2023 Faith and Charity Catholic Appeal – “Shining the Light of Christ”

In today's Gospel, Jesus tells us, "Let not your heart be troubled...I am the way, and the truth and the life. No man cometh to the Father, but by me." When we follow Jesus and listen to him, he leads us by His light. We are called to shine the Light of Christ and live Jesus' example; by doing so, he promises us a place with Him.

As followers of Christ, we must act faithfully to reach out to others as Jesus does. We are called to commit ourselves as good stewards of our gifts, and by doing so, we bring Christ's light with us everywhere!

Jesus reminds us to help those on the margins and support the faith journey of those around us. Thank you to everyone who "Shining the Light of Christ" pledged the Faith and Charity Catholic Appeal. If you have not yet participated, please consider doing so today. Your gift makes a real difference in the lives of thousands of individuals and families who reside within our 12-county diocese. Pledge envelopes are available in the pews or in the Gathering Space and can be placed in the offertory basket.

Thank you for your generosity and support!

In your charity, please pray for all who have gone before us and all the deceased of St. Mary of the Assumption.

Weekly Prayer

Sunday's Readings

First Reading:

So the Twelve called together the community of the disciples and said,
"It is not right for us to neglect the word of God to serve at table.
Brothers, select from among you seven reputable men, filled with the Spirit and wisdom, whom we shall appoint to this task, whereas we shall devote ourselves to prayer and to the ministry of the word." (Acts 6:2-4)

Psalm:

Lord, let your mercy be on us, as we place our trust in you. (Ps 33)

Or Alleluia.

Second Reading:

You are "a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people of his own, so that you may announce the praises" of him who called you out of darkness into his wonderful light. (1 Pt 2:9)

Gospel:

Jesus said to him, "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. If you know me, then you will also know my Father." (Jn 14:6-7)

Inspiration of the Week

To those who persist in faith, the truth is a living stone, strong enough to support the weight of real joy. To those who despair of faith, it is a stumbling block. The truth will always be in their way.

Saint of the week

Blessed Miriam Teresa Demjanovich made it her short life's mission in early 1900s New Jersey, to educate everyone about humanity's universal call to holiness. Her writings can be found in a book called The Greater Perfection. She lived a life of contemplation and charity.

Prayer

Official Prayer for the Canonization of Blessed Miriam Teresa Demjanovich

Most Holy and Blessed Trinity, whom Blessed Miriam Teresa loved so ardently, grant that we like her may become ever more conscious of Your Divine Presence within our souls. We implore You to continue to show signs that Your humble servant enjoys glory with You in Heaven, and to hasten the day when we may render her a lasting tribute of our veneration and love. Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end.

Amen.

Building on the Cornerstone

Before I married my husband, I assumed there were “ugly houses” and “pretty houses,” and that was that. But Matt is an architect, someone who reads books with titles like “A Field Guide to American Houses” for fun and who uses the term vernacular architecture like he knows what it means.

Through him, I’ve come to learn a lot about why certain structures simply don’t have a pleasing look. There is a logic to ugliness, as it turns out. One of the main reasons a building or a home might strike some of us as ugly is because it has undergone a careless renovation. Whether out of laziness or an effort to be cost-effective, additions are made that depart from the architectural style of the original structure. The result is slapdash, confusing — ugly, for lack of a better word.

What is added on later must somewhat resemble the original. If you want to depart dramatically from the original style of a building, it’s better to build a separate structure altogether.

I think of this principle when I consider Christ as the “cornerstone.” We know we are called to model ourselves on Christ, to build on his example. But so often we cherry-pick elements of his message and attempt to build on it with additions that make no sense.

When someone looks at us, at our lives, they should be able to tell after whom that life is patterned. We must resemble the cornerstone, if we do not, it will be apparent, unseemly. You can’t see God the Father without embracing God the Son. You can’t chart the future of a house without any thought for its past.

If Christ is not our inspiration, he will be our contradiction.

“...like living stones, let yourselves be built into a spiritual house...to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.” — 1 Peter 2:5

Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

Why do we do that? Catholic Life Explained

Question:

Are Catholics obligated to attend Mass each Sunday, or receive Communion each Sunday?

Answer:

The questions about Mass attendance and the reception of Holy Communion are clearly outlined in what are traditionally called the “Precepts” of the Church. These specific teachings are intended to stand alongside the Ten Commandments as fundamental practices for Catholics and are outlined in the Code of Canon Law. The obligations related to Mass attendance and receiving Communion are outlined in the first and third precepts, which we find quoted in the Catechism of the Catholic Church (no. 2042):

The first precept (“You shall attend Mass on Sundays and holy days of obligation and rest from servile labor”) requires the faithful to sanctify the day commemorating the Resurrection of the Lord as well as the principal liturgical feasts honoring the mysteries of the Lord, the Blessed Virgin Mary, and the saints; in the first place, by participating in the Eucharistic celebration, in which the Christian community is gathered, and by resting from those works and activities which could impede such a sanctification of these days.

The third precept (“You shall receive the sacrament of the Eucharist at least during the Easter season”) guarantees as a minimum the reception of the Lord’s Body and Blood in connection with the Paschal feasts, the origin and center of the Christian liturgy.

Rather than seeing these as obligations that are simply to be fulfilled out of a sense of duty, Pope Saint John Paul II reminds us of the grace that is made available to us when we gather for Sunday celebrations of the Eucharist: “Sunday is the day which is at the very heart of the Christian life... Time given to Christ is never time lost, but is rather time gained, so that our relationships and indeed our whole life may become more profoundly human” (Dies Domini, no. 7).

The Holy Shroud - A "Must" for Every Scientist

It would be hard to conceive a more spiritual exercise than such a study of the Holy Shroud. If it could be imposed as a must on every scientist in the whole world-and why not, for it offers mysterious depths of knowledge for each profession to study-the effect on them would be bewildering and thought provoking, and a new attitude towards religion might result. It is true that not many of the doctors who take part in the investigations at Lourdes are converted to Catholicism, but certainly none of them are ever again found indulging in any foolish mockery of what happens at that shrine. We confidently assert the same in respect of any scientist who would study the Shroud seriously.

Is the mystic process which has given us the sublime image true photography? Though the final result imitates photography, it must be taken as a matter of course that it far exceeds our photography. The latter is a clever human invention which utilized lenses and the laws of light to cast images onto sensitized paper. But the Image of the Shroud was placed on it without any mechanisms except perhaps angelic ones, and therefore hardly qualifies to be strictly styled photography. This higher nature enabled it to overcome what would have been insuperable obstacles to ordinary photography. For example if the sensitized paper were not in proper juxtaposition with the film or negative, a worthless picture would result, whereas the Shroud was only conformed in a rough way to the contour of the Sacred Body. Nevertheless the impression produced is a flawless one, a perfect likeness.

Photography has its own laws and is pinned to them. But we do not know what the future will do in regard to the Holy Shroud. Just as successive waves of discovery in the past have found new features in the Shroud, so we must believe that the future will bring forth further ones. God's Hands are not held in any way and it would seem certain to me that at some future juncture when human or diabolic malice launches some damaging assault on our faith, God will respond by delivering one of His most typical dynamic strokes.

With gratitude, the parish congratulates Sandra Cleary and Ryan Terranova! Sandra is the SMA Volunteer of the Year and Ryan is the parish recipient of the St. Timothy Youth Award.

Both will be honored at the diocesan Catholic Youth Ministry Banquet on May 22, 2023.

In the Gospel today, Jesus says: "...whoever believes in me will do the works that I do, and will do greater ones than these, because I am going to the Father. Through your almsgiving you are performing a good work; far greater than you think. The coins placed in the St. Vincent de Paul Poor Box or your online donations bring Christ love and compassion to the poor.

What is the Gift of Living in the Divine Will?

"The work is already done. There is nothing left except to make it known, so that, not only you, but also others may take part in these great blessings."

"It behooves you to know that acts done in My Will Form the pathways that will serve to admit souls to live in My Will, and they are not so very necessary that if heroic souls do not first come forth in order to live in it and form the principal pathways of its kingdom generations, not finding those pathways, will not know what to do to enter into My Will. Do you see how necessary these pathways?"

"I told you many times that the mission of calling a soul to live in My Will is the greatest one; it is the highest and most sublime call. There is no other call that can match it."!!!
