Lent began with the challenge: "Turn from sin and be faithful to the Gospel." As I enter this Second week of Lent, when I consider the condition of my health, my relationships with God, significant others, work and parish community, what is the Lord asking me to TURN FROM? What aspect(s) of my life need God's healing touch?

Prayer: The celebration of Sunday Eucharist is the SOURCE and SUMMIT of our lives as Catholic Christians. It ought to be the SOURCE of the GRACE with which to live each week, and it is THE prayer with which we celebrate with thanksgiving the GRACES of the past week. If your participating in the Sunday Eucharist is at all weak, a definite resolution to strengthen it belongs at the top of your Lenten Resolutions.

But maybe you are there each week, but only half-hearted. Your participation is less than "active, deliberate, conscious," with Sunday Eucharist making little or no difference in the way you live the rest of the week. If I tend to be half-dead at Sunday Eucharist, what do I need to do to make more a life-giving experience for me and those I worship with? What place does prayer have in my daily life? Realizing that "Praying is not necessarily saying prayers," What do I need to do to make me more aware of the Presence of God in my daily life? Do I remember to thank God for the blessings of each day . . . for the food I eat, for the relationships that sustain my life . . . for the way I experience God working in my life and/or the life of others? Do I ever just sit in silence and "waste" time with God? Lent is a good time to cherish the old and learn something new: do I ever pray the scriptures . . . read/pray the Sunday readings before hearing them in Church . . . what about meditation . . . what about adoration on Monday . . . what about the Stations of the Cross . . . do I ever quiet myself down enough to hear what God is saying to me . . . to what extent is my ATTITUDE the attitude of Christ when I pray, so much so that I truly mean when I say, "Thy Will be Done?"

Fasting: Fasting means consuming less or at times, nothing at all. Abstinence means avoiding a certain kind of thing, such as meat or television.

Fasting and Abstinence disciplines the body and soul in order to reach a goal. They even make us a little more clear-headed. What is the goal of my life . . . If it is a long, happy and holy marriage, how do I need to discipline my life in order to achieve that goal . . . do I need to fast from negative attitudes, do I need to abstain from hurtful talk, do I need to spend less time on "myself, my needs, my desires" and strive to meet the needs of my spouse/others? What "bad" habits might I need to fast and abstain from in order to be more "faithful to the Gospel?"

Fasting and/or abstaining from food and drink affects the body and shapes the spirit. Do I ever let my stomach growl in order to deepen my awareness and solidarity with those who do not have enough to eat? To what extent have I turned the luxuries of my life into necessities? Do I ever eat simpler meals in order that others might simply eat? How do I feel that as Americans we consume 90% of the world's resources while the rest of the world goes to bed hungry and with their needs so inadequately met? To what extent do I condition my body through proper exercise? Have I tried diet after diet but have been unable to achieve my goals because I try to do all by myself? To what extent do I need to surrender to my need for help?

If I give more time this Lent to being faithful to the Gospel, do I need to fast and abstain from the time I spend before the various screens of my life— the TV, the computer, the video games and play-stations? Is this the time to fast from nicotine, alcohol, gambling, the use of pornography? Am I behaving in some ways that are contrary to the faith I profess? Am I neglecting something or someone in all the busyness of my life?

Almsgiving: God is the source of all that YOU ARE and ALL THAT YOU HAVE. Get in touch with your specific gifts and talents . . . to what extent are you using them for the SERVICE of others? How might you better live your life in the service of others? What did you do for someone else TODAY?

Lenten blessings,

Fr. Jerry
