God Loves Us So Much He Invites Us, Again and Again, to Everlasting Life with Him.

Our God is a God of second chances. But God's offers aren't imposed on us but proposed to us. God has gifted us with a free will. He gives us a choice, and we must respond to God's offers.

In this weekend's first reading, we see Moses in exile in the wilderness. He fled Egypt because he'd killed one of Pharaoh's officials. God reveals Himself to Moses in the burning bush, with a plan to rescue His people from the hands of the Egyptians and lead them out of Egypt into a new land. This plan includes sending Moses to them, and while Moses has questions and doubts, he responded to God's call and returned to the land he had fled from.

This week's Gospel begins with a story of a tragic accident. Jesus reminds us of the need to repent now because we don't know when death might come.

The Good News of the Gospel is that we are not merely saved from something (sin and eternal separation from God) but for something ... eternal life in heaven and a fruitful life with God now. Jesus uses the parable of the fig tree to explain the meaning of this truth.

In the parable, we hear the story of the owner who orders his gardener to cut down an unproductive fig tree. The gardener offers that he be allowed to more closely watch over and take special care of this tree for a year and if, after this extra care and attention, it bears no fruit, he'll cut it down.

Jesus' parables often have surprising endings and this one doesn't disappoint us. Why would you waste space, effort, and fertilizer on a tree that hasn't borne fruit in three years? Why not just cut it down and start over with a new tree?

On a human level, that's what would make the most sense. But not for God. God loves us enough to reach out and invite us, again and again, to life with Him ... to participate in His work of building-up His kingdom. Neither Moses nor the fig tree were to be thrown away but are offered a second chance at life ... at freedom ... at salvation.

God doesn't throw us away, either. Ever. He always loves us, calls to us, desires for us to grow in love and freedom in Christ, and to be with Him for all eternity. Lent provides us with wonderful opportunities to respond favorably to God's offers.

Blessings on your week,

Dcn. Robb

Carmelite Corner

Lay Carmelites of The Most Pure Heart of Mary

St. John Paul II at the Shrine of Divine Mercy in Krakow, Poland said "From here sent out the message of Divine Mercy that Christ himself chose to pass on to our generation through St. Faustina. And it is a message that is clear and understandable for everyone. Anyone can look at this picture of the Merciful Jesus, his Heart radiating grace, and hear in the depths of his own soul what St. Faustina heard: "Fear nothing. I am with you always" And if this person responds with a sincere heart, "Jesus I trust in you!", he will find comfort in all his anxieties and fears. In this dialogue of abandonment, there is established between man and Christ a special bond that sets love free. And "there is no fear in love, but perfectly acceptable love casts out fear" (1Jn 4:18) (The picture that St. John Paul refers to is in our chapel.)

SPEAK LIFE 2021 #55

We are seven. Seven weeks old. Do you feel 10,000 times bigger than when we were conceived? I don't know, do you? Something feels different. Maybe because your hands and legs are starting to grow. What? I know things-- too. Oh really? Like that our optic cups and nasal pits are forming? Or that our brains are dividing into five separate vesicles. Into what? Wait, have you been reading a dictionary? Of course not, I don't have eyes yet, silly. Okay, okay—just get to the point and tell them how big we are. We're as big as cucumber seeds. Was that so hard? ~a.m.opdahl
