Catholic Guest Speakers:

Kristi Fredieu has a knack for generating ideas, using lots of unnecessary words, and a love for encountering new spaces and faces. As a wife and momma, the longing for true identity and purpose causes her to constantly seek God's guidance. Through her faith walk, the Lord has taught her to get comfortable being uncomfortable in her own skin. Starting a bible study in 2015 helped her to see how truly sacred a space can be when we are willing to embrace our mess, be curious about others' stories, and live courageously vulnerable. From there, The Light Project mustard seed was planted.

Kayla Stansbury has 1 main goal - to leave people better than she found them. She has an intense passion for people. Her hope is to make every encounter matter. If she can put a tiny smile on your face, make you belly laugh, make you feel less anxious, less alone, less stressed, more powerful, more free, more confident...if she can do or say anything that makes you feel so good that you pass that feeling on to someone else - her mission will be accomplished. Ripples make waves. Let's be better humans!

Note: Can I Getta Amen created Devotionals, Tshirts, Planners, etc. will be available for sale to support The Light Project, a local non-profit!

The Light Project started as a feel-good Facebook page in 2015 and evolved into a fully formed non-profit in 2019. The mission is to create sacred spaces that ignite a renewal of our faith and engage our God-gifts. Whether it's our podcast, devotionals, or gatherings, we hope to ignite something inside of you that makes you want to shout, "Whew, Can I Getta Amen?".
