Sharing God's Word ~ Through Faith Formation

FROM OUR DIRECTOR OF FAITH FORMATION

The Series Begins October 6

Yes, I know the MLB wild card series begins this Friday, not Thursday. If you turn your TV on on October 6th expecting baseball, you'll be disappointed. Nevertheless, this is not false advertising: our adult faith formation series begins this Thursday! Sessions will be at 10:30 AM at Holy Martyrs and 6:30 PM at Sacred Heart.

Our topic for this month is on dying well. Many of you are thinking baseball was a heck of a lot cheerier and you'd be right in some ways (depending on your team, I suppose), but this is one of the most important topics we can cover, which is why I think it was one of the most popular in the survey we conducted earlier this summer. Human beings were put on this earth to know, love, and serve God in this life in order to be happy with Him forever in the next. Death is no one's idea of a good time, but on the other side of it is the hope of Heaven; and that is quite cheery, to the say least.

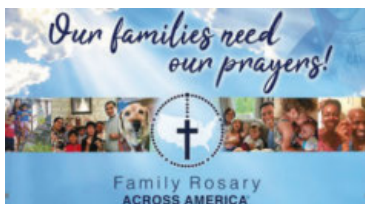

As a preview of coming attractions, allow me to anticipate a possible objection: does it make sense to talk about dying well or dying poorly? Is there such thing as a good death and how much can you praise or blame a person for how they die? After all, whether a person dies from influenza or from a wrong turn off the state pier usually isn't in their control. Dying is something that just happens to people. It will happen to all of us eventually, so why bother talking about it?

If you've been with people when they pass, you know that they do so in very different ways: some are inspiring, and some are far from it. Some are well prepared to meet Our Lord and go with great love and confidence in Him. Some are scrambling to decide whether or not they even have a soul. Some offer their sufferings up heroically for other people. Others endure them bitterly.

In saying this, I'm not judging anyone; the dying process is incredibly hard. However, there are things we should consider now, so that we spend our last days well. It is possible to die well, with great faith, great hope, and great love. To do this, we need to prepare now. We don't magically gain great trust in God the moment we're faced with our own mortality; we don't instantly repent of our sins the moment we realize we're running out of time to do so. If we form those habits now, they will carry us through that most difficult time of our life at the end and help us cross the finish line to Heaven. The Bible, the saints, and the teachings of the Church will be our guides as we dive into this topic. We hope to see you there!

—Joe Moreshead

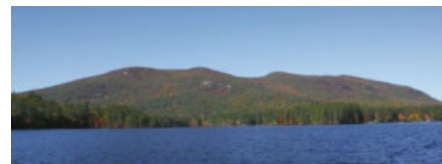

FAMILY ROSARY ACROSS AMERICA: Join Fr. Rocky at 8 PM nightly this October to pray the Most Holy Rosary with families, for families, as one big family. Tune in on relevantradio.com or the free Relevant Radio App.

ADULT FAITH FORMATION—ON DYING WELL: Our director of faith formation, Joe Moreshead, will be offering a four-part series on dying during the month of October. Our final moments on this earth are precious, and it is important that we think now about how we hope to use them. Talks will be held on Thursdays, October 6, 13, 20, and 27 at 10:30 AM at Holy Martyrs and 6:30 PM at Sacred Heart.

CASCO BAY CATHOLICS PLEASANT MOUNTAIN HIKE:

We will be hosting a hike for 18–35-year-olds to summit Pleasant Mountain in Bridgton, Maine on Saturday, October 8.

Those who wish to carpool can meet at Holy Martyrs church in Falmouth at 7:30 AM; others may meet at the Southwest Ridge Trailhead at 8:45 AM. The hike is 5.4 miles in total. The group will go for lunch afterwards, and we'll return to Falmouth by 3:30 PM. Contact Joe to RSVP or for more information, joseph.moreshead@portlanddiocese.org
