"Again, the kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which a man found and hid; and for joy over it he goes and sells all that he has and buys that field."

Matthew 13:44

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

The readings in today's liturgy issue a direct challenge to all types of worldly life-styles and tell us to get our priorities right. Many married couples find out the hard way that it is more important for a family to be happy than to live in plush surroundings. Time spent with children is of more value than money spent on toys. We may live in the age of the instant, but rearing a family and teaching them how to get along with one another are things that cannot be rushed. Experience teaches us that there are no short cuts in these important matters because anything that is worthwhile cannot be achieved without a lot of effort.

The treasure the gospel is referring to is our faith which tells us we are heirs to the kingdom of God. It is so important and valuable that everybody must give it absolute priority. This should be our only interest and chief concern in life. At the end of the day nothing else matters because worldly values are destined to pale into insignificance. Our search should not be for superficial happiness but to develop a good relationship with God.

One of the encouraging aspects of this gospel story is that such a treasure can be found in ordinary places. God is constantly speaking to us in the simplicity of our lives. What we've got to do is to open our eyes to his presence and search for him in the bits and pieces of everyday happenings. This will only come about with prayer and by taking a good look at ourselves and trying to discover what God is saying to us at any given moment. We can stumble across the treasure, in suffering bravely borne and properly accepted or when a serious illness leaves us invalidated and our entire future is put in jeopardy. Such times of crisis with everything falling apart may be a call to new growth and an adventure in holiness.

It's a day to reflect on the depth and the value we put on our faith in Christ. How many can honestly say that nothing else matters but this precious gift handed down to us by our parents and by a previous generation at so great cost? Does it mean anything to us that Jesus died on the cross for our sins so that we could share in his glory? If we really want happiness there is no point in turning to the passing things of life hoping that they will fill our emptiness and loneliness. We must invest time and energy in detaching ourselves from such superficiality. Our great destiny is to share in God's glory so our sole preoccupation should be to stake everything on Christ and the values he stands for and portrays.

BELL RINGING DURING MASS

When you hear the altar bells rung at a new time during Mass, this is for a special reason.

The bells are rung at the moment in the prayers when the Holy Spirit is called down to change the bread and wine into the Body and Blood of Christ. The sound of the bells should alert you to the great miracle that is about to take place.
