"Teaching is the one profession that creates all other professions." – Unknown

SCB Families:

This week we celebrate teachers - the people that are the heart of our classrooms. The people who put Band-aids on knees, teach the timetables, and get them ready for high school. They show the kids unconditional love and patience and provide a place for them to learn and grow in their classrooms. I know many a teacher made me into the student and person that I am; and I will be forever grateful.

While we celebrate the teachers in our building, we also congratulate all of the new teachers into our school this coming fall. Please join me in welcoming our new team members - all of their bios are here. We have some amazing educators joining our ranks and I am excited to be a part of their contributions here at SCB.

Blessings to you all, and hug a teacher when you see one. :)

Principal, SCB
