Una Mildred Fournet Daigre

1929-1999

This volume is dedicated to the memory of Una "Dunnie" Daigre, member of the staff of the Archives Department for over 25 years.

Her contributions to the conservation of the historical documents of the Diocese of Baton Rouge have been a large factor responsible for the excellent condition in which these materials are found today. At the same time she promoted the use of the documents in historical and genealogical research. It would be impossible to list all of the publications in which she is listed in the "thank you" statements that appear in the acknowledgements.

Her cheerful and helpful manner and her smile will be missed by the many people who have been helped by her. She will also be missed by her many correspondents in the United States and Canada who have often expressed a "thank you so much" to her by mail.

She will indeed be sorely missed by her fellow members of the Archives staff.

*"Thou art gone, alas, like the many that have bloomed in the summers of our hearts.
Shall we never more behold thee, never hear thy winning voice again,
When the springtime comes, when the wild flowers are scattered over the plain?"*

INTRODUCTION

This revised Volume 1a of the Diocese of Baton Rouge Catholic Church Records is possible today only as a result of the foresightedness and efforts of people who, beginning in 1960, realized the importance of the old church registers of the Diocese and began the work of preservation, organization and abstracting of the information.

Recognition and admiration of their dedication and efforts are universal among the people who are familiar with the 18 volumes that have been published. Contributors to this effort, which extended over many years, included Bishop Robert E. Tracy, Bishop Joseph V. Sullivan, Dr. Charles Nolan, Monsignor Gerald Lefebvre, Mrs. A. F. Ortis, Mrs. Marguerite Webb, Dr. Elizabeth Joan Doyle, Mrs. Nora Lee Clouatre Pollard, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Gianelloni; Judge J. Cleveland Frugé, Mrs. Una Fournet Daigre, Mrs. Louis Carville, Mrs. Rita L. Matherne, Mrs. Jay Hartley. Mrs. Peggy Davis, and Ms. Joyce Amedee. Judge Frugé proposed the publication of abstracts of the records in book form. The first printing of volume 1 in 1978 has been followed by an additional volume at yearly intervals. The books have been received enthusiastically by the public and demand has consistently increased year to year.

Sadly, during the final preparations for the publication of the revised Mines abstracts, Una Fournet Daigre died on May 21, 1999. This wonderful lady, who contributed so much to the activities of the Baton Rouge Catholic Archives over a period of 25 years, will be remembered by everyone who had the fortunate experience of knowing her cheerful and helpful approach to all who contacted her for assistance.

When the second printing of Volume 1 was exhausted, a decision was made to revise the volume to include the few corrections that have been found and to include some information that was omitted in the first printing. In order to have the Acadian records published in time for the Congrès Mondial Acadien in 1999, time constraints required that Volume 1 be split into two parts: the Acadian records of St. Charles aux Mines Parish in Acadia, and the records of St. Francis of Pointe Coupée. Hopefully, the latter, which will be Volume 1b - St. Francis of Pointe Coupée 1727-1769, will be available in early 2000.

There are three registers of the Parish of St. Charles aux Mines in Acadia that were carried to St. Gabriel by Acadian settlers. They cover the period 1707 to 1748. Baptisms, marriages and funerals were recorded together in these books. The first register, identified in the archives holdings as SGA-1, begins on August 14, 1707, and ends November 7, 1716. The second register, SGA-2, begins 3 June 1717, and ends July 3, 1739. The third register, SGA-3, covers the period from July 5, 1739, to November 10, 1748. There were other registers, but they did not survive. An excellent history of the various registers is given in the 1895 letters of Placide Gaudet to Rev. J. H. Raymond that are included in this volume as an appendix.

Additional information has not surfaced, to our knowledge, since 1978 on how the registers were carried from Acadia to Louisiana. For an excellent description of the expulsion of the Acadians from Mines, their exile in Maryland and their eventual migrations to Louisiana, see The Founding of New Acadia by Carl Brasseaux. It is probable that when the Acadians were imprisoned in the church at Grand Pré on September 5, 1755, and sent into exile a few days later, they managed to retrieve their church registers and carry them to Maryland. But during their exile in Maryland from 1755 to 1767, no sources make mention of the registers, and there were no entries made in the registers. Gregory A. Wood, in researching for his book Guide to the Acadians in Maryland in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries, made a thorough search for Acadian records during this period, but found no mention of the Mines or other registers. In his book Wood gives an excellent description of the unhappy life experienced by the Acadians during the period of exile in Maryland. From references to baptism records Acadians brought from Maryland to St. Gabriel, we know there were baptisms at St. Mary's Chapel in Baltimore. So it may be concluded that the three registers were probably in Maryland, but were well hidden. It is assumed, again without proof by documentation, that the registers were carried from Baltimore by the Acadians when they came to Louisiana on an English schooner arriving in New Orleans on July 12, 1767. Only one entry was ever made in the registers outside of Acadia, one made on June 29, 1773. That date was not a Sunday. Perhaps the registers were in possession of the Allain family and a visiting priest made the baptism entry at their request.

For this revised Volume 1a new abstracts were made of all entries. These were compared with the abstracts made for the first printing and also with a microfilm of a transcription that was made in late 1895 or early 1896. The 1895 letters of Placide Gaudet in the appendix describe the contacts between him and Rev. Raymond that led to the preparation of the transcription, which was handwritten and in French. The transcription belongs to the Public Archives of Canada. Where there are differences in the interpretations made in these three different readings of an entry, a careful review of the entry in the register was made and hopefully led to a more correct interpretation than was made in 1895 or 1978.

The registers are in a deteriorated condition and further deterioration is evident between 1895 and 1978, and between 1978 and 1998. In some instances characters that were readable in 1895 are no longer legible in 1998 or are missing entirely. These characters have been included in the revised Volume 1b, but are identified by underlining.

The survival of the original church at St. Gabriel that was built by the Acadian settlers in 1772-1774 and is the oldest church structure in the Mississippi Valley today is as remarkable as the survival of the Mines registers. David Broussard's contribution in providing the history of the church that is included in this volume is appreciated.

Redoing the abstracts has been a challenging and time-consuming process, but it has been an enjoyment rather than a task. As one reads through the entries, often of marriages followed by baptisms of the children years later, one gets a feeling for the satisfaction for life in Acadia that these people must have felt. And the depth of the tragedy that followed with their expulsion sinks in more deeply than ever.

To work with these priceless, historical documents has been a privilege. I would like to dedicate my efforts to the memory of my wonderful mother, Aimée Marguerite Allain, a descendant of the St. Gabriel Acadians.

Explanatory Notes

Surname Spellings

The spelling of surnames varies widely in the registers. Spellings used by the priest have been used in the abstracts even where they differ from signatures. The reason for this is that signatures are not consistent except in the case of a few surnames. Pierre Allain always signed clearly and with that spelling. The Terriot brothers, Pierre Thibeaudeau and some others also signed consistently. But most signatures varied considerably. One that is particularly troublesome is Bugeauld, which can be found spelled several different ways in the same entry.

Capitalization

In the entries many of the names of people and places have been written without capitalization of the first letter. These have been capitalized in the abstracts for appearance and ease of reading.

Witnesses, Sponsors and Signatures

Names are often given twice in an entry, once in the body of the entry written by the priest and again as a signature at the bottom of the entry. The spellings often differ.

The following practices have been followed in an effort to give abstracts that are representative of the actual entries, yet easy to use. Names given by the priest as witnesses or sponsors are included in the abstract. If the same people signed the entry this is indicated by an (s) following the name, or by a {+} included in the name in the location in which the {+} is placed in the entry. Examples are:

R. LeBlanc (s) - indicating that this signature is in the entry.

Pierre {+} LeBlanc indicating that there is in the entry a signature entered as "marque de Pierre {+} LeBlanc"

If no {+} or (s) is included, the name was included in the entry by the priest.

If the name of a person is entered by the priest and also entered as a marque or signature, it is shown as a marque or signature unless there is a difference between the two. In that case it is shown as in the following example:

R. LeBlanc (s) (priest writes Rene Leblanc)

The {+} was usually placed before the name or between the first and surname, but rarely at the end of the name. In a few cases a marque other than {+} was used. Some of these are shown where the font used permits. Examples are: {A} and {M}.

Included in witnesses are the witnesses at weddings and burials. Sponsors includes only the godfather and godmother in baptisms. Also included under witnesses are people other than the godparents who signed the baptism entries. Under signatures, in the case of marriages, the bride and groom are included where they signed with a marque or signature.

Place Names

No effort has been made to identify place names or church parishes except for well-known names such as France, England, etc. Experience has been that efforts to identify places from poorly written place names, without a substantial amount of research, often leads to error. Therefore this identification is left to the user of the abstracts.

An effort has been made to spell place names exactly as priests wrote them. Thus, the same place may have several different spellings, even Port Royale, for example. Place names are italicized to show that the spelling in the entry has been retained. Names of church parishes have also been retained with the priests' spellings and in French.

French Accent Marks

The priests were not consistent in the use of French accent marks. In the abstracts efforts have been made to show the marks as they were entered into the registers. Exceptions were made to this practice in the case of some frequent names in which the intent of the priests was to use the marks. For example, Hébert is usually written thus, and so Hébert is consistently used in the abstracts. The same is true of Melançon.

Use of French Language in Abstracts

Some French words have been retained in the abstracts where it was felt that they may provide more correct information or would be difficult to translate. An excellent example is ondoyer, which refers to a simple baptism in which only the essential rite was performed without the other rites and prayers that provided the usual complete formal ceremony. There is no simple English translation for ondoyé. Margaret Kimball Brown and Lawrie

Cena Dean, in The Village of Chartres in Colonial Illinois (1977), discuss the use of ondoyer. Other words that may have different shades of meaning in French are retained. Examples are: fils, père, vieux and vielle. Some common words have been retained in French in order to provide continuity. Examples: are de, du, le, la. A glossary of French words and their meanings is provided after these notes. In a few instances phrases in French have been retained in the abstracts where a meaningful translation could not be construed.

Use of "8" to Indicate an Indian Expression

The character "8" is used several times to indicate a sound in the Indian language that cannot be expressed in French characters. Brown and Dean and Natalia Maree Belting in Kaskaskia Under the French Regime discuss this use. Brown and Dean note that "8" was used as a phonetic symbol to indicate a "w" sound of the Illinois language. Belting states that French priests used "8" to indicate a sound in the Indian language, sometimes translated as "ou."

The same numbers have been used as in the past. There are three registers: SGA-1, SGA-2, and SGA-3. SGA-1, 32 indicates page number 32 of register number one of the St. Gabriel Catholic Church Parish at St. Gabriel, Louisiana. The page numbers are the same as used in the past. They are not in date sequence.

Illegible Characters

Poorly written characters that can not be read are indicated by dashes. Where the characters are missing or damaged by an ink blot or there is a missing part of a page, it is indicated by dashes followed by an explanation in parenthesis or brackets. Examples follow:

Marie —(illegible), indicates illegible characters, number not known.
spo. Aman Bu---- (s), indicates illegible characters, four in number.
habitant de -----it, indicates illegible characters, six in number.
(Germain Hébert and ---[water stain]), number of characters not known.
Pierre Doucet; ---(page torn) Leblanc, number of characters not known.

international boundary between England and Spain. The exiles arrived at the fort on August 18, 1767. They arrived in ragged clothes, starving, malnourished and sick, hardly prepared for the difficult tasks and harsh tropical climate that awaited them in Louisiana.

Letters from the commandant of the fort, Joseph de Oñieta, describes the conditions faced by the settlers. On September 23, Oñieta wrote, "The heavy rains, the harsh sun and the great fickleness of the weather has been cause for some sickness among the Acadians, but it is diminishing, thank God."

The Old St. Gabriel Church has stood as a monument to those early Acadian exiles. A 1770 decree of the newly installed Spanish Governor, Alejandro O'Reilly, and the Vicar-General of the Church Diocese, Father Dagobert, called for the construction of churches at all of the Acadian settlements. The St. Gabriel Church was ordered built "At the Establishment of the Acadians on the Iberville Coast."

A letter to Governor Luis Unzaga from the commandant of the Iberville District, Louis Dutisné, dated December 1774 notes, "The habitants have begun the construction of the church on November 20. The church is 60 feet long by 33 1/2 feet across. The one selected, Louis LeConte, habitant of La Fourche has taken on the job for a sum of 1450 piastres." The commandant also describes how the settlers agreed to tax themselves to pay the master builder's fee. Other letters indicate that the settlers also agreed to provide labor towards the construction of the church and were paid by the Spanish colonial government for their services.

The dimensions given by the commandant, "60 feet long by 33 1/2 feet across," mark the core of the building. The core is the building minus its galleries (derived from the French term for porches). The core is what remains today in addition to the tall tower and steeple at the front of the building and a slight extension to the rear of the building which were added about 1870.

The church's building materials and construction methods were analyzed in 1991-94 by prying and peeling back the surfaces. Contained within the walls are what architectural historians call the bones of the building. These structural members provide first-hand information to help form a complete picture of what the church originally looked like when constructed in the 18th century.

What emerged from the hidden and uncovered building material details is a picture that fits a pattern of building practices in colonial Louisiana which has come to be called Creole architecture. This vernacular style is reflective of a European tradition confronted and changed by the effects of a subtropical environment on building materials. The practical considerations of colonial conditions also influenced the design elements as did the confluence of cultures such as African, Caribbean, French and Spanish occurring in the tropics.

The defining element of Creole architecture is the protective gallery. About 70% of original building material remains of the St. Gabriel Church. Mostly missing is the surrounding gallery, which accounts for the dramatic difference in appearance today. The original church form with its roof extensions shielding the body of the building characterizes the harsh conditions that confronted the early inhabitants of Louisiana and that certainly took a toll on the weary immigrants, particularly the elderly. Many died during the journey or within their first year in the Louisiana colony.

The building's massive hand-hewn timbers, mortise-and-tenoned joinery and Norman truss roof system comprise a type of handmade construction that evolved in Europe over centuries. It is displayed within the walls and under the roof of the St. Gabriel Church and exemplifies the concluding period of this type of medieval building process just prior to the dawning of the machine age. Its cypress beams and boards bear skillful impressions from the tools of its pioneer builders.

Archival documents from the Spanish occupancy reveal events leading up to the construction of the church. In 1771, the governor urges the commandant and settlers to get going with the construction of the church. The commandant in a January 1772 letter, notifies the governor of the near completion of the presbytere, which was built first and used temporarily as the church. The governor admonishes them for not building the church first which he calls essential.

That January 1772 letter from the commandant to the governor puts the building of the church in perspective with other aspects of living in colonial Louisiana. Commandant Dutisné noted that land had been distributed to all of the settlers, that all were satisfied and that 27 houses had been framed up (There were about 85 land assignments at this time). Dutisné also said that as soon as the settlers were finished sowing seeds for crops, the construction of the church would begin.

It must be noted that there has long been a myth associated with the Old St. Gabriel Church that it had been moved from a different location to its present tract of land. This is just not true. All the archival evidence tells precisely of its construction at the present tract of land. The site was changed before construction was begun, which could possibly account in part for this myth. Or possibly the fact that the building was moved back from the ever-encroaching Mississippi River on its same tract of land might have contributed to such a tale. Apparently, this story was begun in the late 1890's with an article published in a New Orleans newspaper. The St. Gabriel Church was apparently confused with the St. Bernard Church built on Bayou Manchac at Galveztown. The mistaken story has been repeated ever since.

The Old St. Gabriel Church, as first constructed, illustrates what was required of those early settlers, builders and developers of the new Louisiana colony. The 18th century church conveys its Old World origins and traditions along with its New World inspiration and determination. By 1770, Louisiana's French designers and engineers were finally figuring out how to build in the humid climate. The earliest form of Louisiana's colonial architecture was emerging and was characterized by a double-pitched roof line along with the protective gallery. The St. Gabriel Church exemplifies the earliest form of Creole architecture.

Commandant Dutisné wrote on September 27, 1776, "The church of this parish is finished and recognized as perfect until the approval of Monsieur [Louis] Andry, who has been called to do the inspection."

Andry was a veteran military engineer, general surveyor, state engineer and state superintendent of roads. The letter implies that Andry is the architect of the St. Gabriel Church. The design of the St. Martin de Tours church at the Attakapas District, which was built at the same time as the St. Gabriel Church, is also attributed to him. An 1826 drawing of the St. Martin Church shows that it closely resembles what is known about the 18th century appearance of the St. Gabriel Church.

The evidence of Andry as architect, as well as LeConte as builder, suggests that Louisiana's emerging colonial building style was given formal direction from state authorities and professional experts.

Over the life of historic buildings, particularly in the hot and humid Louisiana climate, exterior elements of the building deteriorate and need to be replaced. In the case of the St. Gabriel Church, apparently most of the galleries were removed sometime during the first quarter of the 19th century, perhaps in conjunction with a rolling back of the building from the Mississippi. Once the galleries were removed, further damage ensued to the building's wide 1 X 12 cypress siding which became more exposed to the sun and rain.

By the time the Old Church was renovated in about 1870, most of the exterior building material was in need of repair or replacement. Besides that, architecture is always busy keeping pace with the changes of lifestyle, morality and culture. French vernacular was no longer appreciated. The Gothic Idiom styling that the church would take on had become the popular standard of the day.

By 1953, the parishioners of St. Gabriel would finally build a new church. In the tower of that modern church rings the historic bell from the parish's old church. The inscription on the bell reads Santa Maria de Merce ora pro nobis (Holy Mary of Mercy pray for us) Se hizo siendo Comendador el M.R.P.I. Ygnacio de Jesus Maria, Ano de 1768 (Commissioned to be made by the MRPI Ignacius of Jesus Maria, in the year 1768).

As the oldest surviving church structure of the Mississippi River Valley and the only colonial church in Louisiana, the Old St. Gabriel Church is one of the rarest historical and architectural monuments in the state. It serves as a reminder of Spain's staunch and committed theocratic rule of Louisiana and the Catholic Church's influence with 18th century European colonizing powers.

The remains of its Creole architectural form reflect the blending of European tradition with colonial inspiration which took place along the Gulf Coast and in the Mississippi River Valley.

And finally, the Old Church stands as a monument to its Acadian builders. It marks the Acadian migration to Louisiana as well as the culture's cohesiveness, self-sufficiency and endurance.

1895 LETTERS FROM REVEREND PLACIDE P. GAUDET TO THE PASTOR OF ST. GABRIEL PARISH

The originals of these three letters have been stored for many years with the three old registers of St. Charles aux Mines in Acadia. Written in French, the letters deal with requests by Reverend Gaudet for information on various entries in the registers. In particular, he requests information on many people with the surname LeBlanc.

The information in the letters was, without a doubt, published elsewhere by Placide Gaudet. But it is interesting to see all of it in one place and written in a personal vein by one with an intense dedication to his subject. The abilities and the interest of Placide Gaudet in the history of his Acadian people that led to his becoming a prominent genealogist over a century ago are well demonstrated by these letters.

Of particular interest is his coverage of the numerous priests who served at Mines and of the various registers, both existing and missing in the 1890's, that covered the period prior to the expulsion of the Acadians from their homeland.

The letters are in excellent condition. It is possible that they have not been read by anyone since they were received at St. Gabriel in 1895 except perhaps by Bona Arsenault when he visited Baton Rouge many years ago.

Eventually a transcription of the three registers of St. Charles aux Mines was made in French and sent to Canada. This is the transcription that is mentioned in the introduction to this publication. Although the exact date of the transcription has not been found in any of the documents in the Baton Rouge Catholic Archives, it is referred to in this Volume 1a as the 1895 transcription.

The spellings of many place names and church parishes have been retained as written by Placide Gaudet and are in italics to highlight them. Also, words underlined are as underlined in the original letters.

The letters were first transcribed in French, and this translation was made from the French transcription. There are a few holes in some pages and a few words are difficult to read. In this translation some French words are included in parenthesis where there may possibly be a shade of meaning different from the one selected. Words in French are in italics.

The translation from the French was made by John J. Pastorek. A copy of the transcription in French can be obtained by writing to the Archives Department, Diocese of Baton Rouge.

First Letter

Weymouth Bridge, Digby Co. N. S.,
14 April 1895

To the Pastor of the Parish of St. Gabriel of Iberville, Louisiana, U. S.

My Dear Pastor,

I have been occupied over 20 years in making a genealogical dictionary of each Acadian family of the maritime provinces. It is a huge work that requires a patience of consecration. For the families whose ancestors were natives of Port Royal, today Annapolis, 40 miles from here, I succeeded in tracing their ancestry with the help of the census lists of Acadia under the French rule and of the registers of Port Royal, of which there are two volumes conserved at Halifax, one for 1703-1726, the other for 1726-1754. But for those people who inhabited the Bassin des Mines before the deportation of 1755 it is more difficult. Up to the present all that I have had to guide me have been the old census lists and the registers of Belle Isle-en-Mer.

I know, however, that in the archives of the Parish of St. Gabriel of Iberville are three old registers of the Parish of St-Charles, de Grand Pré, aux Mines in Acadia. The first contains the entries of baptisms, marriages and burials for the years 1707 to 1710, the 2nd relates to the years 1717 to 1739, and the 3rd to 1739 to 1748.

There was a proposal (question) last year in our federal parliament of voting money to do a transcription of these registers, and since I have been for many years used by the Bureau of the Archives at Ottawa in these types of work I was designated to have been the transcriber. For the present this matter is at rest.

The Acadian family that is the most difficult to trace since the branches are so numerous is that of the LeBlancs.

Two distinct LeBlanc families came to Acadia. The first, that of Daniel LeBlanc, spouse of Françoise Gaudet, immigrated to Port Royal in 1650. Four sons of this Daniel LeBlanc were among the first colonists of Grand Pré, namely:

Jacques I, born 1651, and husband of Catherine Hébert,
René I, born 1657, and husband of Anne Bourgeois,
Andre I, born 1659, and husband of Marie Dugas, Antoine I, born 1662, and husband of Marie Bourgeois.

Of two other sons of Daniel, only one, Pierre I born 1664, made roots at Port Royal; the other, Etienne, born 1656, died unmarried (celibataire) before 1686. Pierre I first married in 1685, Marie Terriot, of whom he had Pierre II, born in 1686; this one later settled at Mines with his uncles, and there will be more about him later (in this letter).

Pierre I wed in his second marriage with Madeleine Bourg and had a large number of children of which one, Charles, born at Port Royal, 26 September 1716, was among the first colonists of Baie Ste-Marie, where he died 30 September 1805, leaving a numerous progeny.

The other LeBlanc who came to establish roots in Acadia is sergeant Pierre LeBlanc dit Jasmin son of Jacques LeBlanc and Marguerite Mazare. He married at Port Royal 10 October 1708 Marie Triel of whom he had François-Pierre, born 9 July 1709. This same Pierre, père, married a second time 24 October 1712 Catherine Pinet, des Mines, where he went to settle after his marriage.

I have not been able up to the present to discover the names of the children of this second marriage, nor with whom François-Pierre, born of the 1st marriage, married about 1730 and who were his children. This should be easy to find with the help of your old registers of Grand Pré, and it is to obtain this information and other (information) later that I have taken the respectful liberty to write to you.

There are here at Baie Ste-Marie, a large number of LeBlancs. Some, as I have said above descend from Charles LeBlanc, son of Pierre I, and the others have as their root one named Pierre LeBlanc, born at Grand Pré, about 1721, and died 6 July 1799 at Church Point, ten miles from here, where he was the first colonist. He married Marie-Madeleine Babin, whom he married between the years 1740 to 1747 and from this union there were ten children.

This family claims (pretend) to not be related with the other LeBlancs here and this leads me to suppose that they could well be descended from Pierre LeBlanc dit Jasmin.

The marriage entry of Pierre LeBlanc, who died at Church Point in 1799, with Marie-Madeleine Babin should be found in the third volume of the registers of Grand Pré and I would like to have a complete transcription. That done it would be a matter of finding the marriage entry of the father and mother of this same Pierre LeBlanc, whose names I do not know, but the marriage entry of the latter will make that known, after which I desire to obtain the baptism entries of all their children, that is to say of the brothers and sisters of Pierre LeBlanc, husband of Marie-Madeleine Babin, likewise the entries of their marriages.

Who knows if the father of this Pierre, first colonist of Church Point, is not another Pierre LeBlanc born in 1684, son of René I and of Anne Bourgeois. This last Pierre settled at Grand Pré and he is the brother of René II, notary of Mines, celebrated by Longfellow. He must have married around 1706 or 1707, but I do not know with whom nor who were his children.

It is also possible that Pierre LeBlanc, who died at Church Point in 1799, may be the son of Pierre II born at Port Royal in 1686, of the 1st marriage of Pierre I with Marie Terriot. This Pierre II, in that case, he would have been age 21 at the time of his marriage that must have been contracted in 1707 with Jeanne Terriot. As I said earlier, Pierre II went to settle with his uncles at Grand Pré. Paul, one of his sons, born in 1712, married at Port Royal, 7 November 1735 to Madeleine Richard, age 22 years.

It has been seen that (on a vu que) the oldest son of the root Daniel LeBlanc, and of Françoise Gaudet, was named Jacques I, and that he married Catherine Hébert. Now, the oldest son of these last two is Jean I, born in 1674 and married about 1696 to Marguerite Richard. Eight children were born of this union namely:

Jean II, husband of Marie Terriot, died and also his wife at Falmouth, England, leaving many children.

Anne, married Joseph Boudreau about 1722 and of this union were born at Grand Pré seven children of whom the oldest saw the light of day in 1724.

Marguerite, I have not been able to discover with whom she married but your registers will tell me that.

Pierre, married Anne Terriot; he was deported to the English colonies with his wife and his children, then after the peace of 1763 he went to settle near Montreal, where he died leaving ten children.

Michel; I have not been able to discover whom he married, but I count on your old registers to learn that item.

Joseph: " " " " " ,

Jacques: " " " " " ,

Charles, married about 1740 to Madeleine Vincent and of this union were born, I believe, four sons of which one, Charles, saw the light of day at Rivière des Gaspareaux, at Mines, in 1747. I would like to have the marriage entry of Charles LeBlanc with Madeleine Vincent and the baptism entries of all their children. This Charles was transported to Philadelphia with his wife and his children in the autumn of 1755. In April 1757 he was arrested with four other proscribed Acadians on the order of Lord Loudon, then put with his companions on board a vessel and sent to England where all five were placed on board a warship and then never returned (to their country).

Now, good Pastor, I am counting on your benevolence to provide me with a complete transcription in order to do the needed research and to transcribe the entries required above. I would also like to know what the amount of money will be for this work. Not being wealthy and likewise not short of money (N'étant point riche et même beaucoup à la gêne), I am not able therefore to pay a high price, but I am agreeable to something reasonable.

In the course of the summer I will send to press a book of 400 pages titled: Les Acadiens de la baie Ste-Marie, Nouvelle Ecosse, and I want to include therein the entries mentioned in this letter relative to the LeBlancs.

In expectation of the pleasure of your response to my too long a letter, I have the honor to be,

Dear Pastor,
Very respectfully,
Your very humble and very obedient servant,

Placide P. Gaudet (s)

Second Letter

27 May 1895

Monsieur l'abbé J. H. Raymond
Pastor of St. Gabriel, Iberville, Louisiana

Dear Pastor,

I am very grateful to you for your willingness to want to do the research that I have requested. It is not necessary to copy the entries in detail, the following patterns that I have adopted in copying the old registers of the parish of St-Jean Baptiste de Port Royal will be sufficient for me.

"M-6 June 1707, marriage of François Raymond, son of Claude Raymond and of Marguerite Morgan, natives of Dorac, Parish of La Marche, with Ann Comeau, daughter of Pierre Comeau, l'aîné dit Lestourgeon, and of Jeanne Bourg, of the Parish of St-Jean-Baptiste

fr. Justine - Durand, recollet

Or yet this other form for the marriages, which I prefer to the proceeding one.

"M.- 23 October 1730, marriage of Jean Baptiste Raymond, age 20 years, son of François Raymond and of Anne Comeau, of this Parish (St. Jean Bte) with Marie Josephe Mius (d'Entremont) age 24 years, daughter of deceased Joseph Mius and of Marie Amirault, also of the aforesaid parish. Done in the presence of Denis Petitot dit St Seine, chirurgien major, of François Raymond, father of the groom, of Joseph Amirault, of Charles Michel, brother of Jacques."

"René Charles de Breslay"

For the baptisms:

B. "François Raymond, born and baptized 13 December 1731, son of Jean Bte Raymond and of Marie Joseph Mius
Ant. Gaulin"

B. Alexandre-François d'Amours, born 28 and baptized 30 October 1702, son of sieur Bernard d'Amour and of Jeanne LeBorgne de Bellisle. Godfather le sieur Alexandre LeBorgne de Bellisle, godmother noble dame Françoise Saupin dit de la Batte.

F. Felix Pain, recollet chaplain performing the pastoral functions."

For the burials:

S. "26 October 1702 died Charles Robichaud, son of Charles Cadet and was buried the same day in the cemetery of St-Jean Baptiste by me Brother Felix Pain, recollet performing the pastoral functions and chaplain of the fort.
Felix Pain recollet"

This form is poor since the age is not given nor the name of the mother of the deceased, and the following is preferable:

S. "4 April 1736, burial of Marie Brun, wife of Abraham Bourg (Bourque), died yesterday, age 75 years.
Chauvreulx (Claude Jean Baptiste)

Or another:"

"Marie Bourque buried 19 September 1730 in the cemetery above the river, died the same day, age about 86 years, wife of deceased Vincent Breau. Witnesses Jean Breau, his son, and Prudent Robichaud, Jr., one of the deputies."

R. C. Breslay

There are only two baptism entries that I would like to have in detail if you find them, they are those of Pierre LeBlanc, husband of Madeleine Babin, and of Charles LeBlanc, born about 1747, son of Charles LeBlanc and of Madeleine Vincent. It would be satisfactory to put all of them in a row on a single sheet of paper.

From the preceding you can see, Dear Pastor, that I am familiar with the writing of the old missionaries and their procedure of entering the acts into the registers. The marriage entries are the longer and there is more (time needed) to finish them. I have often had much difficulty understanding their writing and I agree that it is a Herculean task that appears to frighten you since I have myself spent entire months and I might add years to do these searches in some old registers in which the writing could almost be termed unreadable. I was employed three years by the Ministry of Agriculture at Ottawa to copy in the various Acadian parishes the older registers after the expulsion. Last summer found me at Bathurst at the baie des Chaleurs north of New Brunswick, the pastor of the parish employed me for fifteen days to research and abstract about 200 entries of baptism, marriage and burial relating to the Degrace family. A list more or less incomplete of the names found was given to the pastor without including the dates. Anyone other than a genealogist would have taken many months to do this work that the pastor did not want to undertake. It was necessary for me to search through a period of almost 100 years of registers also badly cared for as yours although not as old. For a period of over 40 years the marriage entries made by Irish priests gave only the names of the parties married, also the names of the fathers and mothers were omitted. Yet it was necessary to establish the relationship and I succeeded in doing that. Do you know how much I received for this huge work, twenty-five *centins*¹ for each entry. The charge of the pastor was fifty centins per entry and he offered me half before undertaking the work. Although the work was hard and I dedicated on average twelve hours per day - still I did with the rate of 25 cts. per entry payable daily (des journées payantes).

I give you these details to help you understand how surprised I was to learn that you believe that $2.00 for each entry would not be unreasonable. I expected to offer you 50 centins per entry, the highest charge asked by the pastors in the Dominion of Canada, but since you are asking for two dollars, I will have to go with your decision, and agree to that amount. I admit, frankly, that price appears to me exorbitant. Nevertheless, I am willing to pay you that, since I must have the entries requested and also others that I will mention later on, and on receipt of the exact number of entries that you have found and abstracted I will hasten to send to you the amount of money that is due you. That done let's now speak of the various missionaries who have served the bassin des Mines.

The parish of St-Charles of Grand-Prée was 60 miles from that of Port-Royal; 10 from that of St-Joseph of the Riviere-aux-Canards; 12 from that of Assomption of Pigiquit; 15 from that of Ste-Famille of Pigiquit; 54 from that of St. Pierre et Paul de Cobéguit. During a number of years all these parishes (except that of Port Royal and that of Beaubassin) had formed a single one under the name of St-Charles des Mines.

The first resident missionary at Mines appears to me to have been the abbé Jean-François de St-Cosme, native (originaire) of Québec, where he was ordained 2 February 1690. He was found to be stationed at Mines in 1691, perhaps he had arrived there shortly after his ordination. He was still there in June 1697, but he had left by the following year. From his departure in 1698 until 1700 the inhabitants of Mines were without a priest.

M. de Brouillan, governor of Acadia, in a letter to the minister dated 21 October 1702, complains of the pastor of Mines, Father Bonaventure Masson, récollet, who arrived in 1700. It was he who replaced abbé St-Cosme in charge of St-Charles du bassin des Mines, and he served it until the spring of 1711 when he went to Port Royal to replace Father Justinien Durand, who was carried off as prisoner to Boston. He was however to return to Mines 7 September 1711, since at that date he wrote from that place to M. de Vaudreuil, governor of Canada that "the inhabitants are accustomed to the English, who have permitted them to live in peace (laisser en repos)."

Father Felix Pain, former chaplain of the fort at Port Royal, was with him at Mines after the capitulation of Port Royal to Nicholson 13 October 1710. He also wrote from Mines, 8 September 1711 that the English had treated the Acadians with much humanity and that their misery was great." He will always support (Il entretiendra), he adds, the inhabitants in the fidelity that they owe (doivent) to the king of France." Father Felix Pain remained at Mines until in 1713, when he went to take the post of Beaubassin, and he retained that until in 1716, then he returned to Grand Prée and remained there until mid September 1724, when the Council of Annapolis moved him (l'eü chassa) to place there Father Isidore, a priest affected by (frappé d') interdiction. The latter had been placed by the same council at the post of Assomption of Pigiguit in the month of February of the same year. He was replaced at the parish of St-Charles by the Abbé Antoine Gaulin, former missionary to the Indians (sauvages), in Acadia as well as at Cap Breton. I think that his signature will be found in your registers from the summer of 1725, but that which is certain is that the Council of Annapolis, after having detained him many weeks, perhaps some months, gave him his liberty 21 November 1726 and assigned him the post of Mines, where he had to remain until the spring of 1731 when he left for Port-Royal. At this last date there were a resident priest at Pigiguit and another at Grand Prée. The first resident priest at Pigiguit after the departure of Father Isidore for St. Charles, in September 1724, was according to all appearances the Abbé Jean Baptiste Breau, who must have been there from 1728 to the beginning of 1730. He was replaced there by the abbé Noël Alexandre de Noinville du Glefien from spring of 1730 to autumn 1731. In the spring of 1730, abbé Charles de la Goudalie took the post of pastor of St. Charles at Grand Prée and he remained there eighteen years, that is to say until the summer of the autumn of 1748 when due to his advanced age and his deafness he was obliged to return to France. He had as successor at Grand Prée abbé Claude Jean Baptiste Chauvreulx, who remained there until 4 August 1755 when the English abducted (enleverent) him and carried him away prisoner to Halifax.

M. de Noinville was replaced at Pigiguit by abbé Louis Maufils in late autumn 1732 and he was still there in May 1735. He had for successor abbé Claude Jean Bte Chauvreulx from spring 1737 to autumn 1748, when he went to replace abbé de la Goudalie at Grand Prée.

Until 1740, there had not yet been a resident priest at St-Joseph of the Riviere-aux-Canards and it was abbé Jean Baptiste Desenclaves to whom fell the honor to be the first pastor. He remained there from 1740 until the beginning of the summer of 1742 when he went to take the post of Port Royal and he remained there until the spring of 1754. He was replaced at Riviere-aux-Canards by abbé Miniac, archdeacon and Vicar General of the Diocese of Québec. This missionary was sent to Acadia with abbé Girard by the Bishop of Québec. He departed Québec 16 September and did not arrive to the country of Evangeline until mid November 1742 where they disembarked at Chibouctou, today Halifax, and from there they set out to reach Mines. Abbé Girard was not able to go further than Cobéguit, where lived abbé Le Loutre, missionary of the Indians (sauvages), and abbé Miniac went on to find abbé de la Goudalie at Grand Prée. The Council of Annapolis, on learning in the month of December of the arrival of these two priests, gave them permission to remain in the country until the following spring, but prohibited them from exercising their pastoral functions. But in the spring of 1743, M. Miniac went to (se présente à) Annapolis and after giving explanations Mascarène assigned him as pastor of Riviere-aux-Canards and named the abbé to the post of Cobeguit, a responsibility that the latter kept until his removal by the English in March 1750 when they sent him to Halifax, where he was detained until June 5 of the same year.

Abbé Miniac remained pastor of riviere-aux-Canards until 1748 when he returned to France at the same time as M. de la Goudalie. Now after M. Girard was set free 5 June 1750, Cornwallis assigned him the pastorate of riviere-aux-Canards now two years vacant. He had remained there only one year when this time he was carried off in April by three Indians (sauvages) and the inhabitants of riviere-aux-Canards were again without a priest until autumn 1753 when abbé Le Maire was given them. This last one served this parish until 10 August 1755 when the English carried him away.

In the summer of 1753 there arrived at Grand Prée coming directly from France a missionary named abbé Daudin bearing a letter dated Paris 30 March 1753 coming from abbé l'Isle-Dieu, who recommended M. Daudin for a pastoral post in Acadia. This letter was addressed to Governor Cornwallis and M. Daudin was not long in getting the letter to him. On 29 August Cornwallis and his council gave their approval to the matter of abbé Daudin and gave him permission to practice the ministry for (durant) six months with abbé Chauvreulx at Grand Prée. Some weeks later the inhabitants of the parishes of l'Assomption and of Ste-Famille, who had been without a priest since the departure of abbé Chauvreulx for Grand Prée in the autumn of 1748, sent a request to Cornwallis to give them abbé Daudin as pastor and the governor gave his consent. M. Daudin then went to take the post at Pigiguit in the autumn of 1753, and on 11 October 1754 the English removed him and took him away prisoner to Halifax, where he was detained until November 1st, and after that he was permitted to go to resume his position at Port Royal, but it was only for a brief period. The inhabitants of Port Royal were without a priest since the departure of their pastor abbé Desenclaves around the month of June 1754 for Cap de Sable, which is 90 miles distant, and Cornwallis finally at their request sent them M. Daudin. He went to take charge of the parish of Port Royal in late autumn 1754 and remained until 6 August 1755, (when) captured, while saying mass that he was allowed to complete (enlevé, en disant la messe qu'on lui laissa achever), and taken to Halifax, where he was detained along with his two colleagues from Mines, the abbès Chauvreulx and Le Maire, until the end of October, when they were taken to England by Admiral Boscawen, from where they went to France.

I believe that these details about the former missionaries of the bassin des Mines would perhaps interest you. These words are entirely unpublished and you would never be able to have an idea of the amount of work that it has taken me. It is certainly fifteen years that I have been working. You are the first to have it (Vous en avez donc le primeure). Now, since you are going to do the research in your old registers, I would like for you to look and to note to send me soon the first and the last signatures of each missionary whose names are found signed in the registers of

Grand Prée.

The 1st volume is, as abbé Cosgrain said in the 2nd, in the 2nd Acadie, put with that of Beaubassin and held (conservé) at Québec. The 2nd volume must have been also made part of the 2nd of Beaubassin, started in the summer of 1686 by abbe Pierre Volant de Saint Claude. But what has become of it and all of the others of Beaubassin and of the district of Beausejour until 1755, is still a mystery. Perhaps one fine day someone will learn where they may be found as well as those of Pigiguit, of Rivière-Aux-Canards and of Cobeguit. The 3rd register of Mines must have been commenced in 1691 by abbé St-Cosme perhaps was destroyed with the church that the English pillaged and burned in July 1704. Le 4th must have been commenced in 1700 by Peré Bonaventure Masson and lacks a suitable cover the first and last pages had (un couvert couvenable les premiers et derniers feuillets eu) have separated and are therefore lost; that explains why your oldest volume does not include 1707 to 1710. It lacks seven years at the beginning and also seven years at the end. The 5th volume, which is your 2nd appears to me intact. & also the 6th which finished in 1748, The 7th commenced in the autumn of 1748 by M. Chauvreulx and continued until the beginning of the month of August 1755 has perhaps also escaped destruction and who knows it may come to pass that it will be found. Until the autumn of 1892 I was not aware, despite the research that I had made for some fifteen years, that three of the registers of Grand Prée were in Louisiana. It was not through the book of abbé Cosgrain that I learned of the existence of your old registers, I knew about it more than a year before him and Monsignor Tanguay. I am able to let you know that perhaps that these registers were on the point of being sent to the Archdiocese of Halifax in 1888, but I will skip that subject for the present.

If it is not an indiscretion on my part, I would like to know the name of the person who requested the registers of the family of Pierre LeBlanc. It is not surprising that "realizing that you were fighting a losing battle, you abandoned the research." ("de guerre lasse vous ayez abandonné les recherches.") Actually Pierre LeBlanc must have married Marie Madeleine Babin about 1747 1748 and here are the known names of the children of that marriage: Marquerite born and baptized at Grand Prée about 1750, married before 1774, Joseph Doucet, at Baie Ste Marie where she died; Madeleine, born and baptized at Grand Prée about September 1752, married at Baie Ste-Marie 20 October 1774 to Charles-Marin Belliveau and died at the said place 6 March 1852, age 99 and a half years; Joseph, born and baptized at Grand Prée in 1754, married 28 December 1778 to Marie Amirault at Ste-Anne du Ruisseau-de-l'Anguille, in Yarmouth County, the district called Cap de Sable, where he settled and died 16 November 1812, age 58; the other seven children who followed were all born at Lynn, Massachusetts and were baptized at Baie Ste-Marie, in October 1774, by abbé Joseph-Mathurin Bourg, the first Acadian priest, namely: (a) Elisabeth, born about 1756, married at Baie Ste Marie 20 October 1779, to Sylvain Pothier of Ste-Anne du Ruisseau-de-l'Anguille where she died 31 March 1847; Françoise, born about 1757, married Charles Doucet of Baie Ste-Marie, where she died; Charles, born in 1759, married at Baie Ste-Marie, to Madeleine Melanson, and died there; Anne, born about 1761, married Pierre Comeau, of Baie Ste-Marie where she died; Suzanne born about 1764, married Joseph Comeau, also of Baie Ste-Marie and died there; Anselme, born 1767, married Genevieve Amirault, and died at Baie Ste-Marie, in November 1842.

You understand, now, why you were not able to find that which I had requested and why the price does not matter (et pour lequel "on vous offrira n'importe quel prix."). It may be that Pierre LeBlanc was married before 1748, indeed, all leads me to believe that it was in 1746 that he must have married Marie Madeleine Babin. He would have been then about 25 years old, assuming that he was born in 1721. I strongly fear that you will not be able to find the marriage, since it may be that he married at Riviere-aux-Canards or at Pigiguit. If you find this priceless entry, please make (for me) a complete abstract. The interest that I have in this is purely historic, this family is not at all related to me. The descendants believe themselves heirs of Charles LeBlanc, who died in Philadelphia in August 1816, leaving a succession to his male and female cousins. Yet I always maintained and I still maintain that Pierre LeBlanc, husband of Madeleine Babin, was not related to the one who died in Philadelphia, but they do not want to believe me, and that is why I would like his marriage entry to establish his ancestry.

These LeBlancs have already spent a fortune to prove that they are heirs, and they are no further advanced than when they began in 1861. I would say further that they are not aware of the dates that I have given you above of the birth (dates) of the children of René LeBlanc. Many of them are settled in the United States and they have enriched some lawyers for doing for them some fruitless research. You can see why I would like to know the name and the address of the person who had requested of you the register of the family of Pierre LeBlanc. To prove to you that I am not solely interested in the LeBlanc succession of Philadelphia in rendering service to the person whose name I have requested of you, you are free to send him all that I have just given you on the family of Pierre LeBlanc, it is complete up to the present and if abstracts of the baptisms of the seven youngest children of René LeBlanc, baptized in 1774, are desired, contact Revd J. Gagné, curé de Maria, comté de Bonaventure, Province de Québec, since in his possession are the oldest registers held by Abbé Bourg.

By the way I would like to know if this missionary is originally from Grand-Prée. Joseph Mathurin Bourg was born 9 June 1744 of the union of Michel Bourg and Anne Hébert, but I do not know in which locality. Victoire, sister of Joseph-Mathurin, married at Baie-des-Chaleurs 26 November 1776 Basile LeBlanc, son of Joseph LeBlanc and of Madeleine Girouard. Now, who was this Joseph LeBlanc, I have searched for him in vain. I know of six of his sons, of which four settled at Memramcook some fifteen years after the expulsion, namely: Charles, married to a Comeau, Jacques, spouse of Natalie Breau, Pierre spouse of Marie Bourgeois, and Simon, married to Madeleine Comeau. The descendants of these four LeBlanc brothers are today very numerous and until the present I have not traced their ancestry further than to Joseph, spouse of Madeleine Girouard. This Joseph must be of the branch of LeBlanc dit Jasmin, and must have married between the years 1725 to 1735. If you find his marriage, please abstract it as well as the baptisms of his children.

My great great grandfather, Pierre Gaudet, died at Memramcook 25 August 1813, was born at Port-Royal, 8 January 1723 of the union of Pierre Gaudet and of Marie Belliveau. He married at Grand Prée or at Riviere-aux-Canards with Marguerite Aucoin, between the years 1740-1748. Make an abstract of this marriage if you find it.

I found at Grand Prée a Paul LeBlanc, spouse of Marie Forest. Would by chance this Paul be the father of Pierre LeBlanc, married to Marie-Madeleine Babin, whose descendants at Baie Ste Marie are said to be heirs of the LeBlanc succession at Philadelphia? This Paul certainly had a son named Joseph, born about 1730 to 1734, and another named Olivier. It is quite possible that my Pierre LeBlanc of Baie Ste-Marie, born about 1721 or about, is the brother of this one.

I still have another branch of the LeBlanc family for which I want you to do some research. It is the family of André^{II} LeBlanc, son of André^I à Daniel LeBlanc, and of Marie Dugas. André^{II}, fils, married around 1720, but I do not know with whom. I think that you will find his marriage without difficulties. Besides his father there are no other André LeBlancs at Grand Prée certainly for some years later, and so you will easily find the baptisms of his children. Here are the names of two of them. Joseph, born around 1721, and André^{III}, born around 1730 or 1732. The older, Joseph, married around 1740 to 1742 but I do not know with whom and of this union was born Firmin, about 1743. I would like then to have the marriage of André II, baptism entries of all his children, as well as the marriage entry for Joseph, his older son, and the baptism of Firmin, son of the latter.

I will content myself for the present with the names mentioned in my first letter and in the present (letter) for the research that I have requested of you and I assure you that I would have many others, but that I could not do it (n'o-e faire) fearing of imposing too heavy a task on you. For example, one document tells us that at the period of the expulsion René LeBlanc, notary of Mines, celebrated (chanté) by the American poet Longfellow, had 20 children. This René was born in 1682, and married 1st about 1704 Elisabeth Melanson, 2nd 26 November 1720 Marguerite Terriaut. How many of the children he had of his first wife and what were their names, that's what I do not know (voilà ce que j'ignore), and it is the same for the children issued of the 2nd marriage. Here is what is said of this René LeBlanc by the Acadian exiles in Pennsylvania in their petition to —(hole in page) England in 1756: "René LeBlanc, notary of Mines —(hole) the father of twenty (le père —[hole]gt) children and the number of his pe—(hole) - children in 1755,----- (s'ele--it à 150). Despite the services that he has —(hole) given the English government he was made "prisoner and deported. He disembarked at New York with his wife and his two youngest children. From there he went to Philadelphia where he reunited with three other of his children. He died in Philadelphia."

I know the names of four children of this René, but I do not know if they are of the 1st marriage or of the 2nd. They are Etienne, husband of Isabelle Boudreau; Augustus, husband of Françoise Hébert; Benjamin, married to Marie Dugas, and Jean Baptiste, husband of Marguerite Boudreau. The last two escaped the deportation and reached the Baie-des-Chaleurs where their descendants are very numerous in Bonaventure County, P.Q. Augustin, escaped to the province of Québec, and died at Nicolet. Two of his boys Joseph et Etienne settled at the said place, as well as three others: Augustin, Jean and Charles returned to Acadia and settled at Rivière de Petitcodiac where their descendants are. Regarding Etienne, husband of Isabelle Boudreau, I do not know what became of him. One of his boys was transported to the United States in 1755 and later accumulated a certain fortune and sent many letters to one of his sisters, Anne LeBlanc, wife of Amand Melanson here at Baie Ste-Marie. It is also said that some of his boys reached Louisiana and stayed there, but I do not know their names.

I found in the registers of Belle-Isle-en-Mer that Joseph LeBlanc, born at Grand Pré, in June 1722, of the marriage of Jacques LeBlanc (brother of the notary René) and of Catherine Landry, married at Port Royal, 2 July 1742 to Isabelle Gaudet, daughter of Bernard Gaudet and Jeanne Terriaut. The said Joseph LeBlanc settled at Port Royal after his marriage, was deported in 1755 and definitely reached the Mississippi with his wife and children. Your LeBlancs perhaps descend from this Joseph. Here are the names of his children who were born at Port Royal: Marie-Joséphé, born 25 August 1745; Anne, born 20 December 1745; Anne, born 31 January 1748; Joseph born 26 Sept. 1751 and Madeleine born 18 April 1753. This information may perhaps interest your LeBlancs.

I know that there are some Gaudets in Louisiana, and I would be very happy to establish correspondence with them in order to know from whom they are descended. I have worked on the Gaudet family for long, and it would be easy for me, I believe, to trace their genealogy.

You may take all the time needed to do the research that I have requested in my first letter and in this one, and please receive in advance my sincere thanks.

I have the honor of signing with much consideration. (J'ai l'honneur de me souscrire avec beaucoup de consideration).

Your very humble and obedient servant.

Third Letter

Church Point, Digby Co. N.S.
25 September 1895

Father J. H. Raymond, Pastor
St. Gabriel d'Iberville
Reverend and Dear Sir:

Your letter of last July 16 reached me at the beginning of August. I had been traveling at the time and I hastened to let Msgr. O'Brien know that you had requested $300 to make copies of your old registers. His excellency (sa grandeur) told me that he would gladly pay that amount for the originals, but he did not know yet about that amount for a transcription.

You told me in your letter that you have done much work for me without complete success. Therefore (I conclude) that you have found some of the entries that I requested, and if you would be so kind as to send me those that you have found, you would give me great satisfaction. I am employed at present by the Rev. Father G. Blanche, pastor of Ste-Marie, and Superior of Ste-Anne College. Two years ago a fire destroyed the presbytery and all the registers of the parish were destroyed. Fortunately I had copied a good part of them some ten years ago. That enabled me to be able to reconstitute them in the form of genealogical tables, that's work I am doing at present. It is a colossal job, since I have to reorganize each family at the time of the expulsion. Now the first settler of Church Point was Pierre LeBlanc, husband of Marie Madeleine Babin. I have found in my paperwork the abstract of the death of one of his daughters, the eldest, Marie, wife of Isidore Amirault. She died 7 December 1825, age of 79 years, which makes her born in 1746, based on this (par cause) it could be that her father married in 1744 or 1745, and the entry of his marriage may be found in your old registers. If you have found it, would you please send it to me as well as the other information that I have requested of you, that is to say the information that you have succeeded in finding, which I will learn from your letter. I hope that you will pardon this long silence on my part, not having had a fixed residence for some time I did not want to write before being situated, and at present I am and I will be able in the future to be more punctual in responding to the letters I receive.

I rely therefore on your good will to send me without delay the result of your research relative to the information that I have requested and I will be happy to send to you what you consider reasonable (a charge) for having done that work.

Very respectfully yours
dear Pastor, your very humble servant

Placide P. Gaudet (s)
