Lou Gramm

(lead singer of Foreigner)

sponsored by G. Bilotta's Restaurant

Here's a fact you can take to the bank: All over the world, every hour on the hour, the voice of Lou Gramm can be heard blaring out of car radios, home stereo systems, boom-boxes, walkmans, CD players, office waiting rooms -- and, of course, --jukeboxes.

Among the most distinct and powerful voices to emerge from the heyday of 1970s and 80s FM rock radio, Gramm, -lead vocalist and co-writer for the acclaimed superstar band, Foreigner, as well as a successful solo artist in his own right-, set the platinum standard or countless rock'n'roll vocalists that have followed him, or at least, tried to follow him.

The vocalist on over a dozen gold and platinum albums and nearly 20 hit singles and radio power cuts, nearly thirty years after Lou Gramm (with Foreigner) exploded onto the international music scene with the chart topper, "Feels Like The First Time," he remains a true pop culture icon and a creative inspiration to millions around the world.
