As we continue our Lenten journey, we are called by our Lord to live a life of virtue, but we are at the same time combating various vices. To help us along the way we can turn to something in philosophy and ethics known as "The Golden Mean." For every virtue there are two opposing extremes of vice; one vice is a deficiency of a virtue, the other vice is an excess or disorder of a virtue. Virtue, then, is the golden mean between the margins of vice. For example, courage is a virtue. The opposing vices are the deficiency of courage, which is cowardice, and the disordered excess of courage, which is recklessness. Imagine you are at the battlefield; running into the battle with your fellow soldiers would require courage; not running into the battle would be cowardice; running into the battle alone, against a hundred enemy soldiers of which you had no chance of defeating, would be recklessness. To have courage is to hold the golden mean between the margins of vice of cowardice and recklessness.

This is just one example of many different virtues and opposing vices uncovered in the teachings of virtue. An intellect armed with knowledge and understanding of them is invaluable to the pursuit of a virtuous life. The way of virtue leads us down the narrow path of holiness and fulfillment—the golden mean. The way of sin leads us down the wide road of destruction and emptiness—the margins of vice. The daily challenge we face is holding the golden mean of virtue in all areas of our life—a challenge that can never be won alone—only by cooperating with the grace of the Holy Spirit working within us.

Below is a short list of virtues and opposing vices (virtues are in the middle and bold, vices at ends):

)	Negligence — Prudence — Guileful
)	Inequity — Justice — Mercilessness
)	Cowardice — Courage (aka: Fortitude) — Recklessness
)	Intemperance — Temperance — Self-Frugality
)	Disobedience — Obedience — Blind-obedience
)	Discourteous — Courtesy — Disingenuousness
)	Disorderliness — Orderliness — Obsessiveness
)	Self-indulgence — Self-Control — Insensitivity
)	Boorishness — Humor — Foolery
)	Arrogance — Humility — False-humility
)	Disrespectfulness — Respect — Idolization
)	Uncooperativeness — Cooperation — Pushoverness
)	Over analysis — Shrewdness — Impulsiveness
)	Inflexibility — Adjustability — Laxity
)	Aimlessness — Idealism — Overambition
)	Selfishness — Sacrifice — Self-neglect
)	Dishonesty — Honesty — Bluntness

"All of us can attain to Christian virtue and holiness, no matter in what condition of life we live and no matter what our life work may be" -- St Francis de Sales

In Christ,

Fr. Michael

Carmelite Corner

Lay Carmelites of The Most Pure Heart of Mary

In 2002, St. Pope John Paul IV entrusted the world to the Divine Mercy when he consecrated the Shrine of the Divine Mercy at Cracow, Poland. "I wish to entrust the world to Divine Mercy. I do so with burning desire that the message of God's Merciful love may be made known to all peoples of the earth."

Pope John Paul II was canonized with Pop John XXIII on Divine Mercy Sunday in 2014. At the opening of Vatican II in 1962 Pope John XXIII stressed that "nowadays...the spouse of Christ prefers to make use of the medicine of mercy rather than that of severity." Pope Francis in 2013 said "God's mercy can make even the driest land become a garden."

The next Carmelite meeting is Tuesday, March 19 at 5 PM in the St. Elizabeth Rm. Call Pat Sturk for more information, 218-398-0814.

St. Philip's Parish Vocation Chalice Box Ministry!

Parishioners can have one of the four Vocation Chalice Ministry boxes in their home for a week as a reminder to pray for vocations to the priesthood and religious life in the Diocese of Crookston....and we need more Priests and Sisters/Nuns in the Diocese of Crookston! We know that the parishes/dioceses that pray for these vocations, get these vocations!

A simple prayer for vocations, even once a day for a week, add up! With the Vocation Chalice Boxes being in multiple homes per week, that's a lot of prayers!

The box includes a chalice and a paten that can be displayed in your home as a reminder to pray. There are also seminarian cards (the men in the seminary from the Diocese of Crookston right now), some prayer ideas, and instructions. We are re-searching the sisters/nuns we have from our Diocese and will be making cards for them as well.

Here is a link to sign up if you'd like a Vocations Chalice Box: <https://www.signupgenius.com/go/8050B4FADAD29A4FF2-stphilips5> or go to www.stphilipsbemidji.org and click the Vocations Chalice Box link. Questions? Contact Stephanie at 218-368-8677 or 7115sam@gmail.com
