"Be an instrument of God's peace"

Dear Sisters and Brothers In Christ,

This weekend we hear the story of Jesus raising his friend Lazarus from the dead. Jesus is ending his public ministry with the greatest of all his miracles. It is another occasion for God's glory to be made manifest through the actions of Jesus. It can also serve as a reminder for us when we encounter distress or tragedy not to focus on what is wrong or what is broken, but instead focus on how we personally can be an instrument to manifest the glory of God in such moments. Our prayers and the motivations for our actions should flow from these living waters (to borrow from last week's metaphor). We (humans) are wired to try to fix things. This usually is not the way to help (we are not Jesus). Sometimes the best way to help in times of distress or tragedy is to do nothing but provide the ministry of our presence. This can serve as a miracle for someone who has just lost a job, lost a loved one, or is facing a serious health crisis. This is how we best to show the love of Jesus to others in our lives.

Peace...

Pastoral Coordinator
