The Thirty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time,

November 12, 2017

You can tell we are coming to the end of our church year. Our scripture readings for this week are all about being prepared. For what? We are to be prepared for the end of time. For the time when Jesus comes again.

‘Behold, the bridegroom! Come out and meet him!’

The virgins who had brought extra oil along with their lamps were prepared. Those that had brought their lamps, but had not brought along an extra flask of oil, had to rush off to purchase more oil and where then left outside as the doors were locked and the banquet began. They called out, ‘Lord, Lord, open the door for us!’ But he said in reply, ‘Amen, I say to you, I do not know you.’

Am I prepared for Jesus, the bridegroom, to come? Am I in a state of grace? Have I recently celebrated the Sacrament of Reconciliation? Do I receive Eucharist on a regular basis? Have I reflected the love of Jesus in my relationships with co-workers, friends and family? Have I reached out to those in need through my actions, my words and through my pocketbook?

Being ready for Jesus to come is more than just faith. Don't get me wrong, we do need to have faith. We need to believe that God is God of all, and that Jesus is his Son who came to die for our sins and rise for our salvation. But we also need to live our lives as if what we do matters, because it does.

The commandments to Love the Lord with all your heart and love your neighbor as yourself. Jesus is preparing a place in heaven for his friends and his friends are those who on this earth are living our lives, sharing the love of the Lord with those we encounter every day. Friends, family, co-workers and most of all with strangers. Those who may look different or do things a little different than we do. No matter if it is because of our cultural upbringing, our race or our economic standing. We are all equal in the eyes of God. He loves each of us the same, more than we will ever understand. Remember, he gave the ultimate sacrifice, for me and for you!

May we all be prepared! We don't want to miss the banquet!

Pope Francis declares Nov. 19 First World Day of the Poor

In his message, Pope Francis stresses the value of those who appear to have the least..."The poor are not a problem: they are a resource from which to draw as we strive to accept and practice in our lives the essence of the Gospel."

Our faith calls to serve the poor every day. The Society of St. Vincent de Paul has been answering that call since 1845. The St. Philip's Conference helps people locally. Members grow spiritually and develop Christian friendships while serving those in need. Through person-to-person service, food pantries, thrift stores, medical care, rent and utility assistance, disaster relief, advocacy and more, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul helps people move out of poverty to self-sufficiency.
