Go Make of All Disciples

It's the end of the world as we know it!

Now that you have the song stuck in your head (if you're familiar with the song by R.E.M.), the theme of the readings toward the end of the liturgical year as we approach Advent are on the end times. This isn't to frighten us or come to a realization that God is abandoning us. It is a moment where we can recognize that God will show us the path to life, toward the fullness of joy in God's presence. Of course, November is a month the Church always recalls the importance of praying for the dead. Our parishes have names printed, or a Book of Remembrance to write in the names of loved ones who have died. It is important to pray for those who have died. They need our prayers as much as we need to know that as we pray for them, someone will in turn pray for us in the future.

This idea of death and dying can be a difficult one for many. While Scripture reminds us that we do not know the day nor the hour, the "when" is not as much of the point here. The bigger question is: how are we living here on earth today? Are we living the best version of ourselves? Do we acknowledge Jesus Christ as our King? We celebrate this Solemnity next Sunday. One way to consider this question in your own life is to come to St. Timothy this Friday, November 22 at 6:30. Here, the Sisters of Life will be leading us in a talk on Jesus as our King and His love for each of us through prayer and worship. Let us come together as a Family of Parishes this night - also to pray on the Feast of St. Cecelia for all involved in music ministry in our parishes.

God bless,

Sean Calvin / Director of Discipleship Formation

ESCHATOLOGY: THE LAST THINGS

What happens after we die?

This is the question that is deep in the human heart and we have been asking that question since the dawn of time. We have archaeological evidence that the earliest humans buried their dead with items indicating a hope for an afterlife. In modern times, a Google research for "life after death" comes up with two BILLION results. With a mixture of curiosity, fear, and hope, all of us long to know what happens after death.

The Church has long taught that prayerful consideration of that area of theology called Eschatology, which is the "study of last things" which are various final moments or stages: death, particular judgment, purgatory, heaven, hell, Second Coming of Christ, general judgment, consummation of all things in the perfection of the Kingdom of God. This study is an essential part of our growth and maturation as Christians. Unless we take these things seriously, our life here on earth will lack meaning and focus. It is only when we consider the decisions we make in the light of eternity that our entire lives begin to make sense and our relationship with God can come to full maturity. Join us to reflect more deeply about what the Church teaches about:

St. Joseph Book Club

The Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC) teaches that “the mind seeks to understand the why and how of Christian life, in order to adhere and respond to what the Lord is asking” CCC 2705 [1]. Hearing and responding to what the Lord asks of us is hard; books can help. The St. Joe’s book club is an opportunity to deepen our faith by helping each others engage our minds to follow Christ. The book club is non-judgmental, apolitical, requires active listening and engagement, and includes group prayer. Last month, we began reading C.S. Lewis’ “The Great Divorce”, and our reading list includes works in theology, spirituality, literature and works of the saints. The book club aims to think together about these writings so that we can apply what we learn to our daily lives moving us closer to understanding what Lord Jesus is asking of us. We hope you can join us in our quest to meditate together on these works to move closer to Christ Jesus. Our next meeting is on Sunday, Dec. 1 st from 7 PM to 9 PM in the St. Joe’s Parish Center.

We are looking for more Christian Service members!

We meet every month, on the first Monday of the month. We help coordinate events like the shoe drive, giving tree, and baby shower. If you are interested in helping out, please email Jaime at jcalvin@stjosephTRENTON.com.

8th Grade News

Happy November! This school year, eighth graders have completed several exciting projects that demonstrated their creativity, teamwork, and leadership skills. During religion, students explored the marks of the Church and shared personal reflections of what faith means to them. In science, students showcased their understanding of physics by building marble roller coasters! The younger grades were invited to test the roller coasters and vote on their favorite design. The class also had a deep dive into the Civil War and Reconstruction era. They discovered key events in our nation’s past and their lasting impact. In literature, the class enjoyed many suspenseful short stories that were filled with unexpected twists and mysterious characters.

Wishing everyone a joyful and safe holiday season!
