Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Dear Parish Family,

ADVANCE PLANNING IS IMPORTANT FOR EVERYBODY – Often we get questions as to what the proper funeral customs for us as Catholics are. The usual plan for the Funeral Rites is in 3 parts:

- 1) The Vigil (which usually includes the Rosary) - This is usually done in the evening prior to the Funeral Mass and is ordinarily celebrated in the mortuary unless the attendance will be so large that use of the church is required. The Vigil (if in the mortuary) may be led by a priest, deacon or even an authorized lay person.
- 2) The Funeral Mass - This is the most important part of the Funeral Rites, as there is nothing more efficacious for the salvation of souls than the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. It is ordinarily celebrated in the morning or midday and must always take place in the church or chapel. It may also be celebrated in a Catholic cemetery.
- 3) The Rite of Committal (Burial) - This ordinarily immediately follows the Funeral Mass and is done at the cemetery. A Catholic cemetery is always preferred as it is consecrated ground, and Mass is celebrated daily for those buried there. However, it is permissible to also use a non-Catholic cemetery, if necessary, and the priest or deacon will bless the grave.

If cremation takes place, ordinarily the cremation should occur after the Funeral Mass so that the body can be present for the Mass. If that is not possible then it is permitted to have the cremains (ashes) present at the Funeral Mass. The cremains must then be taken to the cemetery for burial or location in a columbarium. It is never permitted to take the cremains home. Burial of cremains (in a proper container) may also take place at sea. It's not proper to "scatter" ashes anywhere or to distribute them to family members in different containers.

I hope the above is helpful to you in planning. I know that it can seem morbid to talk about these things, but death is also a part of life. When we plan our funeral ahead of time, we are actually doing a great act of charity for those who will survive us, and it relieves them of great stress and doubt in a time of sorrow. I encourage you to plan ahead. I did my own funeral plans many years ago and pre-paid everything. You can contact any mortuary to inquire about advance planning as well as our Catholic Cemeteries. The closest one to us is San Fernando Mission Cemetery.

It is also vitally important to have an up-to-date Will as well as Durable Power of Attorney for healthcare decisions as well as for property decisions. This is especially important today as sometimes healthcare decisions are made which may not be in accord with Catholic teaching. Frequently, people ask me about the various decisions of end-of-life issues. The Archdiocese of Los Angeles has great resources on its website, and I strongly encourage you to review: <https://lacatholics.org/ahcd> (copy and paste to your browser).

Love in Christ,
Fr. Vaughn Winters
