The Diocese of Victoria — A Brief History

The Founding of the Diocese

The Diocese of Victoria was established on May 29, 1982, with the Most Reverend Charles V. Grahmann installed as the first bishop of the newly created diocese. The first diocesan offices were known as The Catholic Center and were located at 2007-A N. De Leon Street in Victoria, Texas. In March of 1984, the bishop's office was moved to the Central Park Plaza Building on Commerce Street, joining the offices of the business manager, chancellor and tribunal, catechetical ministry and youth ministry.

All personnel moved into the new chancery building on Aug. 15, 1985. The building, located at 1505 E. Mesquite Lane, was dedicated on Sept. 8, 1985. The office of the bishop, chancellor, business, catechetical ministry, vocations, The Catholic Lighthouse newspaper, Victoria Catholic Cemetery, tribunal and youth and family ministry are housed at the chancery. A chapel and library are also part of the building.

Bishop Grahmann was appointed coadjutor bishop of the Diocese of Dallas on Dec. 18, 1989, and was installed as coadjutor Bishop of Dallas on Feb. 21, 1990. From Feb. 21, 1990, the Reverend Monsignor Thomas C. McLaughlin served as administrator of the Diocese of Victoria. The Reverend David E. Fellhauer was appointed bishop on April 7, 1990. He was ordained and installed as bishop of the Diocese of Victoria on May 28, 1990. Bishop Fellhauer came to Victoria from the Diocese of Dallas where he was ordained to the priesthood in 1965 and had served most recently as judicial vicar of the Diocese of Dallas.

On April 23, 2015, Pope Francis accepted Bishop David E. Fellhauer's resignation as bishop of the diocese. On that same day, the pope appointed as the new bishop of the Diocese of Victoria, the Reverend Brendan J. Cahill, a priest of the Archdiocese of Galveston-Houston. From April 23, 2015, the Reverend Gary W. Janak served as administrator of the Diocese of Victoria. Reverend Cahill was ordained and installed as the third bishop of the Diocese of Victoria on June 29, 2015.

Geographic Makeup

The Diocese of Victoria is comprised of the counties of Calhoun, DeWitt, Goliad, Jackson, Lavaca, Matagorda, Victoria, Wharton, Colorado and Fayette county west of the Colorado River, which is a total of 9,609 square miles. The San Antonio Archdiocese contributed all the parishes of the El Campo, Schulenburg and Victoria deaneries to make up the Diocese of Victoria. The former Hallettsville deanery is included in the diocese with the exception of St. James Parish, Gonzales; Sacred Heart Mission, Gonzales; and St. Patrick Mission, Waelder.

The Galveston-Houston Diocese gave the following parishes and missions to Victoria: Holy Cross Parish, Bay City, and its mission, Sacred Heart, Wadsworth; Our Lady of Guadalupe Parish, Bay City; Holy Cross Parish, East Bernard; St. John the Baptist Parish, Hungerford; Holy Family Parish, Wharton and its mission St. Joseph, Boling; and Our Lady of Mount Carmel Parish, Wharton.

The Corpus Christi Diocese added Immaculate Conception Parish, Goliad, and the missions of Immaculate Heart of Mary, Berclair; Our Lady of Guadalupe, Charco; Our Lady of Assumption, Fannin (all three no longer open); and the old Franciscan Presidio La Bahia, Our Lady of Loreto, Goliad.

In December of 1989 the following parishes entered our diocese from the Diocese of Austin: Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish and Our Lady of Guadalupe Parish, Eagle Lake; Sts. Peter and Paul Parish, Frelsburg; and St. Roch Parish, Mentz. On March 1, 1995, Our Lady of Perpetual Help and Our Lady of Guadalupe were joined and merged. The parish was named The Parish of the Nativity.

There are six deaneries in the Diocese of Victoria: Cuero, Edna, El Campo, Hallettsville, Schulenburg and Victoria.

On June 29, 2015, Daniel Cardinal DiNardo ordained Bishop Brendan as the third Bishop of Victoria. Bishop David Fellhauer and Archbishop Joseph Fiorenza were Co-Consecrators. Since becoming the Bishop of Victoria, Bishop Brendan has served as a member of the U. S. Catholic Conference of Bishops (USCCB) Sub-committee on African-American Affairs and as a Consultor for the USCCB's Pro-Life Committee. State Chaplain for the Texas Knights of Columbus in 2016. Effective July 1, 2017, he began to serve as the Bishop Promoter for the Apostleship of the Sea in the United States.

Diocese of Victoria Coat of Arms

The gold crescent designates the geographic area of the Gulf Coast, sometimes called the Golden Crescent or the Crescent Valley, in which the Diocese of Victoria is located. The red rose honors Our Lady of Guadalupe, naming her special patroness of the diocese. In displaying these two charges together, the shield recalls the traditional image of Our Lady, in which she is seen standing on a crescent moon, hereby acknowledging her gentle dominion over the people of the crescent diocese.

The field is blue, the color of sky and water, to speak of peace and unity, qualities already attributed to the people, and herein established for the diocese. The cross points to the rich tradition of faith brought to the region by European settlers who landed at Indianola, where the historic lighthouse still stands. The early Germans, Czechs, Polish, Irish and others joined the Mexican people in making faith and love of family life, attributes that abound even today.

Green, the color of hope, designates the lighthouse as a symbol of hope, while the golden beacon of light stands for Jesus, the Light of the World, calling the people to Himself and illuminating their paths through the darkness. Historically, the families of this diocese have produced numerous vocations to the religious and priestly life, including five bishops; the beacon represents this call to the service of Christ in the Church, through religious life and through family life as well. Just as the city of Victoria, the center of the diocese and the episcopal seat, has been called "The Crossroads," so too the cross can be read as a convergence of paths on which the pilgrim people of God travel to meet Christ, their center.

Bishop Cahill's Coat of Arms

The episcopal heraldic achievement, or bishop's coat of arms (right side), is composed of a shield, that is the central and most important part of the design and tells to whom the design belongs, the external ornamentation, that tells the owner's position or rank, and a motto, placed upon a scroll. By heraldic tradition the design is described (blazoned) as if being done by the bearer with the shield being worn on the arm. Thus, where it applies the terms "sinister" and "dexter" are reversed as the design is viewed from the front. For the bishop of a diocese, known as an Ordinary, his personal arms are joined (impaled) with the arms of his jurisdiction; in this case the Diocese of Victoria.

For his personal arms, seen in the dexter impalement (right side) of the design, Bishop Cahill has opted to recognize the heritage of his family, now joined to the Diocese of Victoria.

The upper half of the design is divided into two halves to represent the two branches of the Cahill family. The upper quarter is blue and displays a silver (white) whale and the lower quarter is composed of six triangles in the two alternating colors of green and silver (white). The lower half of the Bishop's design is red and displays a lion rampant, reared up on his hind legs, between two swords, all in silver (white). This represents the Bishop's mother's side of the family, the Dempseys.

For his motto, His Excellency, Bishop Cahill, has adopted the Latin phrase: COR MUNDUM CREA IN ME, DEUS. This phrase, from the 51st Psalm, expresses Bishop Cahill's deep confidence in the mercy of God. St. Augustine wrote that this penitential psalm reminds us that no sin is too great for God to forgive and God's desire is to continually create anew. The phrase prayed every Friday morning in the Liturgy of the Hours, translates in English as "Create in me a clean heart, Oh God."

The achievement is completed with the external ornaments that are a gold (yellow) processional cross, that extends above and below the shield, and a pontifical hat, called a galero, with its six tassels, in three rows, on either side of the shield, all in green. These are the heraldic insignia of a prelate of the rank of bishop by instruction of the Holy See, of March 1969.

Most Rev. David E. Fellhauer, Ph.D., J.C.D. Bishop Emeritus

Bishop David E. Fellhauer, Ph.D., J.C.D., was born August 19, 1939, in Kansas City, Missouri to the late Harold E. and Helen R. Frances Fellhauer. Bishop Fellhauer received his early education at St. Agnes School in Kansas City, Kansas and his high school, college and seminary training at the Pontifical College Josephinum in Worthington, Ohio. Post-ordination studies were at St. Paul University in Ottawa, Canada where he earned doctorates in canon law and philosophy.

He was ordained to the priesthood for the Diocese of Dallas on May 29, 1965. On April 19, 1990, Bishop Fellhauer was named the second bishop for the Diocese of Victoria, at that time he was serving the Diocese of Dallas. He was ordained and installed as bishop on May 28, 1990, at Our Lady of Victory Cathedral.

On April 23, 2015, Pope Francis accepted his resignation.

Most Rev. Charles V. Grahmann First Bishop of the Diocese of Victoria in Texas

Bishop Charles V. Grahmann, was born on July 15, 1931, in Hallettsville, Texas to the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas A. Grahmann. Bishop Grahmann was the fourth child in a family of eleven children. He spent the early years on his life on the farm where his family lived, trying to make a living by cultivating and harvesting the usual crops of cotton and corn.

After graduation from Sacred Heart Elementary School in Hallettsville, he enrolled in St. John's Seminary in San Antonio in 1945. He completed his philosophical and theological studies at Assumption Seminary. On March 17, 1956, he was ordained to the priesthood in San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio. In June 1981, Bishop Grahmann was appointed Titular Bishop of Equilio, Auxiliary to the Arch-bishop of San Antonio.

Bishop Grahmann was consecrated first bishop for the Diocese of Victoria on May 29, 1982 and then on December 19, 1989, Pope John Paul II named Bishop Grahmann as co-adjutor to the bishop of the Diocese of Dallas.

In 2006, Bishop Grahmann celebrated his Triple Jubilee, 25 years as a bishop, 50 years as a priest and his 75th birthday. On his birthday July 15, the bishop submitted his resignation as Bishop of Dallas. Bishop Charles V. Grahmann died on August 14, 2018. Services were held in Dallas, San Antonio and in Hallettsville. He was buried at the Sacred Heart Cemetery in Hallettsville.

About the Chancery Building and Grounds

The chancery is the administrative seat of diocesan services for the ten-county area that comprises the Diocese of Victoria in Texas. The architecture is meant to speak to us about our roots. Because this area is known as the Cradle of Texas Immigration, the chancery building and grounds are designed to illustrate this fact.

The round form in front, originally an operating fountain, represents the Gulf of Mexico and Pass Cavallo, through which the ships passed to shore. A short distance farther is a lighthouse symbolizing the lighthouse built in 1852, which stands on Matagorda Island. It alerted the ships of the correct passage to the harbor.

The building itself is designed in an architectural style known as Texana, embracing something of every ethnic group.

The principal value that the immigrants brought with them was their faith. The circular chapel behind the building and rising above with its domed, copper roof represents this. Inside the chapel are seven stained glass windows, on which are depicted the stories of this area of Texas, beginning with the presence of the Native Americans, the coming of the missionaries, the wave of European immigration, and the life of the church throughout, to the present moment of people on their journey to the Kingdom.

Office of the Bishop

“Through the Holy Spirit who has been given to them, bishops are the successors of the apostles by divine institution; they are constituted pastors within the church so that they are teachers of doctrine, priests of sacred worship and ministers of governance. Bishops are called diocesan when the care of a diocese has been entrusted to them” (Canons 375 §1 and 376)

In virtue of his office, the vicar general possesses the executive power in the entire diocese which belongs to the diocesan bishop in law, that is, he possesses the power to place all administrative acts with the exception of those which the bishop has reserved to himself or which in law require the special mandate of the bishop.” (Canons 475 §1 and §2 and 479 §1)

In virtue of delegated power he carries out much of the canonical and administrative business of the diocese; keeps official records and acts; arranges clergy days, retreats, etc.; issues permissions and dispensations in the name of the bishop.

Permanent Deacons

The Order of Deacons is the third and lowest degree of the ordained clergy of the Roman Catholic Church. The Order of Bishops and the Order of Priests constitute the other degrees of the Sacrament of Holy Orders. Deacons are ordained by the laying on of hands, a tradition handed down from the Apostles, so that through sacramental grace they may effectively fulfill their ministry. Therefore, even from early Apostolic times, the Catholic Church has held the Holy Order of the Diaconate in high honor.

“Where Texas history comes alive”

<https://www.thc.texas.gov/historic-sites/presidio-la-bahia-state-historic-site>

Presidio La Bahia, designated a National Historic Landmark, is considered the world's finest example of a Spanish frontier fort. This was the most fought over fort in Texas history, having seen participation in six National Revolutions/Wars for Independence. Spanish, Mexican and Texan soldiers all garrisoned its fortified walls. Here, at the Crossroads of Revolution, was felt almost every attempt to forcibly change the governmental order of Texas.

The fort is the site where Goliad history began. The location of the fort had been an occupied site long before the Spanish arrived in the New World. Strategically located on an elevation overlooking the surrounding area, the Spanish arrived here in 1749 and found evidence of an Indian village in the area they named Santa Dorotea. As permanent settlement by Spain began, the town of La Bahia, (The Bay) grew up around the protection of the fort. This town was the original Goliad.

The presidio was restored in the 1960s through the dedicated generosity of Mrs. Kathryn O'Connor to stand as a lasting memorial alongside its sister shrines the Alamo and San Jacinto. Local artisans supplied the labor for the project and the noted restoration architect, Raiford L. Stripling, directed the project to its completion.

Today it is considered one of the most authentic restoration projects in the United States. A National Historic Landmark, Presidio La Bahia is the only Spanish fort remaining in possession of the Catholic Church in North America. The presidio compound is a self-sustaining private institution, owned by the Diocese of Victoria in Texas and managed by the Texas Historic Commission.

Prayer for Vocations

Loving God,

For almost two thousand years, the saving message of Your Son has been proclaimed by people from all walks of life. This story of hope is constantly unfolding as we seek to live as Your people rooted in love and service.

Lord, while He walked upon the earth, Jesus welcomed the children. Give Your young people the courage to continue responding to His call to share the story of faith. Give parents and grandparents the wisdom they seek in caring for Your children. Help them to be powerful examples of faith.

Lord, may we challenge ourselves and others to embrace the vocation which You have entrusted to us. Bless the church with those willing to share the story of Christ by their lives of commitment as priests and religious.

We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

10 Ways You Can Promote Vocations

1. Pray for vocations several times a week.
 2. Become active in promoting vocations in your parish.
 3. Invite people to consider the priesthood and religious life.
 4. Correspond with the seminarians and those in religious formation from the diocese.
 5. Attend Mass during the week for vocations.
 6. Offer financial assistance for the education of future priests and religious.
 7. Place vocations posters in your church, school and CCD program.
 8. Make vocation literature available to people in your parish and community.
 9. Urge others to pray for religious vocations.
 10. Offer support to those ordained and consecrated to the service of the Lord.
- If you think God is calling you to religious life:

St. Vincent de Paul Society

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul is an organization of Catholic men and women founded in 1833 by Blessed Frederic Ozanam in Paris, France. Under the patronage of St. Vincent de Paul and the guidance of Our Blessed Mother Mary, it seeks, in a spirit of justice and charity to help all who are suffering. Key to the society's function is the person-to-person involvement of its volunteer members because in persons who are in need, Vincentians see the face of Jesus Christ.

Services:

Parochial collections are distributed through the local conference members to those in need of food, clothing, utilities, transportation etc. Spiritual counseling and guidance is offered when possible.

Community Assistance

Promise Pointe

Promise Point is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization whose purpose is to provide permanent, affordable housing and a supportive community for the chronically homeless in Victoria, Texas, and the Crossroads region. Our goal is to build a transformative residential community to serve our neighbors who have been living on the streets, while also empowering the surrounding community into a lifestyle of service with the homeless. Modeled on the Community First! Village in Austin, Texas, Promise Pointe will be a place that enables our homeless brothers and sisters to heal. It will be a place where they can rediscover hope, renew their purpose and restore their dignity. Most importantly, it will be a place they can call home.

Catholic Conferences/Miscellaneous

Texas Catholic Conference

The Texas Catholic Conference is a federation of all Roman Catholic dioceses in the State of Texas. Some of its functions include, but are not limited to, fostering communication between the Catholic church and other institutions and organizations in Texas, both religious and secular, and cooperating with them in regional or state-wide programs for the common good; and providing an orderly method through which persons, broadly representative of the entire Catholic community in Texas, may actively and responsibly participate in the life and affairs of the Church. Membership consists of representatives from the dioceses in the state — bishops, clergy and lay persons in various capacities.

Catholic Archives of Texas

The mission of the Catholic Archives of Texas is to collect, preserve and make available for research books, artifacts, records, and photographs that document the Catholic experience in Texas from the 16th century to the present. The Catholic Archives of Texas is nationally recognized as one of the most valuable resources for the history of the Catholic Church in the Southwest. Its records span nearly four centuries of development of the Catholic religion in the southwestern region of the United States and Northern Mexico. The Archives was founded in 1923 under the auspices of the Texas Knights of Columbus Historical Commission. Their goal of publishing a history of Catholicism in Texas culminated in the seven-volume work Our Catholic Heritage in Texas, 1519-1936, authored by Carlos E. Castañeda of the University of Texas at Austin. The Archives exists under the auspices of the Texas Catholic Conference of Bishops and its Board of Directors, all bishops of Texas. The repository is the only archives in the United States servicing one religion for an entire state.

As the Catholic history center in Texas, the Archives' mission is to collect, preserve and make available for research those records of individuals and organizations engaged in work reflecting the goals of the Catholic Church in Texas. The Archives cooperates closely with the Diocese of Austin, where it is located, other dioceses in Texas, and with cultural and historical institutions in the area to achieve common goals of historical preservation and interpretation.
