EXPLAINING FUNERALS

PART II:

WHAT IS A FUNERAL MASS?

HOW DOES A MASS HELP THE POOR SOULS IN PURGATORY?

A Catholic Mass is the offering of prayers (and most of all, the holy sacrifice of the Mass) to pray for the soul of someone who has died. To understand why Catholics have funerals and how they work, you must first understand why Catholics pray for the dead.

At the moment of our death, our souls are judged by God at the particular judgement. If our souls are in a state of grace when we die (meaning that there is no mortal sin on our conscience) then we will eventually go to heaven. However, most of us require a time of purification before reaching heaven. This is called purgatory.

Why do most of us have to pass through purgatory first? St. John in the book of Revelation says that "nothing impure can enter heaven" (Rev. 21:27). Even though our sins are pardoned through Confession, they still leave stains behind on our souls. So long as those stains remain on our souls, we cannot enter heaven. The Catechism of the Catholic Church states, "All who die in God's grace and friendship, but still imperfectly purified, are indeed assured of their eternal salvation; but after death they undergo purification, so as to achieve the holiness necessary to enter the joy of heaven" (1030). We can undo these stains during our earthly life by doing penance, but whatever we don't do by penance on earth, we complete in purgatory. Jesus refers to this when He says, "Amen, I tell you, you will not be released until you have paid the last penny." (Mat. 5:26)

Because we are united in the Mystical Body of Christ through Baptism, our prayers and penances can help those we know and love who may be in purgatory. We can do penance on their behalf and help deliver them from purgatory.

What does the Mass have to do with the souls of our loved ones? The Church honors the memory of the dead by prayers of intercession for them. The Holy Mass is considered the most efficacious means to help the souls in purgatory. Holy Mass is the highest act of worship and the highest form of prayer. Saint Thomas Aquinas said, "As dew refreshes and raises up the withering plants and flowers, so does the Blood of Christ revive, comfort, and bring renewed hope to the Poor Souls in purgatory."

Just as Moses ascended Mount Sinai and interceded before God for the Israelites, the priest ascends the altar to pray to God for us. Just as in the old covenant, the priests offered sacrifices of their best livestock to God when praying for us, the priest in the Mass offers the greatest gift we have, namely the death of Jesus Christ, to the Eternal Father. Nothing moves the heart of God as much as the sacrifice of His only Son. Saint Anselm said that those Masses in which we participate or have offered during our life are more profitable than those offered for us after death.

Therefore, when we have the Mass offered for our loved ones, it is a great help to them in purgatory. At the funeral, we can unite our prayers and our petitions for them to the priest's prayers. It is an act of love done for our loved ones.

Next week: The importance of timely funerals.

—Fr. Cartwright

November 24 — Catholic Campaign for Human Development: Funds support local parish initiatives aiming to solve communitywide problems, empowering the poor to make life changes promoting self-sufficiency.

FATHER SEBASTIÈN RÂLE, SJ, OF NORRIDGEWOCK: A SAINT FOR MAINE? Could Maine have its own native canonized saint? On Sunday, November 17 at 1:30 pm at St. Pius X Church in Portland, Fr. Bill Clark of the College of the Holy Cross will be speaking on the story behind the Maine missionary and martyr, Fr. Sebastian Rale, and the controversies that surround him. Father Bill Clark, SJ, is a native of Maine, grew up near the site of Fr. Râle's death, and learned the missionary's story as a young boy. As a teacher of theology at the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Massachusetts, Fr. Clark has done a lot of teaching and writing about the meaning and purpose of "local church communities," such as parishes (or mission villages!). He has served as a pastor, on the island of Jamaica. All those elements of his own life have come together in his interest in researching Fr. Râle's life and the cause for his canonization as a martyr saint.

EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION AT HOLY MARTYRS: Due to Veterans Day, on November 11, there will be no Eucharistic Adoration at Holy Martyrs that day.

FROM OUR DIRECTOR OF FAITH FORMATION

PENANCE: PRAYER, FASTING, AND ALMSGIVING

"How do we make satisfaction for our sins? Through penance, which can be done by prayer, fasting and almsgiving.

Part of the work of atoning for our sins is correcting the disorders in our soul that led us into sin in the first place. In this sense, think of your soul as a twisted piece of iron. The sins you committed have bent and distorted your soul. To reach heaven, it must be put right again, which means you need to push back in the opposite direction. It is notable that prayer, fasting, and almsgiving develop habits that push directly against the habits lead us into sin.

Let's begin with prayer. You will notice that many times we fall into sin because we don't pay enough attention to God. We might know the commandments, but we may not care, or we may think we have a better idea on how to live our lives. God takes a back seat. Prayer directly counters that attitude. When we pray, we make God a priority. Our time is given to Him, our attention is given to Him. We deliberately attempt to listen to Him and to submit ourselves to His will. The self will that leads us into sin is countered by prayer.

The second form of penance is fasting. Very often the pursuit of pleasure is what leads us into sin. Pleasure isn't bad in itself, but if we can't say no to our desires, it will get us into trouble fast. Our desire for stuff leads us to stealing. Gratifying our tempers leads to violence. Lust leads to sins against purity. When we fast, we deliberately say "No" to our appetites. Rather than gratifying our desires, we voluntarily choose some kind of suffering. It directly counteracts that tendency to pursue pleasure regardless of the cost. Our wills come into the control of our desires again, and the distortions in our souls are righted.

The third form of penance is almsgiving. Almsgiving means giving to the poor, but it can be expanded to mean any kind of act of charity or kindness. For all those times when thinking of ourselves led us into sin, almsgiving forces us to put other people first.

By prayer, fasting, and almsgiving, we can satisfy that temporal debt for our sins during this lifetime. But what if there is penance left to be done when we die? So long as we die in a state of grace, that remaining penance will be done by us in purgatory. Purgatory is a place of suffering; most saints and doctors of the church understand it to be a place of purifying fire. In purgatory, we pay the temporal satisfaction due to our sins. The impurities in our soul are burned away in the flames. When that debt is paid and our souls are purified, then we finally enter the joys of heaven forever.
