As we approach the 79th Anniversary of D-Day we recall the heroism of the Allied Forces on June 6, 1944. One movie in more recent times that attempted to depict the heroism of American troops was "Saving Private Ryan" which opened in theatres in 1998. The film takes its viewers on a mission as a brave army captain, and his troops go into occupied territory to try and save Private James Ryan, whose three brothers have been killed in combat. The character of Captain Miller is an example of American devotion to humane duty. Many people with knowledge of World War II assumed "Saving Private Ryan" was based on the story of the Sullivan brothers. They were sailors who, serving together on the USS Juneau, were killed in action on its sinking around November 13, 1942. However, it turns out Father Francis L Sampson, nicknamed the "Paratroop Padre," was in many ways the inspiration for "Saving Private Ryan's" Captain Miller. Father Sampson was considered a hero throughout the military and was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, the second-highest medal of valor awarded by the United States Army.

The text of his distinguished service cross commendation explains, in part, how this incredible priest served on D-Day. On the afternoon of D-Day, a small force of parachute infantry was forced to evacuate its position to the enemy's advance. Though strongly urged otherwise, Chaplain Sampson elected to remain behind with fourteen seriously wounded men. When the enemy seized the position of Chaplain, Sampson immediately made his presence known so that no attack would be made on the injured men. Granted permission to remain with the wounded, he valiantly struggled in the face of the most hazardous and difficult conditions to keep the men alive. On the second night, during an artillery barrage that lasted four hours and virtually demolished the house, he administered blood plasma and aid to the wounded. As three shells hit the building, he threw his body across the wounded to protect them. He made numerous trips across a shell-swept courtyard to ascertain the condition of one of the most seriously wounded men. When a shell destroyed the adjacent room, fatally injuring the two men therein, he went immediately to their assistance and attempted to dig them out from the debris. He suffered a second-degree burn from a tracer bullet but continued to care for the wounded. After the Germans left the vicinity in the morning, an evacuation party arrived. Assured that the living wounded were evacuated to the division hospital, Chaplain Sampson proceeded to the same hospital where he gave a seriously wounded man a liter of blood and spent the remainder of the day and night rendering physical and spiritual aid to the wounded.

After his selfless heroics on D-Day and before his harrowing imprisonment, Father Sampson settled on a mission of mercy that is considered to be the inspiration for "Saving Private Ryan." During the Normandy campaign, Father Sampson selflessly volunteered to stay behind in a make-shift hospital, caring for the wounded and staying with the men who could not walk. The Germans captured Father Sampson, who put a gun to his head. He was spared when one German realized he was a Priest. At the hospital, he met Fritz Niland. The paratrooper told him that two of his brothers had been killed on D-Day. Making matters worse, a third brother was reported missing in the Pacific. Father Sampson arranged for Sgt. Niland to be sent home. As did the fictional Private Ryan, Niland refused to leave his post. He said, "I'm staying here with my boys." Sampson would not budge, "You can take that up with General Eisenhower or the president, but you're going home."

Thank you to all of our troops for their service and sacrifices.

God Bless,

Fr. Michael

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son..."

~ John 3:16

Is your love conditional? Is there a price others have to pay to receive your love and forgiveness? Are you generous with your time, skills, money and possessions? If you give someone something, do you expect something in return? Do you give your time freely or do you "fit it in" when it's convenient for you? God desires a personal relationship with us so much that He gave us His Son, unconditionally! Pray for a grateful and generous heart.

For the first seven months of our current fiscal year our parish conference assisted over 120 families (320 individuals) with over $25,000 of financial assistance for many things, but mostly food, utility assistance, rent assistance and car repairs. We have been able to do this because of the generosity of our parish members together with grant monies received. Please consider a tax deductible contribution to help those struggling in our local community. Contributions can be dropped off at the Parish office or placed in the collection basket in an envelope marked St. Vincent de Paul.

If you would like more information on becoming a volunteer in our mission, call Dale or Margaret at 507-456-1235. Our volunteers contribute from two to twenty hours per month. We meet twice a month at 5PM — come to a meeting and get a feel for what we do!
