PARISH OF THE HOLY EUCHARIST

PASTOR'S PONDEROSA

EXPLAINING FUNERALS

PART III:

THE IMPORTANCE OF TIMELY FUNERALS

One thing I have noticed over my years as a priest, and now as a pastor, is that families tend to put off funerals for their loved ones longer and longer. It used to be that two weeks was a long time to wait for a funeral. Now half a year or a year is not uncommon. I know that many of these families do so with the best of intentions. They want to be sure that most of their family can attend the funeral. For the grieving family and friends, a Catholic funeral provides essential spiritual and emotional closure. While a delay may seem practical, it detracts from the deeper purpose of the funeral. A Catholic funeral is not merely for human closure; it is a sacred act that both honors the body and prays for soul of the deceased in purgatory. This is evidenced in the funeral Mass prayers as outlined in the Roman Missal with language describing Jesus Christ as a loving savior and merciful judge and praying that the sins of the deceased "be wiped away."

Because God's justice demands expiation of our sins, Christ told St. Faustina that His mercy didn't want to send a soul to purgatory, but His justice demands it (Diary 1226, 20). He places in our hands the means to assist the souls in purgatory. We are their only resource, and we have an obligation to pray for our loved ones in a timely manner with a funeral Mass.

We know that the most powerful means to relieve or release a soul from purgatory is through the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. You'll find that in the Catechism. It says it in 1032: "*From the beginning, the Church has honored the memory of the dead and offered prayers in suffrage for them, above all the Eucharistic sacrifice, so that, thus purified, they may attain the beatific vision of God."

We don't know what the state a soul was at the hour of death, and these days we tend to canonize everybody. Only God knows the state of the soul, if it is totally in line with His will. He's all-holy and majestic and pure. We're given this great power and privilege to release souls from purgatory. Only we are the deliverers. Christ turns to us, the Church militant. Heaven encourages us. For whatever reason, we've been given this great honor and privilege. We're responsible to pray for our dead.

I think about it like this. In life, when we have made or bought an incredibly amazing and special gift to give our loved one for some occasion, usually we cannot wait to give it to them just to see the reaction on their face. If in death we have the supreme gift to give them, namely heaven, then why do we hesitate in giving this gift? When we pray for souls, we must remember we're giving them paradise, the face of God, when we get them out sooner from purgatory. Our prayers are shortening this horrible suffering of being without God. They then show us their gratitude in the same proportion to their joy. What a gift!

Our loved ones need our prayers, and our delay has consequences. Make funeral arrangements immediately and do not neglect to have Masses said for them. It matters to your loved ones.

Next week: The meaning of the funeral rites (sprinkling of the casket, the final commendation, burial rites).

FROM OUR DIRECTOR OF FAITH FORMATION

TEMPORAL SATISFACTION: WHAT IT IS, WHY IT'S A THING

"Truly, I say to you, you will never get out till you have paid the last penny." – Matthew 5:26

I remember being in the 5th grade and talking to one of my friends who was from a fairly secular family. Somehow the sacrament came up; I explained that if someone was truly sorry for their sins and went to Confession, God would forgive them and they would go to heaven. I generally thought of this as a good thing. My friend replied unhesitatingly, "That's stupid!!" The idea that bad people (Adolf Hitler being a classic example) could make a deathbed confession and simply get away with it is scandalous to people. Doesn't God care about all the people Hitler hurt? Doesn't he care about evil at all?

God does care. It is true that a sincere deathbed confession can save a soul, but it is not true that all those crimes are simply forgotten. That soul is restored to grace and is spared the eternal punishment that was its just due. But God leaves in place a limited, temporal punishment to impress upon that person (and upon every victim and observer) the gravity of those sins.

To give a modern example, imagine a judge about to sentence a minor. He knows the minor is guilty. He could throw the book at him, but if he does, that teen's life is over. A prison sentence would end any hope of a normal life. Further, the convict seems to have learned a lesson and appears contrite. The judge might refrain from sentencing the teen to prison, but he wouldn't let him off completely. At the very minimum, there would be some community service he would be required to do.

If the judge wants the teen to have a shot at a normal life, why not let him off completely? Because if he did, the teen wouldn't learn his lesson. He would think he could get away with crime, and that it was no big deal. The victims of those crimes would be scandalized, thinking the state didn't care about them and how they had been hurt. Some nominal punishment is necessary so everyone understands the gravity of the crimes committed.

When we speak of needing to make temporal satisfaction, this is what we are talking about. It's not enough simply to go to Confession, we also need to do penance. The greater our sins, the greater the penances we need to do. By doing this, we restore our souls to purity, we come to understand the gravity of our sins, and those people we have hurt also know that God is not saying our crimes were okay.

Yes, Hitler could have made a deathbed Confession, but it is not true that he would simply float into heaven as if nothing happened. He would have to make some kind of satisfaction for all those crimes, and for crimes like that, the satisfaction would be steep. How do we satisfy this debt? On this earth we do it by prayer, fasting, and almsgiving. After death, we do this by fire and purgatory.

—Joe Moreshead
