The Moment of Glory

As we enter the last three weeks of Lent in the B Cycle, we get these readings from the Gospel of John.

I've often said the Gospel of John, is like sitting down to a big bowl of Irish Stew. Before you dive in, you have to sit with it for awhile and stir it slowly. As you do so, what at first appeared to be just murky brown on the surface begins to reveal all kinds of tasty bits. So it is with today's reading.

Remember that unlike the synoptic gospels (Matthew, Mark and Luke) that were written to unbelievers to convince them that Jesus was the long awaited Messiah, John was written much later to believers who were being persecuted to strengthen their faith. As such, John's gospel comes with a different, deeper perspective.

Only in John do we get Jesus repeatedly referring to his "hour." In fact, he is referring to the many hours of his passion, but specifically about his crucifixion. For the disciples and for many of the early Christians, both Jews and Greeks, the Cross was a great scandal that had to be overcome. It was one of the worst curses that one could endure. But John and his community had come to understand that the Cross as the bridge between heaven and earth. It was on the cross that Jesus paid the price for our sins. It was on the Cross that he was lifted up for all the world to see. For John, the Cross is the moment of glory for Jesus.

It's a good insight for us as well. So often we want to enter with Christ into the glory of the resurrection, but we sometimes forget that to get there we have to go with him to the Cross. It helps to remember that like the sufferings of Christ, the sufferings of this life are also our moment of glory.

May we have the grace to see our own sufferings our union with Christ in his passion, death and resurrection.

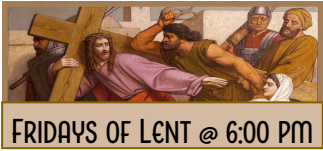

- Fr. Leo
