Reflection

Twenty-Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Preferential Option for the Poor

The Holy Scriptures for this weekend give a theme of caring for the poor. The first reading from the Prophet Amos speaks of treating the poor with respect and dignity. The Gospel of Luke speaks of the dishonorable manager fixing people's debt so they would treat him well in the future. There is a very long and rich history in scriptures of caring for the poor. The same can be said in official church documents.

The expression "preferential option for the poor" first appears in the documents of the Second Vatican Council, specifically in the Pastoral Constitution Gaudium et Spes, the Church's constitution on the Church in the modern world. It was this Second Vatican Council that introduced the notion as a special form of primacy in the exercise of Christian charity, that the whole tradition of the Roman Catholic Church bears witness to.

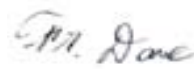

Later magisterial documents keep the basic insight of Gaudium et Spes, that the Gospel gives a special concern for the poor. But then breaks it down into three groups. First there is the call to mercy, not just a mere charitable preference but a moral principle. Mercy now becomes the most profound sources of justice and the decisive means by which the Church translates the Gospel into action.

Second, the option for the poor must embrace the multitudes of the hungry, the homeless, the sick, and those without hope. And believers must make political and economic decisions that help the poor.

Third, the preferential option for the poor becomes linked with the interplay of charity and justice. For true charity restores man to himself and mercy is the most profound source of justice. The Church must go to the peripheries and bring the Good News to the poor and marginalized.

As a parish and as individuals, how are we showing a preferential option for the poor rooted in charity, mercy, and justice?

Pax Christi,

Very Reverend David O'Leary, VF, S.T.L., D.Phil.
Pastor

PRAYER FOR THE SICK

Father, your son accepted our sufferings to teach us the virtue of patience in human illness. Hear the prayers we offer for our sick sisters and brothers. May all who suffer pain, illness or disease realize that they have been chosen to be saints and know that they are joined to Christ in His suffering for the salvation of the world. Amen

THE

GROW AS A DISCIPLE | PRAY, STUDY, ENGAGE, SERVE

As Catholics we understand that none of our actions are truly isolated. Every virtue we practice or sin we commit affects others because we are all members of the body of Christ. Today's readings from the Old and New Testaments highlight our interconnectedness and offer guidance for how to order the life of the community according to God's will. The key to tranquil communal life is to consider the needs of others as important as our own. In the first reading, the prophet Amos decries those who exploit the poor for personal gain, putting profit over the common good. In the second reading, St. Paul begs the community to pray not only for themselves and for their close relatives, but to offer prayer and supplication for everyone. It's tempting to buy into the perspective that we need only focus on our own life. But the Lord invites us into authentic community where we intercede, sacrifice for and build up the kingdom together.

REFLECT

Today, consider how you are invited to live in community and contribute to the building of a Christ-like culture. How are you called to more trustworthy stewardship of the gifts and time God has given you so that you can use them for building up the body of Christ?

GO EVANGELIZE

PRAYER, INVITATION, WITNESS, ACCOMPANIMENT

I like to think of myself as a trustworthy person, and I'd expect most of us would consider ourselves the same. But as the Lord convicts my heart with today's Gospel reading about those who are trustworthy or untrustworthy in big and small matters, I hear the Holy Spirit inviting me to ponder deeper questions: Perhaps I don't intentionally deceive people and I aim to keep my word, but when someone's name or reputation comes up in conversation, can I be trusted to build them up? Do I fall prey to petty gossip, or simply sit idly by as others fall? I am true to scheduled commitments I make, but am I trustworthy with how I spend all my time? Do I use the gift of time for God's greater glory, or do I squander it with excessive scrolling or mindless TV shows? The Spirit doesn't want us to be scrupulous, and everything must be understood through God's merciful gaze. But the Lord does intend to purify us so that we can live more fully in communion with him.

Support the Greater Lowell Food Pantry

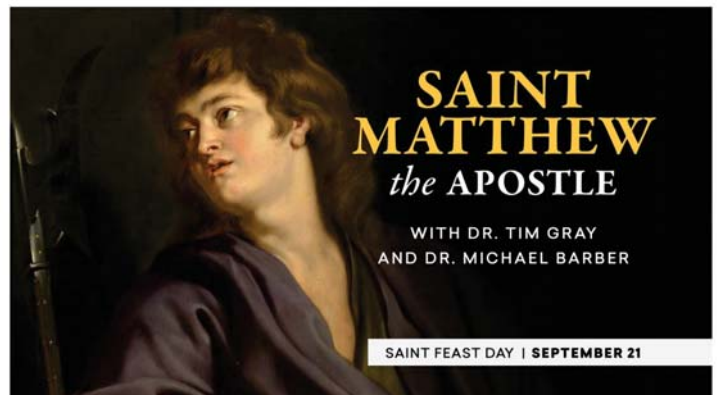

As Catholic Christians, we are called to serve our neighbors in need and to live out the Gospel through works of mercy.

Our town of Carlisle is joining together in a special, town-wide initiative to support the struggling Greater Lowell Food Pantry. We invite interested parishioners to bring non-perishable food items before and after Mass beginning September 12 through October 3. Together, let us share the blessings we have received and help provide food and dignity to those who are most in need.
