

Let us Pray

Father, your Son accepted our sufferings to teach us the virtue of patience in human illness. Hear the prayers we offer for our sick brothers and sisters. May all who suffer pain, illness or disease, realize that they are chosen to be saints and know that they are joined to Christ in his suffering for the salvation of the world. Amen.

Reflecting on the Word
Sweat and Toil

We have reached the point in Luke's gospel where Jesus is setting out on his 'great journey' to Jerusalem, a journey which symbolizes our journey through life toward death and resurrection. In the course of our journey we are to follow Christ. "Come after me," Jesus says, and our response is to be: "I will be your follower wherever you go." We can ask if we follow Christ. Do we walk in the way of the cross or do we follow some other way? We can ask how we follow Christ. Do we follow Christ through some special calling or through the ordinary Christian vocation and through the acceptance of the challenge of daily living? We can ask which Christ do we follow. Do we follow a Christ of our own making, one that confirms us in our present lifestyle, or do we follow the Christ of the gospels, especially the Gospel of Luke: the humble Christ dedicated to the liberation of the poor and oppressed? The call to follow Christ is no mean challenge: "Let the dead bury their dead; come away and proclaim the kingdom of God." Sweat and toil, which work necessarily involves in the present condition of the human race, present the Christian and everyone who is called to follow Christ with the possibility of sharing lovingly in the work that Christ came to do. This work of salvation came about through suffering and death on a cross. By enduring the toil of work in union with Christ crucified for us, man in a way collaborates with the son of God for the redemption of humanity. He shows himself a true disciple of Christ by carrying the cross in his turn every day in the activity that he is called upon to perform.

Characteristics of Discipleship

Share the Gospel

"Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." -Mark 16:15

Discipleship begins here. Every believer is called to share the gospel, and it's the first characteristic of true discipleship. Mark 16:15 isn't just talking about the occasional overseas mission trip, it's about sharing the love of Christ with those around us every day. People at work, people at the grocery store, unsaved family members and friends all need to hear you "give an answer to everyone who asks you to give the reason for the hope that you have"(1 Peter 3:15).

Go Beyond Evangelism

"Go therefore and make disciples." -Matthew 28:19 You'll notice this verse doesn't say "Go therefore and make converts," but rather disciples. Sharing the gospel is important, but it's only step one of what we're called to do. Discipleship is lifelong. It never ends. Each of us is to continually grow and mature spiritually, and that includes new Christians!

Be Imitators of Christ

"Be imitators of me, as I am of Christ." -1 Corinthians 11:1

Discipleship is far more than what we say to people—it's primarily found in the example we give in our own lifestyle. We cannot teach others to live a life of forgiveness and at the same time carry around bitterness and resentment in our own lives. We cannot teach others to walk in love, then allow strife to come into our marriages. Our lifestyle serves as both evangelism and discipleship.

Men, Become Spiritual Fathers

"In Christ Jesus I became your father" -1 Corinthians 4:15

Whether they express it or not, men of all ages value the insight, wisdom and counsel of strong Christian men who are willing to come alongside them and help them grow spiritually. They need spiritual fathers. This is one way discipleship is fulfilled.

Ladies, Become Spiritual Mothers

"Older women must train the younger women."

-Titus 2:4

Ladies, while men are called to be spiritual fathers, you are called to become spiritual mothers. If you are a Christian woman, whether you know it or not, you're being watched. You're being studied. You are called to be an example of the Proverbs 31 woman.

Verse for the Week

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not unto your own understanding." ~Proverbs 3:5~
