary Magdalene is one of the greatest saints of the Bible and a legendary example of God's mercy and grace. The precise dates of her birth and death are unknown, but we do know she was present with Christ during his public ministry, death, and resurrection. She is mentioned at least a dozen times in the Gospels.

Mary Magdalene has long been regarded as a prostitute or sexually immoral in western Christianity, but this is not supported in the scriptures. It is believed she was a Jewish woman who lived among Gentiles, living as they did.

The Gospels agree that Mary was originally a great sinner. Jesus cast seven demons out of her when he met her. After this, she told several women she associated with, and these women also became followers.

There is some debate over whether Mary Magdalene is the same unnamed woman described as a sinner in the Gospel of John, who weeps and washes Jesus' feet with her hair. Whatever the truth, Mary Magdalene is generally depicted with a jar of oil or perfume.

Despite the scholarly dispute over her background, what she did in her subsequent life, after meeting

Jesus, is much more significant. She was certainly a sinner whom Jesus saved, giving us an example of how no person is beyond the saving grace of God.

During Jesus' ministry, it is believed that Mary Magdalene followed him, part of a semi-permanent entourage who served Jesus and his Disciples.

Mary likely watched the crucifixion from a distance along with the other women who followed Christ during His ministry. Mary was present when Christ rose from the dead, visiting his tomb to anoint his body only to find the stone rolled away and Christ, very much alive, sitting at the place they laid Him. She was the first witness to His resurrection.

After the death of Christ, she remained among the early Christians for about fourteen years. Then, according to legend, she was put into a boat by Jews, along with several other saints of the early Church, including Martha & Lazarus, and set adrift without sails or oars. The boat landed in southern France, where she spent the remaining years of her life living in solitude, in a cave.

St. Bridget (Brigitta) of Sweden

Feastday: July 23

Patron: of Sweden

Saint Birgitta was the daughter of Uppland's Lagman, Birger Petersson and his wife, Ingeborg, who was a member of the same clan as the reigning family. Birgitta's family was pious; her father went to confession every Friday and made long and arduous pilgrimages as far away as the Holy Land.

Birgitta's mother died, leaving Birgitta, ten years old, Katharine, nine and a newborn baby boy, Israel. The children were sent to their maternal aunt for further education and care. It seems that as a young child, Birgitta had a dream-vision of The Man of Sorrows. This dream was very vivid. Birgitta asked Him who had done that to Him. His answer: 'All those who despise my love.' The memory of this dream never left Birgitta and may have even left an indelible mark on her subconscious. As was usual during the Middle Ages, Birgitta was married when she was 13 years old to a young man, Ulf Gudmarsson with whom she had eight children, four daughters and four sons, all of them survived infancy, and that was very rare at that time.

When the King of Sweden, Magnus Eriksson married Blanche of Namur, he asked his kinswoman, Birgitta to come and be Lady-in-Waiting and to teach the young queen the language and customs of her new country. After her years of service at Court, Birgitta and Ulf made the long pilgrimage to Santiago de Compostela. On the return journey Ulf became dangerously ill in Arras. Birgitta feared for his death and sat all night by his bed praying, and then a bishop appeared to her, promised that Ulf would recover and 'God had great things for her to do.' He told her that he was Denis, Patron of France. Ulf recovered and was able to continue his work as Lagman in the province of Närke until early in the year 1344, when he was extremely ill, so Birgitta took him to the monks at Alvastra where he died and was buried. Birgitta remained in a little house near the abbey, and she spent long hours in prayer by Ulf's grave. She said that she 'loved him like my own body.' She arranged her affairs among her children and various charities and prayed for guidance. She was 41 years old and in the abbey at Alvastra, God called her 'be My Bride and My chana!'. He gave her the task of founding new religious order, mainly for women. He said that the other orders had fallen into decay and this new order would be a vineyard whose wine would revivify the Church. He showed her how her abbey church was to be built, gave directions concerning the clothing and prayers of the nuns, 60 in all, who needed priests as chaplains, 13 priests, 4 deacons and 8 lay brothers. These two communities were to be ruled by an abbess, who was to represent the Blessed Virgin Mary together with the Apostles in the Upper Room in Jerusalem.

King Magnus Eriksson donated a little palace and much land to the new monastery, but almost as soon as she had begun altering the palace and organizing the work, Christ appeared to her and asked her to go to Rome and wait there until she convinced the pope to return from France to Rome. Birgitta left Sweden at the end of 1349, never to return. For the rest of her life, she saw visions concerning the reform of the Church, received messages for kings and popes and many others in high places, directing them to work for the Church. It may be noted that Birgitta never wrote in the first person. She always said that she carried a message from a very High Lord. Although she had longed to become a nun, she never even saw the monastery in Vadstena. In fact, nothing she set out to do was ever completed during her lifetime. She never saw the Pope return to Rome permanently, she never managed to make peace between France and England, she never saw any nun in the habit that Christ had shown her, and she never returned to Sweden but died, far from home in July 1373, at the age of 70. She can be called the Patroness of Failures. In this she was like her Lord. He was also classed as failure as He hung on the Cross. Birgitta was a successful failure as she was canonized in 1391. Birgitta was the only woman to ever found a religious Order, Ordo Sanctissimi Salvatoris. It was never a double order (for men & women) but an order primarily for women with permanent chaplains, ruled by an abbess. The brothers had as their head, not a prior but a Confessor General who was responsible for the spiritual business of both convents.

NEWS FROM The Inland See

July 19–25, 2025

On June 27 the Catholic Media Association announced the winners of the 2025 Catholic Media Awards at their annual conference, held in Phoenix this year. The Diocese of Burlington earned nine awards with recognition given to past and present Vermont Catholic staff, development staff, and Bishop John McDermott.

Bishop John McDermott received two honors. Third place for “Best Diocesan Pastoral Message — Audio or Video” for his Christmas Message posted to Facebook (facebook.com/share/v/1G-FzH3ihEW/), for which the judges stated “Bishop McDermott’s singing was great! I appreciate the length, the simplicity and warmth of the message.” He also received second place for “Best Diocesan Pastoral Message — Letter” for an article published in the Inland See in which Bishop McDermott recounts how he received the news of being named bishop (vermontcatholic.org/wp-content/uploads/2024/05/2024.05.18-24.pdf).

Longtime Vermont Catholic editor and writer Cori Fugere Urban earned an honorable mention in the category of “Best Reporting on Vocations to Priesthood, Religious Life or Diaconate” for her article “Love in a Loaf: Sister Paul Mary Dreger Finds Peace Baking Bread, Receiving the Bread of Life.” Additionally, Alice Urban Lothers received an honorable mention in the category “Best Personality Profiles — Laity” for her article “Cori Fugere Urban reflects on 45 years as Diocese of Burlington Writer and Editor.”

The Fall 2024 Vermont Catholic issue

which covered the ordination and installation of Bishop John McDermott received second place for “Best Special Issue,” the judges stated “This is an excellent special issue with all parts outstanding.” Communications staff Mary-Margaret Mulligan and Alayna Fox received third place for “Best Social Media Campaign — Liturgical Seasons.” The campaign titled “Advent in Vermont” featured Vermont churches illuminated at night. Judges stated “This entry is simple but evocative of where hope and light can be found in a world that can seem dark and cold.”

To receive the award-winning Vermont Catholic magazine to your home for a year, make a donation of $24 or more to the Bishop’s Annual Appeal at bishopsappealvt.org.
