

The VINE & BRANCHES

FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER
APRIL 28, 2024

People come and go in our lives. They leave behind a piece of themselves with every encounter. If we don't rush forward too quickly ourselves, we learn to appreciate the impact that others have had upon us. Jesus is more than a person in the past. His presence with us is real and abiding. The gospel for the Fifth Sunday of Easter (John 15: 1-8) is part of the last supper discourse, which points to the time when Jesus will no longer be physically present to his disciples. Before the discourse begins, Judas Iscariot takes his bread and leaves the gathering. Jesus' teachings about our unity with him are bracketed by the departure of Judas and his later return to betray Jesus. Jesus uses a familiar image for his Apostles, one made ever more poignant by Judas' despair. He says, "I am the true vine..." Life flows through a vine into its branches. The vineyard was a part of everyday life in the gospels, a frequent gospel image. The break between the early church and Judaism was an established fact by the time of John's Gospel. The church knew itself as God's new people by virtue of its unity with Jesus. This understanding is at least partially reflected in the use of the words "true vine."

... Continued The emphasis is less on the transition from an “old” Israel to a “new” one and more on the Christian community, its union with Jesus and how it is (or not) bearing fruit. Living a life characterized by keeping his commandments, love for one another and service is “bearing fruit.” Those who do not remain in him and bear fruit are cut off by the Father, thrown aside; they wither and are burned in the fire. Is Jesus talking about Jews who reject him and his commandments or followers whose initial acceptance of him has not resulted in a true conversion? I think both. It seems likely that by the time of John’s gospel there were already Christians whose commitment in baptism did not extend beyond the equivalent of “showing up on Sunday.”

The image the vine with its branches and Paul’s image of the body with many different members are two very organic images of our Christian unity. By virtue of our baptism in Christ’s name, there is a unity that incorporates us all, as different from one another as we may otherwise be. Make an effort to preserve the unity we experience in the Eucharist between Christ and with others.

Our unity in Christ is strengthened when we pray and serve him in others. A parish is a place where we can encounter the support we need to do both. Our unity with others is nurtured by a profound respect for others, and for the life of Christ which flows through the vine into all the branches, no matter how different and distinct they may be. I receive great hope when I contemplate the Universal nature of salvation. I am reminded of how much more God loves us in a broad and inclusive way. The vine is not selective, its life flows naturally, so it is with our God, and our connection to each other in the Lord.

Go Make of All Disciples

Will you pray for our Confirmandi?

This coming Saturday, May 4 at the 4:30 Mass at St. Joseph, one of two of our Confirmation Masses will be taking place. These young people have participated in a new process through Lifeteen called, "Purpose." These gatherings have included formation around gifts and charisms, the work of the Holy Spirit in their lives and in the lives of the Church, and opportunity for faith sharing in a youth ministry setting. We are celebrating these Confirmation Masses during weekend Masses because it is there that the branches of the vine are present. We are reminded in this weekend's Gospel that Jesus is the true vine and without Him, the branches die.

We have the opportunity, along with the bishop, to pray that the Holy Spirit come upon these young people in our parishes to be nourished by the Holy Eucharist, Confirmed in their faith through the laying on of hands and anointing with Chrism, so the vine will continue to grow. Without constant nourishment of the vineyard, the leaves wither and branches die. However, when we are all gathered around the table of the Savior each week, we have the opportunity to bear fruit.

God bless,

Sean Calvin / Director of Discipleship Formation

Welcome Zachary Flint

Coordinator of Youth Ministry

I was raised in Newport in a big family and have always been surrounded by devout God fearing Catholics, both in my family and throughout private school. This significantly helped to establish a large support group for when I eventually began to discern a call to the priesthood. Immediately following high school, I entered seminary hoping to fulfill my desire to spread the teachings of Christ through holy orders. After years of discernment, however, even though He had not intended for me to be ordained, God still wanted me to spread my faith to others. Newly armed with the teachings of the seminary, I was better prepared than ever to witness to the faith, for there is more than one way to spread the Word.

It is my firm belief that God sent me to seminary to strengthen my faith and my heart so as to witness to His love through this job. I pray that we as a parish family might work together to guide our youth to allow the Holy Spirit to kindle a fire of love in their hearts, so that they too might live a life as faithful witnesses of God's love.

If you would like to be involved in any way as an adult leader or if you know of young people that would like to engage in high school youth ministry, please email fopyouthministry@gmail.com.

Mary and the Saints

Our Spiritual Mother and the Community of Saints

Jesus gave his mother to us as our spiritual mother, and she intercedes for us in heaven before her Son. By growing in relationship with Mary and the rest of the saints, we grow in fellowship with Jesus.

Jesus was “born of the Virgin Mary” and is the Mother of God, Queen of Heaven, and the first most perfect disciple of the Lord. We are going to learn in this session just who Mary is and why loving Mary brings us closer to her son, Jesus.

We will look at:

- The four basic dogmas that the Church teaches about Mary
- How Jesus is at the heart of everything Catholics believe about Mary
- Why Catholics don't worship Mary, but honor her as a model for all Christians
- Why Mary is the “Queen of Heaven”
- The mysteries of the Rosary
- What role Mary should play in the life of every believer

After this presentation, at 12:00 noon we will meet in the Gathering Space at Sacred Heart Church and proceed to say the rosary outside by the statue of Mary and have our traditional May crowning. (call Sr. Helen Therese at the Parish Center if you have any questions)

Thank You!!

A couple of weeks ago, we celebrated 175 years as a Parish! Lots of planning went into this big event and we would like to thank our 175 committee members: Judy Herman, Emily Campbell, Jerry Welsch, Mike Rutkowski, Mary Jane Magalotti, Marianne Robinson, Sean and Jaime Calvin. A special thanks, also, to Archbishop Vigneron, Fr. Marc Gawronski, Fr. John Herman, Fr. Dave Tomaszycski, and Deacon Steve for being present. Also thanks to our many ministers, all of the musicians, and of course our parishioners for all coming out! There are prayer cards in the gathering space as we continue to celebrate this year. Enjoy some of the pictures from this historical event above!

4th Grade News

The Fourth Graders have been learning so much this school year that time has just flown by! In Religion, we have been enjoying participating in weekly masses by altar serving, bringing up the gifts, and reading the intercessions once a month.

We also had the huge responsibility of leading the school during Stations of the Cross one Friday during Lent. Each week in Reading, we've read different genres of books. We just finished a humorous fantasy about a hamster that can talk! In, The World According to Humphrey, the hamster teaches a family that there is more to life than watching television and using electronics. Being able to enjoy friends and family by talking and interacting with them is a much better way to spend free time. We understand and can appreciate the theme of this story now. We are also reading the novel Holes, by Louis Sachar and will be watching the movie when we are finished with the book to compare and contrast the book with the movie. In Social Studies, we will begin learning about the Midwest. One of the main focuses will be on the industrial revolution and how a Michigan native, Henry Ford, built his Model-T using the assembly line. We have already attended the Henry Ford Museum and taken the Ford Factory Tour to learn about this up front. I'm sure it was a proud Michigan memory most of the students will take with them forever! In Math, we just started a chapter on adding and subtracting fractions. We are now learning how to simplify fractions into their lowest terms. Most importantly, we are continuing to learn that getting along with our classmates, sharing our knowledge, and helping each other are the ways that Jesus wants us to follow in His footsteps! A daily saying in our classroom is W.W.J.D. (What would Jesus do?) ~ Mrs. Kelly's 4th Grade Class
