A Word from Monsignor Hennessy

Dear Parishioners,

As we celebrate Palm Sunday, I want to share with you a homily from Saint Andrew of Crete, an 8th century bishop. It is a beautiful reflection on this sacred day which begins Holy Week. I have taken this text from the Office of Readings in the Liturgy of the Hours; this homily is being prayed throughout the world on this day by priests, religious and laity:

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Blessed is the king of Israel.

Let us go together to meet Christ on the Mount of Olives. Today he returns from Bethany and proceeds of his own free will toward his holy and blessed passion, to consummate the mystery of our salvation. He who came down from heaven to raise us from the depths of sin, to raise us with himself, we are told in Scripture, above every sovereignty, authority, and power, and every other name that can be named, now comes of his own free will to make his journey to Jerusalem. He comes without pomp or ostentation. As the psalmist says: He will not dispute or raise his voice to make it heard in the streets. He will be meek and humble, and he will make his entry in simplicity.

Let us run to accompany him as he hastens toward Jerusalem, and imitate those who met him then, not by covering his path with garments, olive branches or palms, but by doing all we can to prostrate ourselves before him by being humble and by trying to live as he would wish. Then we shall be able to receive the Word at his coming, and God, whom no limits can contain, will be within us.

In his humility Christ entered the dark regions of our fallen world and he is glad that he became so humble for our sake, glad that he came and lived among us and shared in our nature in order to raise us up again to himself. And even though we are told that he has now ascended above the highest heavens—the proof, surely, of his power and godhead—his love for man will never rest until he has raised our earthbound nature from glory to glory, and made it one with his own in heaven.

So let us spread before his feet, not garments or soulless olive branches, which delight the eye for a few hours and then wither, but ourselves, clothed in his grace, or rather, clothed completely in him. We who have been baptized into Christ must ourselves be the garments that we spread before him. Now that the crimson stains of our sins have been washed away in the saving waters of baptism and we have become white as pure wool, let us present the conqueror of death, not with mere branches of palms but with the real rewards of his victory. Let our souls take the place of the welcoming branches as we join today in the children's holy song: Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Blessed is the king of Israel.

May we truly make this week holy by our observance of the feasts we now celebrate!

Sincerely in Christ,
Monsignor Hennessy

ACT OF SPIRITUAL COMMUNION

(St. Alphonsus Liguori)

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

READINGS FOR THIS WEEK

Reading I: Isaiah 50: 4-7

The prophet extols the Suffering Servant, who endured "buffets and spitting." The Church identifies him as Christ, and so these verses are always part of this day's Readings.

Reading II: Philippians 2; 6-11

This is possibly part of an early Christian hymn. The content is rich in theological and moral content. We are inspired to be servants of each other.

The Gospel: Matthew 26: 14-27:66, or 27:11-54

Just after Jesus' anointing comes the opening of Matthew's Passion account with Judas' betrayal. Jesus offers His life on the cross for us.
