SOLEMNITY OF CORPUS CHRISTI: GOD CHOOSES TO COME CLOSE

My dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Today is the awesome Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ or Corpus Christi Sunday. It is also the Patronal Solemnity of our parish, which was canonically merged by Bishop Malone back in 2011. Today, we acknowledge and affirm our undying belief that the bread and wine consecrated at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass ceases to exist as bread and wine and truly, really, substantially becomes Jesus, His Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity. The Holy Eucharist is not a symbol nor a mere remembrance of our Lord. He chooses to come close to us humbly in the Holy Eucharist to fill us with His divine Presence and grace. He gives us access into the intimate Communion of Love who is God, Father, Son, Holy Spirit.

St. Thomas Aquinas once said that the Holy Eucharist is the only instance of change we encounter in this world that is exactly the opposite of everything else. The appearances of bread and wine stay the same, but the very essence or substance of these realities, which cannot be detected by a microscope, is totally transformed. What was once bread and wine are now Jesus' Body and Blood.

This ongoing presence of Jesus fulfills His words, "I am with you always, to the end of the age." It is incredibly distressing to hear that polling shows that 70% of US Catholics do not believe in the Real Presence of Jesus in Holy Communion. Our US Bishops have declared a 3-year, grass-roots Eucharistic Revival, of which we find ourselves in the middle. It is not a program but an effort to engage and reach each and every heart and soul. A renewed focus on the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass and Eucharistic Adoration will lead us to witness to the power, love, and presence of Jesus Christ with us.

Over these past 2 years, you may have seen that there has been much love, time, attention, and devotedness to the enhancement of our sacred spaces and liturgies here in our parish. We have seen the polishing and shining of many of our sacred vessels and objects, the care and mending of vestments, the acquiring and purchasing of new liturgical parchments for our sanctuaries, all done by our many faithful parishioners. Our many talented choir directors and musicians diligently prepare for Masses each week to help us raise our voices and hearts to God; our faithful altar servers enhance our reverence of the Mass as well as help all of us to pray as we ought. I also find our parish so blessed to have Eucharistic Adoration at each one of our churches.

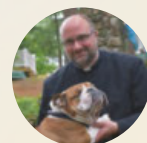

The Bishops have offered us a beautiful prayer that comes from one of the visions of Our Lady of Fatima. I invite you as to recite it often, especially today and during every consecration we are privileged to witness:

My God, I believe, I adore, I hope, and I love You! I beg pardon for those who do not believe, nor adore, nor hope, nor love You. (repeat three times)

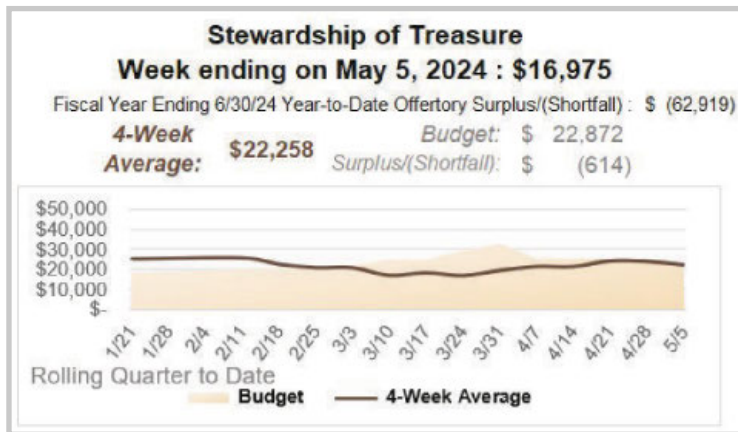

At the end of our 11 am Mass at Sacred Heart today, we will process with the Most Blessed Sacrament through the streets of Yarmouth. God will be coming near to so many people, whether they are in their cars passing by, standing in their driveways, or walking their dogs. What an awe-filled mystery we acknowledge in special way today but are privileged to witness and participate in every Sunday, or even every day. Our God desires to come close to us. To you. To me.

My brothers and sisters, may you and I never lose our Eucharistic amazement!

—Fr. Cartwright

PART 3:

Fr. Edmund Teaches Br. Theo What He was Made For

While Br. Dismas had only ever been trying to help Br. Theo, it was getting old. Br. Theo was tired of hearing about what things were or were not for. The next day, while Br. Theo finished up washing the floor, he had an idea. "I'll show him what things are for! This old mop bucket is as good for a prank as it is for floor washing. I'll balance it above his door so when he walks out, it dumps all over him." This was not a very nice thing for a monk to do, but Br. Theo was about to learn his lesson.

Br. Theo found Br. Dismas' cell and set to setting up the mop bucket just as he'd planned. Unfortunately, he picked the wrong cell and out walked Fr. Edmund.

Seeing Br. Theo poised with a mop bucket above his head, Fr. Edmund cried out, "Br. Theo, what are you doing?!" Ashamed, Br. Theo explained.

"Br. Theo not only is that not what a mop bucket is for, that's not what you are for! God made you for better than that."

"Fr. Edmund," Br. Theo said. "I'm so frustrated. It seems like according to Br. Dismas, everything has its own purpose you're supposed to use it for."

"Br. Dismas is correct," said Fr. Edmund gently. "When you use something for what it was made for, you get good results. When you try to use it for something else, it doesn't work very well."

"Yes," Br. Theo said, "I get that with things like pitchforks and paint scrapers; somebody designed those to do a certain job. But what about things like cats or my teeth?"

"Somebody designed them as well," replied Fr. Edmund. "God made them for particular purposes. The cat is meant for hunting mice and naps in the window. Your teeth are meant for chewing food, not bottle caps. It's all part of God's design. Things work better when you work with it."

"But aren't there exceptions?" pressed Br. Theo. "I mean, most cats I know hunt mice and are good at it, but some cats aren't. Doesn't that break the rule?"

"We live in a fallen world," Fr. Edmund said. "Everything has its place and purpose still, but since sin entered the world, sometimes things fall short of their place and purpose. That doesn't mean the purpose doesn't exist."

Br. Theo nodded. He was beginning to understand.

"Do you remember what I told you when you first came here?" asked Fr. Edmund. "I told you to ask me if you ever had any questions. From now on, you will ask me if you need to know what something is for or how to do something, won't you?"

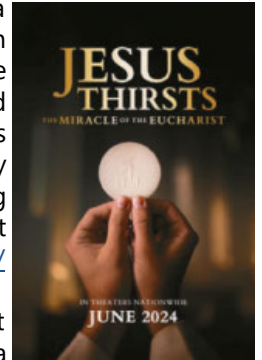

Br. Theo agreed and this time for real. He soon learned how the farm worked and lived a happy life in St. Benedict's monastery.

The end.

His faith, resilience, and capacity for forgiveness are truly inspiring! Come and hear Frederick speak of faith, hope, and forgiveness on Sunday, June 9, at 2 pm at St Pius X Church, 492 Ocean Avenue, Portland. Further discussion and a reception will follow in the parish hall, where some of Frederick's artwork will be displayed. FMI, email Happy, happyccopley@gmail.com.

With her newest release, A New Reality, it is her hope that people will come away knowing that it's okay to question, to pull on the string and enable the unraveling to happen, knowing there is One who is gently mending the tangled threads back together into a beautiful, reconstructed tapestry. Join us for worship in song with Sarah! More information coming soon. FMI, pothe.org/sarah-kroger.
