Blessed Sacrament St. Vincent de Paul Conference

Many "blessings and thanks to all" for your contributions in the month of June. With 28 visits, we were able to help 73 people with emergency needs, such as; 17 – homeless, 2 – water, 32 – electric and gas, 5 – travel and 17 others with miscellaneous needs. We strive to help the forgotten, victims of exclusion or adversity and see the face of Christ in all those whom we meet. All are welcome to join our meetings held on the second Tuesday of every month. We will now meet at The St. Vincent de Paul Center (Thrift Store), 135 Wilson Street at 7:00 p.m. For more information, call Amy Ghiloni at 740-323-2548.

Funeral Liturgy Planning:

We are very blessed to have our Parish Bereavement Committee members available to help families plan the funeral liturgy, once a death has occurred. Did you know that we can participate in our own funeral plans and not leave this task to those who are left, after we have passed? Many parish members have already done so and have left their funeral liturgy plans on file with our parish office. This makes funeral liturgy planning much easier for our family members once we have passed, plus this allows us to leave our choices of music, readings, and persons whom we would like to have participated in the Mass. If you would like to consider discussing and planning your funeral liturgy, contact Deacon Patrick at the Parish Office, or any member of the Parish Bereavement Committee.

Young People, the Faith, and Vocational Discernment

Pope Francis announced that the theme for the 15th Ordinary General Assembly of the Synod of Bishops in October 2018, will be "Young People, the Faith, and Vocational Discernment." The Holy Father has asked that the voices of young people be heard and considered in the Synod. In the Diocese of Columbus, we are proposing two methods to collect the thoughts of young people, and we need your help. The first is to have individual youth and young adults, as well as parents of young people and ministry leaders, complete online surveys found at <http://www.cdeducation.org/YouthYoungAdult/Synod2018>. Please take the time to fill out this survey! The second way is to have parishes, Catholic high schools, college campus ministries, and other groups serving young people conduct focus groups with adolescents and young adults; guidelines for this process can be found at the web address listed above. The responses from surveys and focus groups should be submitted by September 1st.

Eucharistic Ministers for the Homebound Needed!

"I was sick and you visited me." It is a great privilege both to carry our Eucharistic Lord and to befriend our homebound parishioners who cannot attend Mass due to health problems. We have a very small team of EMs who distribute the Eucharist to the homebound. Too small. We are asking you to join the team, even if you are not now an EM who distributes the Eucharist at Mass. Also, you have the bonus of Eucharistic Adoration as you drive. If you hear the call of Jesus, "I was sick and you visited me," please contact Ann Selby at (740) 670-2792 or the parish office. We will provide needed training.

The Wild Goose Series: Discovering A Deeper Relationship with The Holy Spirit

Come, join us for this incredible video series by Fr. Dave Pivonka, as we meet on Sunday mornings between the Masses, from 9:15 to 10:15 a.m. in Shepherd Hall. Come and enjoy donuts, coffee and fellowship, as we watch one of the Wild Goose Videos together. This is a perfect way to continue our renewal as a parish family and deepen our understanding and relationship with the Holy Spirit. Series will continue to be offered until August 20th. Make this summer truly life changing! Hope to see you there.

Catholic Men's Ministry

Now, more than ever, we need Catholic Male Leadership. Weekly Faith Sharing groups have been instrumental in bringing men together and fostering growth in their Catholic faith. Programs such as "Iron Sharpens Iron" and "Into the Breach" continue to grow throughout the Columbus Diocese and are changing lives! "Get Plugged In" and learn more about the many programs and opportunities that are available. Visit <http://www.catholicmensministry.com/iron> today!

Praying and Caring for our Homebound or Hospitalized Parishioners

If you or a member of your family is either homebound or hospitalized, or will be in the hospital or homebound, please contact the parish office and let us know. The prayers of our parish family will be there to help them, and this will help us insure that our Clergy or Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion will be able to visit and bring the Lord in Holy Communion as an extension of the Holy Mass.

Priest or Husband? The qualities are very similar!

We have spoken about the generalities of genuine affirmation, but what of the specific qualities that make a good priest? Contrary to what many people think, the best priests also make the best husbands. Why? The qualities of both are quite similar; both vocations require much out of a man; they both demand that he be a beacon of sanctification, though in unique ways. Some examples of a good priest are: a personal relationship with God, as evidenced by prayer, love for the Catholic Church and its teachings, interest in serving people, courage to take risks, etc.<sup>1</sup> That sounds like the makings of a good Dad, huh?

Marriage and the celibate religious or priestly life are highly demanding; God is asking for your all, nothing half-hearted or weak will suffice! Husbands and priests are called to be generative, chaste, and zealous. Generativity in a husband is primarily through the pro-creation of children, while the priest is generative in the spiritual and personal building up of his flock. Fr. Dan Schmitmeyer of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati states “Having the natural instinct or desire to be a husband and a father, doesn’t mean you shouldn’t be a priest... If you think about it, the natural love and care a father gives to his children are very important assets that a priest carries over to his calling.”<sup>2</sup> Priests and husbands are both beacons of love and instruction for their children [physical and spiritual]. They are both set to be leaders, ever ready to set the example of how to live a Christ-like life. Obviously the priesthood means sacrificing the right of a physical marriage, yet the sacrifice is ultimately a blessing for a man who is genuinely called to it. His generativity will be shown in his desire to establish relationships with his community, in his zeal for leading them to Sacraments and ultimately, of course, to heaven. A man who is truly called to the priesthood and is open to the Holy Spirit’s work in him, will find that he has more spiritual children than he could ever physically generate. He never loses that pro-creative power!!

Chastity is also paramount for both vocations! Fr. Schmitmeyer continues:

Priests are men. Whether you are called to married life or priesthood, chastity invigorates manliness and unifies the mind, body and heart. In contrast, an unchaste man soon finds his mind, body and heart at odds, leaving him feeling ashamed, weak, pulled apart. Perhaps more clearly than any other sins, sins against chastity tear apart the soul. Living chastely strengthens you. A priest needs strength and courage to be a provider, to be generous, to promote life. A man brings all that to the priesthood and the Lord’s grace takes all of those natural instincts, drives and desires and makes him into a Godly, Holy Priest. A Godly Priest, then, provides spiritual nourishment via the sacraments (especially the Holy Eucharist), he generously avails himself for the needs of his parish family, and he presents and defends the truth so that his flock “might have life and have it more abundantly.” John 10:10.3

Priest or Husband? The qualities are very similar!

Chastity keeps us focused on what we need to be focused on. If we do not cultivate this virtue we will be divided and thus unable to do anything that our LORD asks of us. Husbands who are unchaste will look at other women, besides their beloved, and think “what if?” and this thought will injure his relationship with his wife or committed girlfriend, which is precisely what Satan wants. Satan, the father of lies, wants us to question ourselves and fear commitment. If we allow un-chastity to permeate our thought processes and remove from us the joy that rightly ought to come from a heart-to-heart relationship. For the man who is discerning the priesthood, this same rule applies! Un-chastity impacts spiritual generativity again because it allows us to be divided within ourselves. Moreover, it negatively impacts our ability to see ourselves and others and wholly dignified children of God. Objectification and lack of chastity go hand-in-hand!

Zeal for the house of God, his body, the Church should permeate the priest and the husband; they should both be ever willing to lead their family [and yes a congregation is a large extended family!] through the storms and trials of this world. The psalmist says: “For zeal for thy house has consumed me, and the insults of those who insult thee have fallen on me.”<sup>1</sup> The husband enters the breach of the culture’s missteps and perversions to provide a voice of calm, peace, and joy that can only be found by one who is rooted in a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. We have always expected our priests to be like that, haven’t we? Indeed we should desire nothing less of them! For the man who is discerning priesthood or marriage, should cultivate a zeal for the Church, its teachings and its spirituality. As a priest, he will be primarily a teacher and role model to build up the flock as they enter the breaches in their lives and carry on the mission of sanctifying the world. As a husband and layman, he will need to be on the front lines for his family, always ready to live and defend his faith.

We pray that for a continued spirit of discernment amongst all our young people, that they may be open to God’s calling. May they realise the great commission that our LORD has given us and may they know that the Holy Spirit will be with them at all times. May we all seek to cultivate the virtues of generativity, chastity, and zeal in our lives and in so doing may we build up our families, our parishes, and our world. Let us offer our prayers for our families, ourselves and our vocation to our LORD through Mary’s intercession each and every day! God bless you all and have a wonderful week!
